BATTLE OF ARRAS CONTINUES; BRITISH CAPTURE 9000 MEN

More Than 40 Guns Taken and Famous Vimy Ridge Is Cleared by Canadians.

FURTHER PROGRESS MADE TOWARD ST. QUENTIN

Germans Attack East of Ypres and Reach English Support Lines, but Are Ejected—17 Teuton and 10 British Airplanes Fall in Terrific Battles.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, April 10, Via London, 2. p. m.—Under blinding snow squalls, with intermittent flashes of sunshine, the British pressed their attack against the Germans today all along the line from a point south of Cambrai to the vicinity of Lens. So much booty was taken in the first rush of this new assault that it has not all been reported, but it is said a large number of guns were captured.

Yesterday's fighting and gains far surpassed the first days of the battle of the Somme last July. The Canadians today command the Vimy Ridge and are reported to be well beyond it at some points.

Fighting in South Intense.

More villages were captured today in the direction of Cambrai and the fighting there is intense.

Clearing weather yesterday afternoon prompted the airplanes to detect German trains moving toward the rail head, apparently for a counter attack on Vimy Ridge. This fact was reported to the artillery, and all long range guns for 10 miles around were concentrated suddenly on the indicated point in what probably constituted a new record for long distance barrage fire with heavy guns. Thus the plans for a counter attack were absolutely destroyed before the reserve troops could detrain.

The British casualties have been light, a fact which is due largely to the splendid artillery covering. Men who are walking back to the hospital stations from the forward moving front give glowing accounts of how the Germans are being "done" everywhere. After being bandaged hurriedly in the forward posts the wounded men return whistling or singing in high spirits.

9000 PRISONERS, 40 GUNS TAKEN ON FIRST DAY

Fighting Continues Throughout Whole Battle Front, Gen. Haig Reports.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, April 10.—Fighting continues throughout the whole battle front, the War Office announced today. In their attack between Arras and Lens yesterday the British captured more than 9000 prisoners and took more than 40 guns. Heavy fighting took place last night on the northern end of the Vimy ridge, from which the Germans were driven. The eastern slope was also cleared.

The British have seized the village of Fampoux and the neighboring defenses north and south of the Scarpe River.

Near St. Quentin the Germans have been driven from the high ground between Le Verguier and Hargicourt.

The Germans made a strong attack on a narrow front southeast of Ypres and reached the British support lines. They were driven from the British trenches by a counter attack.

The announcement, which is timed 11:30 a. m., is as follows:

"During the night there was severe fighting at the northern end of Vimy Ridge, where the enemy had retained a footing. He was ejected and an attempted counter attack failed to materialize. The eastern slope of the ridge has been cleared of the enemy and counter attacks repulsed.

"Our troops advanced and seized the village of Fampoux and neighboring defenses north and south of the Scarpe.

"The number of prisoners taken yesterday exceeds 9000, and over 40 guns have been captured.

"In the neighborhood of St. Quentin the enemy has been driven from the high ground between Le Verguier and Hargicourt.

"Fighting continues throughout the whole battle front.

"After an intense bombardment the enemy made a strong attack last night on a narrow front southeast of Ypres and succeeded in reaching our support lines. He was immediately ejected from our trenches, leaving several dead."

Canadians Carry Ridge.

Gen. Haig's report on yesterday's notable operations, as issued last night, said:

"The operations continue to be carried out in accordance with the plan. Our troops have everywhere stormed the enemy defenses from Henin-Sur-Cojeul to the southern outskirts of Givenchy-en-Goelle to a depth of from two to three miles and our advance continues.

"The enemy's forward defenses on this front, including Vimy Ridge, which was carried by the Canadian troops, were captured early in the morning. These defenses comprise a network of trenches and fortified localities—Neuville Vitasse, Telegraph Hill, Tilloy Les Mofflaines, Observation Ridge, St. Laurent-Blangy, Les Tilleuls and La Folie Farm.

"Subsequently our troops moved forward and captured the enemy's rearward defenses, including, in addition to other powerful trench systems, the fortified localities of Feuchy, Chapelle de Feuchy, Hyderbad redoubt, Athies and Thelus.

"Up to 2 p. m. 5816 prisoners, including 119 officers, passed through the stations and many more remain to be counted. Of these, a large number belong to the Bavarian divisions, who have suffered heavy casualties in today's fighting.

"The captured war material includes guns and a number of trench mortars and machine guns, which have not yet been counted.

"Further progress has been made in the neighborhood of Havrincourt Wood. We have captured the village of Demicourt.

"In the direction of St. Quentin we

BERLIN ADMITS HEAVY LOSSES IN BATTLE OF ARRAS

Two Divisions Suffered Considerably—Declared That British Did Not Break Through.

BERLIN, via London, April 10.—Regarding the heavy fighting on the western front today's army headquarters statement reports that the "battle near Arras continues."

"In stubbornly resisting the superiority of the enemy," adds the statement, "two of our divisions suffered considerable losses."

"The British," continues the statement, "succeeded in penetrating our positions on the roads radiating from Arras, but did not break through."

The statement announces that the British attack was on a front of 20 kilometers (12½ miles) and was launched after an exceedingly violent artillery fire.

Southeast of Ypres the Germans penetrated beyond the third British line and blew up shelters, returning with 50 prisoners and seven machine guns and mine throwers.

Along the Aisne and near Rheims the artillery fire was very lively yesterday from noon on.

NO NEW UNITS ARE WANTED FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

War Department Plans to Prevent Organization of Regiments Lacking Permanency.

FEDERAL, NOT STATE DUTY

Exceptions Made Where It Is Necessary to Enlarge Present Guard Establishment.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Plans for the national guard were definitely outlined today by the War Department.

Adjutant-Generals of the states have been informed that no new units of the guard will be recognized except such special forces as may be necessary to complete divisional organization of the present establishment and those which have armories or have been recruited in definite localities and have other indications of "probable permanency."

The purpose of the department is to prevent organization of purely volunteer regiments under the guise of national guard units and which would not, in all probability, last beyond the duration of the war.

An official circular issued today points out that the present emergency is one which cannot be met by the regular forces and the national guard alone, and adds that the existing law "does not contemplate that the Federal Government shall call on the states to form more guard troops in order that they may be called into the Federal service."

"The laws," the circular continues, "placed this responsibility of organizing more troops for strictly Federal use upon the Federal Government, where it properly belongs. Both from the standpoint of justice to the state and of efficiency of the forces, the Federal Government should have the duty and responsibility of organizing all forces additional to the national guard, after the guard has been called into the United States service."

VISITOR PROVES HIS HONESTY TO STRANGER AT COST OF $86

Denies Having Found Purse, Insists on Being Searched, and Later Finds Money Gone.

The determination of Grote Belletti, a coal miner from Christopher, Ill., to prove himself to be an honest man cost him $85 yesterday afternoon. He was walking along Twenty-Fourth street, between Biddle and Carr streets, when a stranger asked him if he had found a purse containing $150. Belletti replied in the negative. The stranger expressed doubt; the miner insisted on being searched. The stranger felt of Belletti's pockets, and extracted a purse containing $86.

"If you think that is your money, count it," said Belletti.

The stranger counted the bills, and returned the purse to Belletti, with an apology. Later Belletti found that a roll of scrap paper with a $1 bill for a cover had been substituted for his money. He searched the neighborhood, and finding a man who looked like the one he previously had encountered turned him over to the police. The prisoner, who said he was Dan Kapeich of Cleveland, O., had $87 in bills beneath his undershirt. He denied having got Belletti's money.

FLAG DESECRATORS ARE WARNED

Aliens Liable to Summary Arrest for Violations.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Warning against desecration of the American flag by aliens was issued yesterday by the Department of Justice. The following notice was sent to Federal attorneys and Marshals:

"Any alien enemy tearing down, mutilating, abusing or desecrating the United States flag in any way will be regarded as a danger to the public peace or safety within the meaning of regulation 12 of the proclamation of the President issued April 6, 1917, and will be subject to summary arrest and confinement."

COL. ROOSEVELT IS RECEIVED BY THE PRESIDENT

Presents His Plan for Raising Army Division for Foreign Service.

HE GETS NO DECISION

Waves Hat on Leaving Audience, Dictates Statement, Jokes With Tumulty.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Col Theodore Roosevelt was received by President Wilson at the White House today. An engagement for the Colonel to see the President at noon was made as soon as the President returned from an early morning game of golf and was told that the former President desired to call on him.

Col. Roosevelt laid his plant for raising a division of troops for foreign service before the President. He conferred with the President half an hour and said the President had listened carefully but had not given a decision as to whether he would consent to the Colonel's plan.

After his talk with the President, Col. Roosevelt made it clear that his plan was not designed to interfere in any way with the administration's plan for raising an army on the principle of universal liability to service.

Colonel Dictates Statement.

When Col. Roosevelt left the White House he waved his hat enthusiastically to a large group of waiting correspondents and shutting off questions, began to dictate the following statement:

"I came on, desiring to see the President personally to reiterate what I had already said about his message to Congress and to lay before him in detail and explain just what I desired to have his direction to do in connection with my division and why it was my earnest hope and belief that it would be well that I should have the authorization to raise such a division to be sent as part of an expeditionary force to France at an early moment.

"The division, and myself, of course, would be put under the command of whoever was at the head of the expeditionary force. As I have said, I wished to lay the plans for the division in detail before the President.

"The President received me with the utmost courtesy and consideration and doubtless in his own due time will come to a decision in connection with the division."

After announcing his intention of seeing Daniel Willard, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the National Defense Council, and congressional leaders, the former President made a brief statement to explain his position toward universal training.

"I am heart and soul for the principle of universal military training," he said, "I would favor it if its aim were to raise 3,000,000 men. I am for both universal obligatory training and service. Call in conscription and I will say yes. You cannot frighten me by any name.

Whom He Would Enlist.

"The division that I ask permission to raise would be made up of men who would not be taken under conscription. They would be over 25 years old, or of the excepted classes under 25, who would eagerly enlist to go to the front, but who could not be expected to leave those dependent upon them unless they expected active service."

In the midst of his statement, Col. Roosevelt turned to Secretary Tumulty and said:

"If I say anything I shouldn't, be sure to censor it. I'm already under orders."

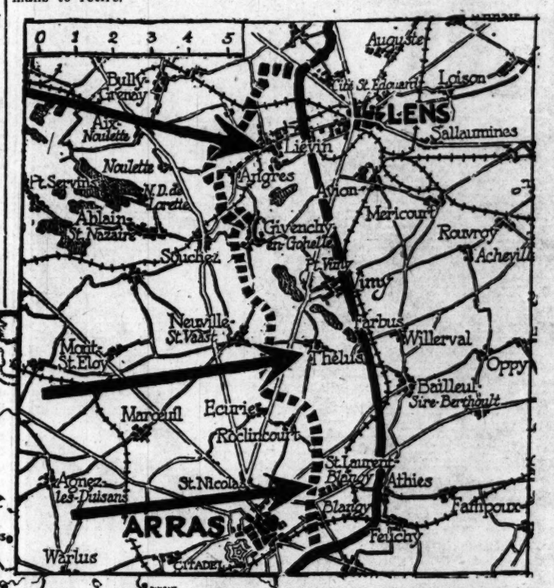

Col. Roosevelt slapped Tumulty on the back and remarked he might get him.

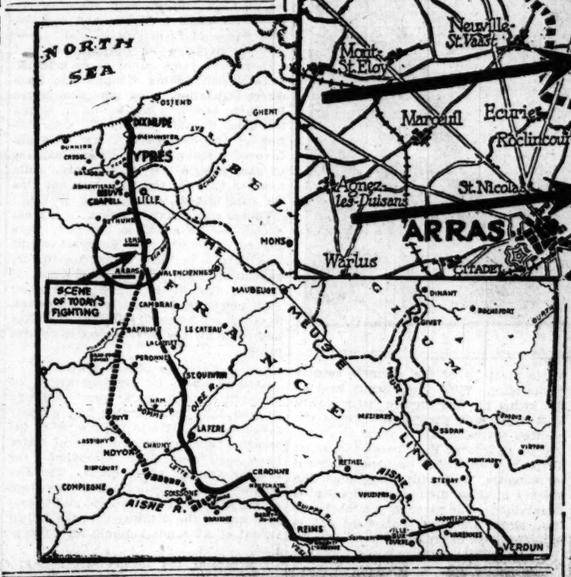

Col. Roosevelt was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

The Colonel called at the White House last week to congratulate the President on his war message, but the President was at his offices and Col. Roosevelt was unable to see him.

Map of the Great British Drive

THE upper map shows the offensive between Arras and Lens in detail. The black line indicates the points to which the Germans have already been driven back, while the dotted line shows the positions they held before the offensive. Below is a map of the western front as far south as Verdun. The dotted line on it shows the region the Germans recently evacuated around Bapaume and Peronne under French and English pressure. The circle marks the relation of the present British offensive to the whole line, to which the loss of Vimy Ridge yesterday may force the Germans to retire.

WHEAT AND PROVISIONS DROP ON TALK OF MEATLESS DAYS

J. Ogden Armour's Suggestion of Federal Control of Foodstuffs Causes Big Break.

CHICAGO, April 10.—J. Ogden Armour's suggestion of meatless days and Government control of foodstuffs was said to have influenced a sensational break in prices on the Board of Trade at the opening today. Part of the initial loss was subsequently recovered.

May wheat, which sold at $2.15 last Saturday, added 5 cents to the decline by dropping to $2.02½. July sold at $2.08 and September at $1.65½. July corn declined 5 cents to $1.22. July pork, which closed yesterday at $37.35 a barrel, declined $1.55. July lard dropped $1.50 from the previous final figure of $20.50. July ribs lost 55 cents.

CHANGE IN MARKET CAR LINE

Tracks Removed From Forest Park and Dangerous Curve Eliminated.

The construction of the Oakland avenue section of the Market line, west of King's highway, begun several months ago by the United Railways, has been completed and will be opened for use Saturday.

The improvement, planned to remove the tracks from the southeast corner of Forest Park and eliminate the dangerous "hairpin" curve at that point on the line, and relieve the depression and grade, necessitated the building of a new bridge by the company spanning the River des Peres, about 25 feet south of the old viaduct.

After Saturday the Market street cars will not run into the park at any point, but will turn south from Chouteau avenue on King's highway running south a block to Oakland avenue, where they will turn west and run over the old tracks along the south side of the park.

PAINTS FLAG ON HIS HOME

One Which New Jersey German Hung From Porch Was Stolen.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 10.—Although born in Germany and not yet a naturalized citizen here, Edward Armrein wishes nobody to misunderstand his sympathies in the present war.

Last Friday Armrein hung a big American flag from the porch of his home and during the night it was stolen. Now he has painted the national emblem on the house wall, covering the space between the front door and the parlor windows.

LIEUT. ROBINSON, FLYER, MISSING

Popular Hero and First Aviator to Bring Down a Zeppelin.

LONDON, April 10.—The Evening News says that Lieut. William Leefe Robinson, the first aviator to bring down a Zeppelin in England, is reported missing.

Lieut. Robinson became a popular hero in England last September by shooting down a Zeppelin which at a height of 10,000 feet was taking part in an attack on London. The Lieutenant is 21 years old.

ROCK ISLAND READY TO ABANDON TRACK NEAR FOREST PARK

Agrees to Use Wabash Line Upon Payment of $72,000 by City.

L. R. Bowen, city bridge engineer, on his return today from Chicago, where he had a conference with C. A. Morse, chief engineer of the Rock Island Railroad, told reporters that a tentative plan had been agreed upon by which the Rock Island will abandon its tracks skirting Forest Park and will use the Wabash tracks.

He also arranged for a conference with Bowen and A. O. Cunningham, chief engineer of the Wabash, on plans for abolishing grade crossings along the north side of Forest Park, where the same tracks are used by the Wabash and Rock Island.

Wants $72,000.

Bowen said the Rock Island was willing to abandon its tracks along the north of Forest Park from De Baliviere avenue west and use the Wabash tracks to some point in St. Louis County, from which a connection could be built to its tracks in the county, on the payment of $72,000 by the city.

Bowen said Mayor Kiel or President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service would notify the railroad within a few days that the city is willing to make the payment. The approval of the Board of Aldermen will be necessary to complete the carrying out of the plan.

Plans for New Station.

The proposed plan for abolishing the Wabash and Rock Island grade crossing contemplates a depression of the tracks from a point in Forest Park so that they would run under viaducts at all crossings north to Page avenue. A new station at Delmar and Rosedale avenues, to be used by both roads and to replace the present dilapidated station of the Wabash, is contemplated under the plan.

The engineers have estimated the total cost of the work at $1,500,000, of which the railroads are demanding that the city pay one-third. It is estimated that two years' time will be required to complete the work.

MARCH BUSINESS SETS RECORD FOR U. S. STEEL CORPORATION

Unfilled Tonnage Is 11,711,644 Tons, an Increase Over February of 134,947 Tons.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation March 31 was 11,711,644 tons, an increase of 134,947 tons over the previous month, and breaking all previous records.

JUDGE IS CHEERED IN COURT

Says There Are Only Two Classes in U. S.—Patriots and Traitors.

PORT LAVACA, Tex., April 10.—"Observe this flag—there are alternate stripes of red and white, but there is no yellow there." This was the way District Judge Green closed his charge to the grand jury here yesterday, in which he touched upon treason. Cheering was so enthusiastic in the court room that order was restored with difficulty.

After having everybody in the court room rise and sing "The Star-Spangled Banner," Judge Green told the jury there were only two classes of people in the United States now—patriots and traitors. "And there's no room for traitors," he declared.

125 TO 250 KILLED, 300 HURT IN MUNITION PLANT EXPLOSION

Bodies of 79 Girls and One Man Received at Coroner's Morgue From Ruins at Eddystone, Pa.

FIRE FOLLOWS BLAST IN SHRAPNEL BUILDING

Physicians, Police and Fire Companies Summoned From Surrounding Towns—Plant Was Being Operated by Russian Government and Was Heavily Guarded—Cause of Explosion Undetermined.

By Associated Press.

CHESTER, Pa., April 10.—A terrific explosion today at the great plant of the Eddystone Ammunition Corporation at Eddystone, Pa., a mile from this city, killed from 125 to 250 persons and injured at least 300 more. A railroad official asserts that nearly 300 were killed, but this estimate is not confirmed.

At the undertaking place of Coroner White there are 80 bodies, 79 being those of girls.

Thousands of girls, attracted by the high wages paid, worked in the plant, most of them coming from Philadelphia, 10 miles away.

The explosion occurred soon after 10 o'clock in the pellet room of the shrapnel building, where about 100 girls were employed putting the finishing touches on shells. In a building adjoining approximately 30,000 shells were stored. A second explosion demolished this building and scattered the shells in every direction.

Immediately calls were sent for outside aid and physicians, firemen and police from surrounding towns arrived in great numbers.

Shattered Buildings Burn Two Hours.

The buildings in which the explosions occurred caught fire and by strenuous work the flames, which burned two hours, were confined to these structures. Meanwhile, charred bodies were being pulled from the wreckage and injured persons were being picked up and taken to Chester, a mile away. The two main hospitals of the city were soon filled, and others injured were taken to the Fifth Regiment Armory and a frame tabernacle recently erected there for religious services.

No official of the company was found who could tell anything about the explosion. There were rumors of a plot to destroy the plant. If there was a plot, no more effective spot could have been selected for the work. It was near the Delaware River bank and well isolated.

The plant was originally constructed soon after the European war started by Baldwin Locomotive interests. Recently it was taken over by the Russian Government, which has been employing about 10,000 persons making shells.

The place has been thoroughly guarded night and day and after dark immense searchlights made every portion of the ground as light as day. In addition secret service men and detectives worked in the various departments disguised as munitions makers.

Officials of the Eddystone Amunitions Corporation this afternoon said the material damage to the plant was not serious. Announcement was made that all departments of the concern will resume operations tomorrow morning with the exception of the mox, packing and base charging departments. All departments, including these, will resume work on April 24.

NAVY NEEDS SHIP DRAFTSMEN

Lack of Them Delaying Construction of War Vessels.

The United States Civil Service Commission is making an extraordinary effort to supply the need of the Navy Department for ship draftsmen. Millions of dollars are available for new construction and for facilitating construction already begun, but all the shipbuilding work undertaken at Government yards is retarded by a shortage of ship draftsmen.

Qualified persons are urged by the Government to enter the examination regardless of their private interests, believing that in the national crisis every person with special knowledge should use that knowledge where it will be of most value to the Government. Applicants are not assembled for examination, but are rated upon the elements of physical ability and education, training and experience. Application blanks may be obtained at the Old Custom House, Third and Olive streets.

MRS. MARIE ISABELLE BOLLAND OBTAINS DIVORCE BY DEFAULT

Testifies Husband Deserted Her, Drank to Excess and Neglected His Work.

A default decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Marie Isabelle Bolland of 6300 Von Versen avenue from John Bolland, son of the president of the Bolland Jewelry Co., by Judge Wurdemann in the Clayton Circuit Court this morning. Mrs. Bolland testified her husband deserted her, drank to excess and frequently remained in bed late in the morning smoking cigarettes and neglecting his work.

The Bollands were married Jan. 19, 1915, and separated three times, once in June, 1915, again in June, 1916, and finally July 19, 1916. The final separation, Mrs. Bolland said, was due to a quarrel growing out of his refusal to deposit in a bank part of the proceeds from the sale of an automobile tire agency in New York. Mrs. Bolland said she always was willing to return to her husband and that she had returned twice on his promise to do better. Bolland was not in court. Mrs. Bolland obtained the restoration of her maiden name, Marie Isabelle Devlin.

FIRST FARM LOAN IS GRANTED

Kansas Gets $5000 Under the Federal Act.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—To A. L. Stockwell, a farmer living near Larned, Pawnee County, Kansas, has fallen the distinction of having obtained the first loan granted under the Federal farm loan act.

Stockwell's loan was $5000. The mortgage was accepted by the Federal land bank of Wichita.

CONGRESSMAN HELGESEN DIED

North Dakota Member Underwent Operation for Appendicitis.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Representative Henry T. Helgesen of North Dakota, Republican and member of Congress since 1911, died here today after an operation for appendicitis.

BOND ISSUE BILL TAKEN UP; QUICK ACTION EXPECTED

House Committee Frames Measure to Provide $5,000,000,000, of Which $3,000,000,000 Will Be Lent to the Allies.

President Continues Efforts to Break Down Opposition in House to Compulsory Military Service.

Kitchin Announces Readiness to Pilot War Program, but Will Let Democrats Depose Him if They Wish.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Applications for allotments of the proposed $5,000,000,000 bond issue have reached the Treasury Department in such quantity that the administration believes the success of the issue is already assured.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Preparation of a measure authorizing a huge bond issue, in accordance with the administration's program for financing the war, was the task before the House Ways and Means Committee today.

The program as announced by Secretary McAdoo last night, following conferences with congressional leaders and others, virtually was ready to be laid before Congress today. It calls for authorization of a bond issue of $5,000,000,000, of which $3,000,000,000 would be loaned to the entente allies.

The committee measure probably will be laid before the House tomorrow and its consideration begun on Thursday. Indications are that it will meet with prompt approval by both House and Senate.

Secretary McAdoo said today he was confident that the proposed bond issue would be overwhelmingly subscribed. He will take advantage, he said, of offers from bankers and others to give free aid in making the issue a success. In addition the Secretary will seek the aid of banking institutions and governmental agencies in floating the issue.

Kitchin Ready to Lead.

Democratic Leader Kitchin today announced his readiness to pilot the administration war program through the House. He voted against the war resolution, and there was some doubt of his position. Kitchin also announced that he would give the Democratic caucus an opportunity to decide if it desired to depose him as House leader. While a large majority of the Democrats disagreed with his opposition to the war resolution, the general feeling is that he voted his conviction, and now that he is willing to take charge of the war measures he is not open to attack.

Belief was general in congressional circles that all the so-called pacifist factions would join with Kitchin in support of the measures.

Some Republicans, feeling that there has been a tendency to keep material facts away from Congress as to war plans, frankly say there is not a "spotlight campaign."

Assurances have been given by Democratic leaders that Congress will obtain all of the detailed information it desires regarding the conduct of the war and they are urging Republicans not to block appropriations by demands for unnecessary details.

Much surprise was caused today by the Republican Committee on Committees, nominating Representative Martin of Louisiana, a Progressive Protectionist, who voted for the re-election of Speaker Clark, on the Ways and Means Committee. The other new Republican member of the committee is Representative Sterling of Illinois.

President Sees Anthony.

Efforts to break down opposition to the draft feature of the proposed army bill were continued today by President Wilson. He arranged to see Representative Anthony of Kansas, a Republican member of the House Military Committee and an opponent of conscription and to explain how strongly he believed the United States should not apply the volunteer system in raising a big army for use against Germany. He made a similar personal appeal yesterday to Chairman Dent of the Military Committee who does not favor conscription.

There was considerable talk today of a compromise to be presented by opponents of compulsory service. Chairman Dent declared it would be at least a week before a bill of any sort is reported from this committee.

In the Senate an amendment to the army appropriation bill not passed at the last session authorizing the President to call volunteers in lots of 500,000 each is pending, but probably will be disposed of on a point of order. It was offered by Senator Kirby of Arkansas yesterday, when debate on the draft plan was injected into discussion of the army appropriation bill.

ARMED LINER MINNESOTA REACHES A BRITISH PORT

NEW YORK, April 10.—The American steamship Minnesota, an Atlantic Transport liner, which left New York March 24 with 105 Americans among her crew of 247 men, has arrived safely at a British port, according to a cablegram received here today by the International Mercantile Marine.

The Minnesota carried a valuable cargo of 24,000 tons. The vessel is the largest freighter under the American flag and was armed. She formerly belonged to the Hill interests and was in the Pacific trade.

American Liner Damaged by Mine Off Liverpool

LINER NEW YORK STRIKES MINE OFF LIVERPOOL BAR

No Casualties on American Ship, Which Proceeds to Destination Under Own Steam—St. Louisan Among 58 Passengers.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The American liner New York struck a mine at 7:40 o'clock last night, five miles off Liverpool Bar. No casualties are reported. The vessel later proceeded to Liverpool.

Consul Washington, at Liverpool, reporting the incident to the State Department today, says:

"The American liner New York struck a mine at 7:40 p. m. yesterday, five miles off Liverpool Bar. Company reports passengers landed at Liverpool, except four, who are still on the ship. No casualties. Vessel proceeded under her own steam and is now (1 o'clock this morning) entering her dock."

The New York carried 58 passengers, of which 15 were in the first cabin, 22 in the second and 21 in the third. Seven American passengers were on board, including C. J. L. Renter of St. Louis, in the second cabin. The captain is W. J. Roberts.

AMERICAN SHIP SUNK BY U-BOAT

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The American steamer Seward was reported torpedoed and sunk without warning in the Mediterranean by a German submarine in a dispatch to the State Department from Consul Gaulin at Marseilles yesterday. All the crew of 31 was said to have been saved.

Consul Gaulin's message, dated April 9, follows:

"Paper reports American steamer Seaward (probably Seward) torpedoed and sunk without warning by German submarine 20 miles off Banyulus. Entire crew 31 members also reported saved. Fifteen sailed in bark for Cerbere. Sixteen, including Captain and one officer, landed from lifeboats at Banyuls, 11:20 o'clock evening, 7th instant. No other particulars available at present."

Liner Left New York March 29 and Carried Guns Manned by Naval Crew.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The American line steamship New York left this port on March 29 for Liverpool with 58 passengers, and mail. The passengers included seven American citizens. She carried a naval crew of gunners and was armed. The ships' crew of 234 men included 144 Americans.

The New York docked safely at Liverpool at 1 a. m. (English time), and all passengers are safe, according to a cablegram received today by the American Line. The damage to the vessel was slight, the message said.

How the liner St. Louis, a companion ship of the New York, narrowly escaped the New York's fate, was revealed yesterday on the St. Louis' arrival here after completing the first round trip made by an American armed vessel.

On her trip over, the St. Louis, after passing through a region where submarines were operating, as revealed by wireless calls from vessels being torpedoed, arrived off the bar of the Mersey before dawn. There was no pilot boat at hand and the American liner was compelled to steam outside the bar, where it was known a German submarine had been working the night before, until driven away by patrol boats.

During this time a neutral steamer which had been in the harbor for about two weeks, had attempted to go to sea. She was caught dropping mines inside the bar, 80 of them being strewn about, it was reported. Petrol boats picked up or destroyed all but two of these.

About an hour later the British steamer Kelvinhead crossed the bar, struck one of the lost mines and sank. The St. Louis could not have missed this mine by more than 20 feet. How she escaped destruction was a mystery to the British officers, and the amazed Americans were congratulated when they reached their dock.

It was the report around the Liverpool docks that the vessel caught strewing mines was a Swedish boat. This was not confirmed by the British. Nor is the fate of the officers of the guilty ship known. Those things are not given out or even talked about by England's sailors. But the decision on their cases was probably not long delayed.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The American steamship Seward, owned by the Alpha Steamship Co., left here March 3 for Genoa and other Mediterranean ports. She was in command of Capt. Philip H. Johnson and carried a crew of 38 men, of whom 30 were American citizens, according to the shipping commissioner's records here. The Seward was built at Seattle, Wash., in 1907, and registered 3390 tons gross, 2380 tons net. She carried a general cargo valued at close to $300,000.

captured the villages of Pontru and Le Verguier.

"The aerial activity of the past few days has continued with great energy. Several successful bombing raids were carried out by us, our machines co-operating with our artillery with excellent results. Two hostile machines were destroyed and 15 others were driven down. Two German kite balloons were brought down in flames. Ten of our airplanes are missing."

Importance of Vimy Ridge.

The feature of the big battle which holds public attention here is the capture of Vimy Ridge. The immense value of this series of heights, which dominate the plain from an elevation of 400 to 500 feet, has been recognized throughout the war and great sacrifices have been regarded as justifiable if they resulted in its possession.

The French and Germans fought fiercely for control of the ridge in the summer of 1915, both sides suffering heavy losses, but in the end the Germans held the main portion of the position. Later the British took over the French line and were ousted by the Germans from the part of the ridge which had been won by their predecessors. One military critic, commenting on the present battle, thus describes the importance of the Vimy Heights:

"They are admittedly the bastion of the enemy's western line. Whatever else has been allowed to go, he held Vimy Ridge with grim resolve and lashed upon it all the arts in fortifications and defensive skill that the war has taught him. Upon it hinges the whole strategy of the enemy's retreat in the west. With Vimy firmly held he can swing his line further south slowly back until each part of it reaches the position where he has a mind to stand, and he can cover the French industrial districts upon which he depends much for supplies. But with Vimy gone, the defense of these districts can hardly be maintained. The pivot of the whole retreat shifts and gives backward and is in instant risk of fracture."

Germans Have Great Reserves.

The issues depending upon British ability to hold the ridge are therefore immense. The opinion is expressed that if the Germans are definitely driven from the ridge without hope of reattacking, they are likely enough to be compelled to acknowledge defeat and retire to what is called the Meuse line, running from Verdun through Mezieres, Maubeuge and Lille.

Meantime the fighting goes on over a front of about 50 miles, roughly, from Lens to St. Quentin, the core of attack being around the north of Arras.

The enemy is known to have great reserves at hand, and an iron compulsion binds him to make every effort to avoid defeat. The papers warn the country that it should await the event in a spirit of sober expectation and that it is not the time for exuberant boasting.

LONDON REPORTS BRITISH ADVANCE NORTH OF BAGDAD

Balad Station or Bagdad—Samarah Railway and Town of Herbe Captured.

LONDON, April 10.—The British have made a further advance north of Bagdad, the War Office announces. They have captured the Balad station on the Bagdad-Samarah Railway and the town of Herbe.

Allied Submarine Sinks German Torpedo Boat.

AMSTERDAM, April 10.—The German torpedo boat G-88 was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine off the Flemish coast on the night of April 7, according to an official statement issued at Berlin. Most of the crew were saved.

An Admiralty statement issued at London Sunday announced the sinking of a German torpedo boat off Zeebrugge. Another torpedo boat was reported to have been severely damaged in the same operations.

Russians Repeat Further Advances on the Caucasus Front.

PETROGRAD, April 10.—Today's War Office statement reads:

"Caucasus front: In the direction of Panjwin our troops having dislodged the Turks from their positions in the region of Nirban, 13 miles south of Baneh, are continuing their offensive.

"In the direction of Khanikin we have occupied Kizil Robat, 26 miles southwest of Khanikin."

GOV. GARDNER SIGNS 46 BILLS

Corporation Tax and Good Roads Measures Among Those Approved.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 10.—The Governor's office, today announced that 46 bills passed by the Forty-Ninth General Assembly had been approved and signed by Gov. Gardner within the last week.

Among the more important bills signed are the corporation tax, the automobile license tax, the tax commission, the "anti-I. V. L." bill and two of the good road bills, which were companion bills for House Bill No. 5, already signed. Bill No. 5 carries the bulk of the good roads legislation enacted during the recent session of the Legislature.

APPEAL FOR BIGGER FOOD PRODUCTION WILL BE ISSUED

Agricultural Experts to Ask Congress for National Committee on Organization.

Agricultural experts of the United States, in conference with Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture, at the Jefferson Hotel today, are drafting resolutions intended to arouse the nation to the importance of making extraordinary efforts to increase farm production to meet the emergency created by the United States joining in the European war.

Committees on production and labor, distribution, organization and economy completed their reports this morning and submitted them to a committee of 15 headed by Secretary Houston. The reports as finally agreed upon were submitted to a general session of the conference, which met at 10:30 a. m.

No advance information was given out as to the nature of the resolutions. It is known, however, that Congress will be asked to create a National Committee on Organization, with power to fix prices for farm products, and perhaps also wages of farm labor.

Division of Opinion.

There was some doubt as to whether a resolution asking Congress to pass direct legislation fixing minimum prices for farm products and minimum wages for labor should be adopted. One section of the conference very strongly favored making a call upon Congress to pass such a law immediately, while another thought the time was not ripe for such radical legislation.

Those who thought that Congress should not be asked to act now, were agreed, however, that Congress ought to create a national committee on organization with very broad powers. If such a committee should be created, with power to fix farm produce prices, it could act when it felt that the time had come for the Government to control prices.

Activity in Many States.

Reports made by representatives of universities and agricultural colleges showed that many states had already taken the initiative in the matter of increasing farm production. Several states have been conducting campaigns for greater acreage of all crops. The Department of Agriculture also has been active in getting out reports and literature urging the utilization to the fullest extent of all lands suitable for cultivation.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture complain that they have experienced much difficulty in getting the cooperation of the newspapers of the country in this campaign. While the department has been supplying information to the newspapers, it is stated that comparatively few papers have taken interest enough in this very serious situation confronting the country to publish the information which would certainly stimulate agriculture.

CONGRESS DEBATES WAR STEPS ONLY IN A GENERAL WAY

Discussion in House Chiefly Concerns Food Situation, That in Senate Conscription.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Congress today debated war plans over a wide range in the broadest generalities.

In the House most of the debate was devoted to emphasizing the necessity of realizing the importance of an adequate food supply, and in the Senate the debate turned principally on the question of universal service. Selective conscription was opposed by several Senators.

"I have very grave apprehension whether it (conscription) will appeal to the people of the United States," said Senator Gallinger, Republican leader. "I do not know, however, if we can raise a volunteer army unless we emulate Canada in paying our soldiers. We should tell our young men that we are not asking them to fight our battles for a paltry $15 a month. There ought to be a more liberal policy to encourage enlistments, which have not been very satisfactory."

Two Democrats Support Him.

Senators Thomas of Colorado and Vardaman of Mississippi, Democrats, also favored increasing the pay of soldiers and advocated voluntary recruiting.

"There is enough patriotism in this country," said Senator Thomas, "to get a volunteer army. Until that is demonstrated to be untrue we should not resort to conscription."

As a means to stimulate recruiting the Senate agreed to an amendment to the army appropriation bill offered by Senator Hitchcock, authorizing the Secretary of War to accept gratuitous services of a publicity agency, and also space from newspapers and magazines for advertising for recruits. Another amendment also authorized the Secretary to pay for advertising services and space.

Senator Hitchcock, who is an Omaha publisher, said, "Newspapers ought to be asked to contribute voluntarily all the publicity the War and Navy Departments desire. I have no doubt that the newspapers will respond.

"If this country is to be aroused as it should be, there should be a united, spontaneous and gratuitous effort of newspapers. Ten million dollars would not pay for the space which will be given gratuitously."

Chamberlain's Reply.

"Publicity did not get 20,000 when our Mexican border was threatened," replied Chairman Chamberlain of the Military Committee.

Chamberlain questioned that newspapers opposing the war policy would respond.

"Each community," Senator Hitchcock answered, "will take care of its newspapers of a copperhead character."

Senator Fall urged the Senate to stop talking and get down to action on war measures.

"This bill is a peace measure, not a war measure," said the New Mexico Senator. "We are at war now and Congress is now to provide for raising an enormous army, the greatest this country ever saw. Here we have the Senate of these United States yesterday and today wasting hours of time discussing whether in times of war we ought to advertise for recruits."

BIG CROPS GROWN IN ALASKA

Secretary Lane Reports Enormous Yield of Vegetables.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Production of big crops of potatoes and other vegetables in Alaska were reported by Secretary Lane today.

One farmer is credited with having grown 17 tons of potatoes to the acre, a high record. Another is reported to have produced between 575 and 750 bushels to the acre with a yield of other vegetable crops in like proportion.

Missing Boy Is Found.

Harold Davis, 11 years old, who disappeared night before last from his home at 4333 Kennerly avenue, was found wandering at Maffitt and Taylor avenues yesterday. He said he went to sleep at home with his clothes on and awoke next morning in a hallway on Easton avenue. His mother had dreamed that he was kidnaped and when she awoke and went to his room he was gone.

Ad Club President to Speak.

Herbert S. Houston, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which will hold their annual convention here in June, will speak tomorrow at the luncheon of the Advertising Club of St. Louis, in the Mercantile Club Building. Other speakers will be Mayor Kiel, Festus J. Wade and Melville L. Wilkinson.

BRAZIL BREAKS WITH GERMANY, LONDON HEARS

Switzerland Will Take Charge of the Country's Interests in Berlin.

LONDON, April 10.—Diplomatic relations between Brazil and Germany have been broken off, according to the Evening News.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, April 10.—The official report regarding the sinking of the Brazilian steamship Parana, which the Government has been awaiting before taking definite action toward Germany, is believed to have been received today from the legation in Paris. It is expected the Government this afternoon will sever relations with Germany.

Switzerland will take charge of Brazilian interests at Berlin.

The Diarce de Pernambuco, one of the principal papers in Northern Brazil, in an editorial of warm praise for President Wilson, calls on the Government to accept America's lead in its conduct of foreign relations.

Dr. Lauro Muller, Foreign Minister, yesterday refused to receive the German Minister. Dr. Muller then gave urgent orders that a steamer in Rio Janeiro be made ready at once for a mission abroad.

Cabinet Reconstruction.

It is learned from a reliable source that a reconstruction of the Cabinet will be discussed at the council of the ministers. It is proposed that the present administration chiefs should resign in a body as soon as relations are broken with Germany.

A Noite, under the title of "German Militarism at Home," takes up the question of the German rifle societies in the south of Brazil. It denounces the organizations for their affiliation with the League of German Marksmen of Nuremburg, which, it says, gives them an undeniably military character. The paper declares that Brazil should take warning in time.

Brazil has recognized the new Government of Russia.

The Minister of Marine has received from the commander of the Brazilian destroyer Alagoas, which is stationed at Desterro, a report that signals are being exchanged by means of lights and wireless between Germans on the coast and ships cruising in Brazilian waters. The Minister will transmit this report to President Braz.

Guatemala Under Martial Law Because of Frontier Disturbances.

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Monday, April 9.—Martial law has been declared in Guatemala. The action was taken on information of disturbances along the Mexican and Salvadorean frontiers, supposed to have been created with German assistance.

Chile to Remain Neutral Unless She Is Directly Attacked.

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 10.—Chile will maintain an attitude of neutrality so long as she is not made the object of a direct attack, according to assurance given by Government officials.

5 out of 9 on a Pullman

A random test was recently made in a crowded Pullman Club Car—and it was found that, of the men who were smoking cigarettes, 5 out of 9 were smoking Fatimas.

Probably an unusually high percentage even for Fatimas; but this case is merely one of the many evidences that more and more representative men are now-a-days choosing a sensible cigarette.

They smoke Fatimas—not alone for their likeable taste—but for the common sense "man-comfort" that they find in this delicately balanced Turkish blend. Fatimas please the throat and tongue while you are smoking them—and they leave you feeling "fit" afterwards.

You don't have to think of "how many" when you are smoking a sensible cigarette like Fatima.

"WORLD WAS RED" UNDER TERRIFIC FIRE OF THE BRITISH GUNS

Correspondent Describes "Wonderful Night Picture" Presented by Opening Attack in the New Offensive—Canadians Win at Vimy Ridge—"Tanks" Take Part.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, via London, April 9.—The war on the Western front, which has been moving more rapidly in the last five weeks, broke into full swing today. Widening the attacks that they have been directing against the retreating Germans in the sector of the Somme, the British struck still further north and in a series of assaults on a broad front, with Arras more or less the pivotal point, drove the Germans from scores of important positions, penetrated far into the German lines and inflicted heavy casualties.

A visit to corps headquarters this afternoon indicated that the number of prisoners taken in the last 12 hours will exceed 5000. The barbed wire "cages" or compounds built to receive prisoners that were expected to be taken were overcrowded long before noon, although the principal attack did not begin until shortly after dawn.

The heaviest fighting today developed along a line a few miles southeast of Arras in a northerly direction to the neighborhood of Lens but the actions extended far in the direction of St. Quentin. In the territory captured today was the famous Vimy Ridge, which had been fought over time and time again ever since the war was 10 months old. The French had fought desperately and valiantly in an endeavor to wrest this vantage ground from the Germans, the battles costing both belligerents untold casualties. Back of the northern end of Vimy Ridge lie the principal coal fields of France, which are still in German hands.

Fighting by Canadians.

The fighting on Vimy Ridge was carried out by the Canadians, who had retained a footing on the ridge all winter but always higher up was the enemy. On either side of the Canadians were English and Scottish battalions and in today's battle there was glory enough for all. The irrepressible "tanks" also shared in the honors of the successful assault.

One position captured to the northeast of Arras was a sort of labyrinth of trenches enmeshed in multiple bands of wire, called "the harp" because of its shape.

Prisoners had proclaimed this strong point practically unassailable, but, sweeping over it today, the British took within it nearly a thousand prisoners, and they captured also during the day three German battalion commanders, who compare in rank with a Colonel of the British army.

The Canadians took 2000 prisoners. It was said everywhere along the attacking line that the Germans appeared to have been taken by surprise and only in a few instances did they put up a strong fight. One reason for this was that they had been fairly dazed by the British artillery fire of the last 10 days.

Panoramic View of Attack.

From the high ground overlooking Arras a panoramic view for many miles of the British attack was presented. The concentration of guns for this operation probably was the greatest for a given amount of front since the war began. Almost countless guns had taken part in the bombardment since the beginning, but it was not until last night that many masked batteries joined in the grim chorus.

Approaching the battlefield well before dawn, the reflection of the gun flashes against the low-hanging clouds gave the inevitable impression of a continuous play of sheet lightning along the horizon. But when this wonderful night picture of modern warfare came into full view it seemed as if suddenly one stood on the brink of an overwhelming inferno.

Looking down into the valley, tongues of flame could be seen flashing from hundreds upon hundreds of gunmouths like so many white-hot serpent's fangs.

The guns were playing upon the ridges looming up in the distance enveloped in darkness upon which lay the German lines. There was as yet no alarm. The Germans had become accustomed to receive daily "strafes" from the British and they were sending up only routine star shells and trench flares.

As dawn approached the British batteries one by one became silent. For a half hour the stillness was almost oppressive. The hot pit flashes disappeared. All this time, however, the German star shells and flares were ascending with the same monotonous regularity that marks the German positions along the entire front.

The glorious weather of Easter Sunday had disappeared and from menacing black clouds overhead rain began to fall. It was driven along by a stinging gale. The storm delayed the coming of dawn to such an extent that it was still quite dark when the moment set for the British attack arrived.

Hills Writhe Under Fire.

Then, as if the myriad of guns had been synchronized to the tick of a watch, they broke the foreboding stillness with a volcanic roar. The earth trembled from the shock. The licking tongues of the inferno appeared now to have been multiplied a hundred fold. The objective hills began to writhe under the tortures of the screaming shells. The dark profiles of the ridges etched against the background of the graying skies, now were more clearly defined by the high explosive missiles, which burst along the ground like flaring pots of fire. Above these in the air played the shrapnel barrage shells, breaking with giant firefly flashes and hurling their leaden hail of death on all below.

The first volley scarcely had reached the German lines when up went the ever-ready signals of distress and calls for assistance from their supporting artillery. Most of the distress rockets burst in great showers of golden rain; others looped high in the air and broke into flaming balls of red and green. It was difficult to realize that this was not simply a stupendous, almost supernatural, pyrotechnic spectacle arranged for the pleasure of the gods. It was more difficult still to realize that it was actual reality of war and that the thousands of flashes and quick flames playing in the dawn were funeral torches lighting the way of souls into eternity.

World Seemed Red.

From the moment the great crater erupted along the horizon the world seemed red. Under the glare of the exploding mines, which had been dug under the enemy lines and out under the shells, could be seen the British soldiers trudging—trudging across No Man's Land to a hand-to-hand encounter with the Germans. They moved closely behind the protecting shell curtain, sent up by their guns.

As this barrier fire moved forward the men kept pace. It will ever be an amazing feature of this war, the absolutely cold valor with which the men go into action. Never the old shouting or the impulsive rush to victory—just a slow, deliberate trudge, not more than two or three men grouped and each silent, with his own thoughts until actual fighting with the hitherto unseen foe begins. Then it is a quick surrender, a shot or a bayonet thrust, and the attacking wave moves on.

The coming of day changed the magic picture of night completely and with almost naked suddenness. Now the horizon was dull, with accumulated smoke. Shells which had burst into pillars of fire by night now appeared as black fountains springing from the earth. There was an occasional flash to the schrapnel bursts, but generally they flew in merely as puff-balls of smoke. The roar, however, was always the same.

The sun broke through the clouds just before noon, as the British were breaking through the third and fourth German lines.

How Retreating Germans Wrecked Bapaume

Official British Photograph From American Press Association.

THE Germans attempted to level Baupaume to the earth before retiring from it in March under allied pressure. Most of its buildings were converted into debris by explosion. The photograph, the first to reach St. Louis since the retreat, shows a section where the walls were left standing, though the interiors were destroyed by fire.

CHICKS STOP CHURCHGOING

Prevent the Attendance of a Veteran and Belong to the Pastor.

ONTARIO, Cal., April 10.—N. L. Mitchell, capitalist and member of the First Methodist Church, holding the office of steward, failed to attend services one Sunday, it is said, the first time in 20 years. Friends and fellow church members who stopped at the Mitchell home to inquire, learned the peculiar reason for his absence from worship.

Mitchell was preparing for church when, to his dismay, he discovered a flock of chickens apparently bent on uprooting every plant in his prize flower garden. Giving no thought to the day, the churchman rushed toward the feathered offenders. In his haste he failed to notice a little coot which the industrious fowls had uncovered. He fell over it and his left arm was fractured.

MARE KICKS SPOIL SALE

Old Jennie Objected to Auction and Only Brought $7.50.

WROUGHTSTOWN, Pa., April 10.—It was scandalous, the way Jennie, the old family mare, resented being auctioned off at the sale of the late Isaac Percey's effects recently. Farmers, who intending bidding, formed a ring in the barnyard, but Jennie kicked them into the next yard in a jiffy and sent John Kirkpatrick of Newtown banging against a stone wall.

"That mare's worth $50, on condition alone," called Auctioneer Cornell, safely outside the wall; "but I'm obliged to knock her down in the only one of you scared bidders for his paltry $7.50."

Children Snowbound With Body.

ODANAH, Wis., April 10.—Shut off by snowdrifts which made the roads impassable to a farm four miles from Odanah, two children—one a girl 11 years old, the other a boy of 5—remained two days with the dead body of their grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Butterfield. The girl, hysterical, then walked through the drifts to Odanah for assistance.

Pupils Making Furniture.

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 10.—Most of the furniture for the new Grammar School to be built here this spring will be made by the High School manual training students, saving the taxpayers several hundred dollars.

ALLIES DO NOT EXPECT U. S. ARMY AT FRONT TILL FALL

London Times' Military Correspondent Says They Realize Training Requires Months.

LONDON, April 10.—The Times' military correspondent, discussing American participation in the war, heartily indorses the apparent intentions of the American Government to use the regular army and the national guard as a nucleus for the formation of a national army. He recalls what a serious disadvantage it was to Great Britain to be compelled to throw her regular forces into the fighting line in 1914 because of France's urgent need of help.

"If the United States," he says, "cares to send a regiment or two to London or Rome to affirm the solidarity of the allied cause, it would be a graceful and rightly appreciated act. But this war is a very serious business, and, for the national army which America proposes to create, the whole of her existing professional army is little enough. We shall not misunderstand American action in the least if we have to wait some months until her first divisions, well equipped and thoroughly trained, make their appearance in France.

"Hastily formed and untrained levies are useless. * * * Our new armies in 1914 took nine months in forming before the first division had arrived in France and this division took three months more to harden in trench warfare before it could safely engage in a great attack. America may be able to curtail these periods and send over a few divisions this autumn, but it will hardly be this year that America is adequately represented on the battlefield. Germany certainly reckoned on this delay when she deliberately preferred the hostility of the United States to abandonment of ruthless submarine warfare."

The writer emphasizes the necessity of systematic training of officers and points out that the experience of the allies has been that this is best done at the seat of war. He continues:

"Every facility will certainly be accorded by the allies if America takes this hint from our experience and sends batch after batch of officers to be trained in our schools or similar schools to be established by the American army. * * * We fully expect that American science and invention will teach the United States a great deal when the Stars and Stripes comes over the water, but meanwhile elementary professional education of all ranks is as much a necessity to the American army as it has been and still is to ours."

The correspondent concludes by insisting on the necessity of countering the submarine menace before everything else in order to close the Atlantic for the passing of the American army and supplies.

"To this task," he concludes, "the skill and value of the American and allied navies must be uninterruptedly devoted."

BUILDING OF BIG PROJECTILE FACTORY TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Location of Site and That for $11,000,000 Armor Plant Will Be Announced Today or Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Secretary Daniels will announce tomorrow or possibly late today the location selected for the $11,000,000 armor plant and $1,000,000 projectile plant. Rear Admiral Fletcher, head of the selection board, has submitted recommendations to the Secretary after a thorough inspection of more than 200 sites throughout the country.

There is an impression among naval officers that the selection will be made in the middle western section, probably in Southern Ohio, West Virginia or Kentucky. Construction of the projectile factory will be begun almost immediately.

SEVEN ANNAMITE SOLDIERS SENTENCED FOR MURDER

Strangled Unpopular Compatriot to Death in Military Camp in Billancourt, France.

BILLANCOURT, Department of the Seine, France, March 27.—Seven Annamites of the Colonial Corps stationed here have just been sentenced to penalties ranging from a year's imprisonment to death for taking the life of Nguyen Van Lock, one of their comrades, in Indo-Chinese fashion.

Van Lock, the only Annamite soldier here who spoke French, was unpopular with his compatriots, who accused him of brutality, cheating at cards, and usury; he lent them small sums at 100 per cent interest, they claimed.

Seven Annamite conspirators approached his cot silently one night. Four of them seized him by the legs and arms and held him while another chosen for the execution seized him by the throat and strangled him to death. All seven then gave vent to exultant joy, each one in turn approaching the victim and stimulating the act of strangling him.

Ninety-three Annamite soldiers were in the barracks ward where this assassination was committed, but not one of them would reveal it. It was only the finger marks upon the victim's throat that gave the surgeons traces of the crime.

PRISON CAMP DOGS TRAINED TO BITE BRITISH, SAYS GERARD

Tells Also of Seeing German Boys Shoot Nail-Tipped Arrows at Prisoners.

NEW YORK, April 10.—James W. Gerard, the former Ambassador to Berlin, at the dinner of the Canadian Club last night, said:

"I have seen small boys, with German simplicity and kindness, march about prison camps armed with bows and arrows and shoot arrows tipped with nails at the prisoners. At another camp they had trained German sheep dogs to bite the British, and when the guards went through the camp they took the trained dogs with them, and it was seldom that they failed to bite British soldiers." The commandant of this camp was removed upon complaint of Gerard.

"Another time there was typhus fever in a camp where Russians were interned. Saying that all the allies should stick together, the Germans placed English and French prisoners with the Russians in the typhus camp, thus condemning numbers of them to certain death."

Gerard told how the inhabitants of a Northern German town were imprisoned because they had given food and drink to a trainload of Canadian war prisoners who were starving and half dead with thirst.

"NO TAINTED BLOOD FOR ARMY"

Judge Divelbiss Refuses to Parole Confessed Robber to Enlist.

CARROLLTON, Mo., April 10.—"No, sir; no tainted blood for the Stars and Stripes!" exclaimed Judge Frank P. Divelbiss of the Seventh Judicial District, when Bernard Amburn applied to the Court this morning for parole on condition that he join the United States army. Amburn was sentenced to three years in the State penitentiary yesterday afternoon, on a plea of guilty to burglary at the Burlington depot here Feb. 1.

Judge Divelbiss pointed to a large American flag in the courtroom and said: "Though, as a convict, you may wrap that flag about you and defy the world to do you harm, its spotless folds must not be contaminated with the touch of felon hands, even upon the fields of battle."

When Amburn was arrested he said that, up until 1910, his home had been at Burlington, Io. Since then he had been in St. Louis a greater part of the time. He confessed that the Burlington depot burglary was not his first offense. He is 21 years old.

$17,726 Inheritance Tax for Illinois.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 10.—The treasury of Illinois will be enriched by $17,726, the amount of the inheritance tax due from the estate of the late L. K. Scrogin of Mount Pulaski, according to the administrator's report of the $2,000,000 estate, which was approved today.

WAR WITH AUSTRIA IS BELIEVED TO BE ALMOST CERTAIN

It Will Not Be Forced by U. S., However, Except for An Overt Act.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—War between the United States and Austria-Hungary seems today to be virtually certain, following the break in diplomatic relations. President Wilson, however, is believed to have no intention of forcing it by asking Congress to declare that a state of war exists, unless some overt act shall be committed. The seizure of several Austrian ships in American ports may be interpreted as an act of war by Austria, it is believed.

The intentions of Bulgaria and Turkey are not known, but officials generally believe they also will break relations eventually.

Arrangements for the departure of Austrian embassy officials are being made with the State Department by Swedish Minister Ekengren, who will take over Austrian interests here. Early official word is expected concerning plans for withdrawal of the American embassy staff from Vienna.

A statement given out by the State Department discloses that 10 days ago Austria notified the United States a diplomatic break would occur if the United States should enter war with Germany.

14 Austrian Ships Seized.

Fourteen Austrian merchant vessels in American ports were taken over by the Government coincident with the announcement that Austria had broken diplomatic relations.

Telegrams to the collectors of customs at the ports concerned were sent personally by Secretary McAdoo late Sunday night instructing that the crews aboard the vessels be removed and that customs guards be placed in their stead.

In a formal announcement of the Government's action Secretary McAdoo made it clear that the Government had not confiscated the vessels, but had acted for the purpose of protecting them "from further injury." From this statement it was inferred that the ships were damaged by their crews.

The vessels seized were all at Atlantic or Gulf ports, as follows: At New York—Dora, Himalaia, Ida and Martha Washington; at Boston—Erny; at Philadelphia—Franconia; at Newport News—Budapest; at Pensacola—Lucia; at Tampa—Borneo; at New Orleans—Anna, Clara and Teresa; at Houston—Campania and Morowitz.

GERMAN WITH BOMBS GUILTY

Jury Convicts One and Disagrees on Another in Alleged Plot.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 10.—The jury which tried Fritz Kolb, a German, on a charge of having bombs in his room in a Hoboken hotel today, found him guilty. The jurors were unable to agree in the case of Hans Schwartz, a German, who was tried with Kolb on the same charge.

It was alleged by the State that the men planned to cause a second explosion on Black Tom Island.

May Pay a Convict.

BILOXI, Miss., April 10.—Recommendation that the State pay a substantial sum to Will Purvis of Lamar County, "in partial payment for the time spent in the penitentiary and jail," will be made at the next session of the Legislature by Gov. Bilbo. Purvis, about 25 years ago, was convicted of murder. A death-bed confession at Columbia by Joseph Beard recently cleared Purvis of the crime.

Lid on War Talk in Saloons.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 10.—Judges James McF. Carpenter and Ambrose B. Reid of the Allegheny County Liquor License Court have directed saloon keepers to prohibit discussion of the war in barrooms, to guard against trouble, especially in the foreign districts.

STEPS TAKEN TO GIVE FULL NAVAL AID TO ENTENTE

Question Is Subject of Long Conference Between President and Daniels.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Naval cooperation with the entente allies was the subject of a long conference late yesterday between President Wilson and Scretary Daniels. It became known afterwards that the Government already is taking steps to assure the fullest measure of co-operative operation.

The part to be played by American warships was not revealed and Secretary Daniels declined to say what action already had been taken toward joint activities. It was indicated, however, that the conference dealt with carrying out fully the President's statement to Congress that every utility of the nation would be employed to bring about the most efective co-operation.

Problem of Supplies Considered.

One element of the plans undoubtedly deals with the question of supplies for the entente Governments. Officials of the eBthlehem Steel Corporation and other steel and ordnance companies were in conference with Secretary Daniels during the day in this regard. An agreement for the apportionment of the facilities of the plants between the American army and navy orders and the furnishing of war supplies to the entente nations was reported under the previous arrangement for the purchase of all Government steel at a fixed price far below the regular market rate.

Administration officials are determined to employ every means in their power, not inconsistent with the urgent requirements of this Government for military and naval stores, to keep the flow of munitions as well as of food stuffs to Europe going at an increased rate.

Daniels was also able to outline to the President the steps that have been taken to establish a submarine-tight coast patrol in the shortest possible time. Admiral Benson, chief of operations, and Capt. H. B. Wilson, chief of the Atlantic patrol service, are working out plans which will eventually furnish very complete protection for the approaches to American harbors. Part of the patrol fleet is already in operation. Numerous private yachts have been donated to the Government and are being armed and equipped for war; others have been purchased and a large number of smaller power boats have been taken over. The crews are now being assembled.

Later when the new coast patrol boats recently ordered are delivered, it will be possible to again extend the scope of the patrol, insuring merchant craft the most thorough protection possible as they arrive in or depart from American ports.

The Navy Department has been showered with requests from coast towns and cities for the stationing of war craft in these localities to protect from possible raiding attacks. There is no intention of breaking up the navy's strength in that way. The patrol and scout system, however, will soon be sufficient to insure swift mobilization of fighting units at any threatened points, should raiders of any character approach.

U-BOAT SAILOR CARRIED AMERICAN FLAG FROM SHIP

Rolled It Into Wad and Threw It Into a Boat Before Blowing Up the Illinois.

NEW YORK, April 10.—"The submarine that sank us was fully 250 feet long and carried a 4-inch gun," said Capt. L. P. Borman of the Ocean Steamship Co.'s vessel City of Memphis, who arrived from England yesterday on the American liner St. Louis. The City of Memphis was sunk by gunfire, March 18, 40 miles west of Fastnet.

"We were given plenty of time to get in the boats," he said. "When we were well away the submarine stood off about half a mile and put about 25 shells into the City of Memphis along the water line. She sank in about an hour"

The crew of the Texas Oil Co. steamer Illinois also was sunk on March 18. Capt. Iverson and 33 members of his crew were aboard the St. Louis.

"The submarine demanded that we send a boat with the ship's papers," said Capt. Iverson. "This was done, and several of the submarine's crew, carrying bombs, came aboard. They ransacked the ship. But first one of them went astern, pulled down the American flag, rammed it into a wad and threw it into the bottom of the boat alongside. They placed 14 bombs in various parts of the Illinois. The after part remained out of water. She was sunk the next day by a British patrol.

AMERICANIZING OF ARMOUR'S PLANT TO BE FINISHED TODAY

Last 110 Alien Employes in East St. Louis Will Apply for Naturalization Papers.

The task of Americanizing the plant of Armour & Co., at the National Stockyards in East St. Louis, will be completed tonight, when 110 aliens employed there will apply for naturalization papers in the East St. Louis City Court. When they are issued there will be no foreign-born persons employed at the plant who have not received either first or second papers.

Robert E. Conway, general manager, conceived that plan as the best for making his men loyal. The company is paying all the fees that accompany the applications. A large majority of the applicants are Austrians.

None of the three big packing plants, Swift, Armour and Morris, permit employes to take bundles into the plants and Swift's have even searched lunch baskets in some instances.

British Infant Mortality Low.

LONDON, April 10.—The infant mortality in England last year was the lowest in the history of the country, being 91 per 1000 births. Based on an estimated population of 36,250,000 in England and Wales, the birth rate last year was 21.6, the death rate of 14.0 and the marriage rate 15.4 per 1000.

ROOT SAYS GOING TO WAR NOW HAS SAVED AMERICA

He Also Declares All Persons of All Parties Should Back the President.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Defining the issues of the war on broad lines as a war between freedom and Prussianism, asserting that participation in the war is the only thing that has saved America from disaster, and demanding that Republicans shall stand by President Wilson and the Government—not only now, but later, when criticism and discontent may arise because of her blundering—former Senator Root last night aroused 200 persons at the Republican Club to great enthusiasm.

"The Republican party loves its country more than it loves place and power," Root said at one point. "We need no coalition government to to make us loyal. The men in control of the Government now are our President, our Congress, our executives. We will make the coalition ourselves, a coalition of all the people of the United States to uphold the men who make up the Government, no matter from what party they came."

Root rose to second a resolution offered by James R. Sheffield, president of the club, approving the President's message and the action of Congress in "committing the United States to the war to defend the free people of the earth against the control of military autocracy."

MERGER INVOLVING NORTH AMERICAN UNION DENOUNCED

Representatives of That Organization and Knights and Ladies of Honor Want Annulment.

Representatives of the Knights and Ladies of Honor and the North American Union who met in district convention last night at Hibernian Hall, Grand and Finney avenues, at the call of President Young of the Fraternal Aid Union, to approve the recent merger of the North American Union with the Fraternal Aid Union, adopted resolutions denouncing the merger and pledging aid to Insurance Commissioner Potts of Illinois, who has brought suit to annul the merger and compel restitution to the members of the North American Union.

George E. Cobb of 2113 California avenue, formerly Grand Protector of the Knights and Ladies of Honor for Missouri, was elected district representative, with authority to appoint an advisory committee of ten and take steps to have the merger dissolved and the assets restored.

The Knights and Ladies of Honor was merged with the North American Union last year after an unsuccessful attempt had been made in the United States District Court at Indianapolis to throw the order into the hands of a receiver. In the later merger of the North American Union with the Fraternal Aid Union a commission of $228,000 is alleged to have been paid. Commissioner Potts is suing to have this commission surrendered to the members of the North American Union.

ARMOUR FAVORS FOOD CONTROL BY THE GOVERNMENT AT ONCE

He Also Advocates Conservation of Supplies to Extent of Establishing Meatless Days Now.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Government supervision and control of food production and food prices are favored by J. Ogden Armour, one of the leading packers and grain dealers of the country. In a statement which he made last night he also advocates conservation of the food supply of the nation to the extent of establishing one or two meatless days a week, such as now are in effect in Europe.

He urges all farmers to put forth unusual efforts to increase the food supply and suggests that the Government guarantee to the farmer a minimum price of $1.50 a bushel for all the wheat he can raise this year.

"Everybody must help," said Armour. "No acre of fertile land should be left idle. Every acre of my Lake Forest farm either will be cultivated for the raising of crops or devoted to the grazing of cattle and sheep."

JAPANESE WRITER SENTENCED

Gets 5 Months for Article Reflecting on Dignity of Imperial House.

TOKIO, April 9.—Daikichiro Tagawa, a former member of the Diet and Undersecretary of State, has been sentenced to five months' imprisonment for publishing an article regarded as reflecting on the dignity of the Imperial House. The article elaborated upon the activity of the elder statesmen in connection with their recommendation to the Emperor to appoint Count Terauchi Premier in succession to Marquis Okuma.

The editors of several other magazines which reproduced the article, were convicted and sentenced, or fined.

Director of "The American Girl" Film Series Product of Stage.

James W. Horne is the director of "The American Girl" series, featuring Marin Sais, which is being shown on the screens of the principal theaters here. He is a native of California and a product of the stage. He began at the age of 13 as a member of the Belasco-Mayer Stock Company at the Alcazar, San Francisco. Later he won success on the legitimate stage. His greatest film successes have been "The Girl From Frisco," the "Stingaree" series, the "Social Pirates" series, and a number of multiple reel successes, including "The Barnstormers" and "The Pitfall." He is now busy at Kalem's Glendale studio producing "The American Girl" series by Frederick R. Bechdolt, author of Western drama. His knowledge of the West and its life admirably fits him to direct this series, which deals with present day Western life.

Union to Carry Members Who Enlist.

The Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 2, of Missouri, has decided to keep up the dues and assessments of any member who goes to the front.

Address for Jewish Women.

Mrs. Hannah G. Soloman of Chicago, at one time president of the National Council Jewish Women, will deliver an address to Jewish women at 3 p. m. tomorrow at Temple Shaare Emeth.

18 IN FIRST REGIMENT DECLARED DESERTERS

Have Not Reported for Service and if Caught Will Be Subject to Court-martial.

Eighteen members of the First Regiment who have not reported for service were today declared deserters by Lieutenant-Colonel Robbins, and were dropped from the muster roll of the regiment.

The 10 days allowed by the regulations were up Wednesday, but the time was extended to this morning. If caught they will be subject to court-martial and imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth.

Twenty-six men in distant cities will not be treated as deserters, because they have reported by letter or telegram and are willing to come, but have no money for railroad fare. An effort is being made to obtain transportation for them.

Companies C, D and E were mustered in yesterday. Of the 87 men in C company four were rejected, nine out of 98 were rejected in D company and three out of 92 in E company, a total of 16 out of 287. Prior to yesterday 16 out of 299 men had been rejected. The total to date is 32 out of 586.

Recruiting was brisk yesterday. There were 32 applicants. Twenty-four were accepted.

Maj. Norman Comfort of the Third Battalion addressed the students of St. Louis University at the university auditorium today.

First Regiment Men With Dependents Ordered Discharged.

Orders to discharge all enlisted men who have families dependent on them for support were received by the First Regiment today. These men are to be discharged, regardless of their wishes to remain in the service, as the Government does not care to assume the burden of caring for their dependents while they are in the service. A dependent family consists of a wife, children, or a dependent mother.

Captains immediately will begin a canvass in their companies to determine what men have dependents. Adjutant Lyons said that until this canvass was completed he had no idea how many men in the First Regiment would be discharged.

The task of mustering the regiment into the Federal service, which has been in progress for several days, will be stopped until enlisted men with dependents are discharged.

Guardsman Who Was on Duty at Eads Bridge Has Pneumonia.

Henry Tiffany, 29 years old, of 5241 Nagel avenue, a private in Company H, First Missouri Infantry, was taken to the city hospital yesterday suffering from pneumonia. He said he had been on guard duty under Eads Bridge, and that the first three nights he slept on a barge on the river. His condition is serious.

Naval Recruits Will Be Accepted Between Ages of 16 and 35.

The naval recruiting stations yesterday were instructed to accept applicants whose ages range from 16 to 35. The age limits have been 17 to 30.

In the Marine Corps the age limits, formerly from 18 to 30, are now 18 to 35. Former marines, up to the age of 40, are being accepted.

The army for several months has been accepting recruits whose ages are 18 to 35.

First St. Louis Bank Clerk Departs to Join the Navy.

Thomas Pointeck, 19 years old, of 4324 St. Louis avenue, the first St. Louis bank clerk to join the United States navy, departed last night for the Great Lakes Training School, where he will be trained for two months prior to active service. Pointeck has been a clerk at the Mississippi Valley Trust Company for two and one-half years. The company announced it would pay the difference between what the Government paid to sailors and soldiers and what their employes had been earning for a period of one year.

DYSPEPTICS! END STOMACH MISERY, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes acids in stomach and starts digestion.

Stops any sourness, heartburn, or food rising in few moments.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: "Pape's Diapepsin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder due to acid fermentation.—ADV.

RUSSIA IN GRAVE DANGER, OFFICIAL DOCUMENT SAYS

People Urged to Unite to Resist German Effort to Deliver Decisive Blow.

COUNTRY DISORGANIZED

PETROGRAD, April 10.—The provisional Government has issued a long proclamation directing the attention to the grave danger of a German effort to deliver a decisive blow at Russia and the necessity of immediately concentrating all of Russia's forces for the defeat of the enemy.

"The provisional Government," says the proclamation, "feels that it has no right to hide the truth. The state is in danger and it is necessary to employ all our powers to save it. * * * The old regime left Russia in a sadly organized condition, especially in the matter of finance, food supply, transport and munitions."

The proclamation reads:

"Having examined the military situation the Russian Government in the name of duty and country has decided to tell the people directly and openly the whole truth.

Whole Organization Weak.

"The regime which now has been overthrown left the defense of the country in a badly disorganized condition. By its culpable inaction and its inept measures it introduced disorganization into our finances, into provisioning and the transport and supply of munitions to the army. It weakened the whole of our economic organization.

"The provisional Government with the active co-operation of the whole nation will devote all its energeties to repair the serious consequences of the old regime. The blood of many sons of the fatherland has been shed freely in the course of these two and a half long years of war, but the country still is capable of a powerful blow at the enemy who occupies whole territories of our state and is now—in the days of birth of Russian liberty—threatening us with a new and decisive thrust.

"The defense, cost waht it may, of our national patrimony, and the deliverance of the country from the enemy who invades our borders, constitute the capital and the vital problem before our warriors who are defending the liberty of the whole people in close union with our allies.

"The Government deems it to be its right and duty to declare now that free Russia does not aim at the domination of other nations, at depriving them of their national patrimony or at occupying by force foreign territories, but that its object is to establish a durable peace on rights of nations to decide their own destiny.

"The Russian nation does not lust after the strengthening of its power abroad at the expense of other nations. Its aim is not to subjugate or humiliate anyone. In the name of the higher principles of equity, it has removed the chains which weighed upon the Polish people. But the Rusian nation will not allow its fatherland to come out of the great struggle humiliated and weakened in its vital forces. These principles will constitute the basis of the foreign policy of the provisional Government which will carry out unfailingly the popular will and safeguard the rights of our fatherland while observing the engagements entered into with our allies.

Nation in Danger.

"The provisional government of free Russia has no right to hide the truth. The state is in danger. Every effort must be made to let the coutnry respond to the truth when it is told, not by sterile depressions and not by discouragement, but by unanimous vigor with a view to creating a united national will.

"This will give us new strength for the struggle and will procure our salvation. In this hour of rude trial let the whole country find in itself strength to consolidate the liberty won and to devote itself to uniting labor for the welfare of free Russia.

"The provisional government which has given its solemn oath to serve the people is firmly confident that with the general and unanimous support of each one and all it will itself be able to do its duty to its country to the end.

"LVOFF, President of the Council."

PRICE OF COKE IS SENT UP BY THE GREAT DEMAND

St. Louis Dealers Say Buying by Munition Factories Has Caused the Big Advance.

Owing to an enormous demand for coke in the munition factories, the price of this fuel has soared to almost prohibitive heights, not only in St. Louis, but all over the country. Dealers here say gas coke, which sold at the end of last month at $6.75 a ton, now brings $10.75, and that by-product coke, which sold at $7.50 is now $12.25 a ton. They declare the munition factories are offering from $10 to $15 a ton for coke in carload lots.

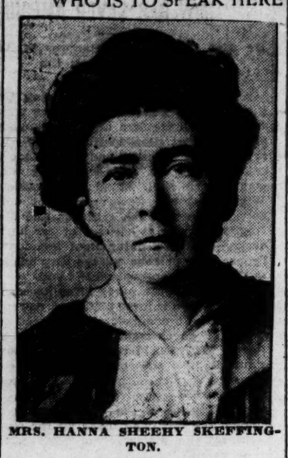

These prices strike a heavy blow at an extensive business in this city, coke being used by tea and coffee merchants, bakers, laundries and factories, besides large quantities burned in private homes instead of anthracite. Coke is now more expensive than anthracite, this retailing at from $9.75 to $10 a ton.

As is usual at this season, the price of bituminous coal has decreased. Standard coal has declined from $3.75 to $3.25 a ton; medium-grade coal from $4.25 to $3.50 and $3.75, and the highest grades from $5 to $4.50.

Saloon Held Up by Two Men.

Two men held up the bartender and two customers in the saloon run by Herman Bartel, 1235 Cass avenue, last night. They obtained $24.75.

IRISH EDITOR'S WIDOW WHO IS TO SPEAK HERE

MRS. HANNA SHEEHY SKEFFINGTON.

MRS. HANNA SKEFFINGTON TO LECTURE HERE SUNDAY

Widow of Irish Editor Will Lecture on "British Militarism as I Have Known It."

Mrs. Hanna Sheehy Skeffington, widow of the Irish patriot, author and editor, Francis Skeffington, who was executed during the Easter week rebellion in Dublin last year, will speak Sunday night at 8 o'clock at the Odeon, under the auspices of the Friends of Irish Freedom. Her subject will be "British Militarism as I Have Known It."

Mrs. Skeffington is one of the leading suffragists, labor sympathizers and educators of the British Isles. She was educated in France and Germany and lectures in several languages. She came disguised to the United States, accompanied by her 7-year-old son, after refusing passports conditioned upon the situation in Ireland and the killing of her husband. She is making addresses in the principal cities.

"UP FROM KNEES" AND "HASTEN NOW TO ACT," SAYS CARDINAL

Only One Sentiment Permissible Today, O'Connell Declares, and That Is Unity.

BOSTON, April 10.—Cardinal O'Connell has issued a statement calling upon the nation to get up from its knees, bended during holy week and "hasten now to act. We have spoken enough."

"There is only one sentiment permissible today—that sentiment is absolute unity," he said. "Our country is at war—our nation, therefore, needs us all, every man, woman and child of us, to strengthen her, to hearten her, and to stand faithfully by her until her hour of trial has passed and her hour of glorious triumph shall arrive.

"So up from our knees! Our souls have gathered strength of sacrifice from the sight of Calvary. God and our nation! Let us lift up that cry to heaven. Neither base hate nor sullen anger may dim the glory of our flag. But let the love of true freedom-blessed, God-given freedom—which above all other lands our country has cherished and defended—let that be the thrilling power that will quicken our pulses into a still greater love of America than we have ever known till now.

"We are of all races; today we are one—Americans. Whatever we can do in honor and justice, that we must in conscience do to defeat our enemies and make our flag triumphant.

"Christ is risen. He has triumphed over iniquity and death. Let us look up to where he now sits in glory and read anew from the story of His passion and His triumph the greatest of all lessons man can ever learn—that evil is conquered only by divine courage, that death has no terror for the man of faith and that not all the riches of this world are worth a passing thought in comparison with the things which endure forever. Let us hasten now to act. We have spoken enough. May God preserve and bless America."

TWO NAVAL RESERVES ARRESTED

John Dowd of New York and Cecil McLeod of Kansas City, recruits in the Missouri Naval Reserves, were arrested last night for complaining of the food served at the naval reserve camp at Bissell's Point and instituting a hunger strike.

Eugene Reed, Chief Master-at-Arms of the reserves, with a squad of men, took the two recruits to the Angelica Street Police Station, where they were held all night. Early this morning they sent a request to Capt. Wilson of the station that they be fed, and the police official ordered two ham sandwiches and a bucket of coffee for each. The recruits said they were not actually dissatisfied with the food served them at Bissell's Point, but had been drinking and thought they would "start something."

Looking for the "Duke of Delmar."

The police have been requested to look for a man known as the "Duke of Delmar." He is alleged to have passed a bogus check for $35 on Frank St. Cyr, manager of the Hamilton Garage, 5837 Delmar boulevard, a few days ago. St. Cyr told the police the man was referred to on the West End cabaret circuit as the "Duke of Delmar."

Mrs. Margaret Harris, 60 years old, of 2112 Cass avenue, was severely injured last evening when the automobile run by Miss Norma Brennan, 18 years old, of 9201 North Broadway, in which she was riding, collided with a machine owned by John Carney, 1520 Linton street near the Broadway entrance to O'Fallon Park. Mrs. Harris' collar bone was fractured. Miss Brennan was arrested on a charge carelessness.

GERMAN VIEWS UPON AMERICA'S ENTRY INTO WAR

Berlin Writer Says U. S. Really Is Preparing to Meet Japan After Present Conflict.

SEES TROUBLE OVER CHINA

Manufacturers Discuss Possible Economic Effects of Hostilities With This Country.

AMSTERDAM, April 9.—Under the caption "The biter bit," Sunday's Koelnische Volkszeitung prints an article under a Berlin date which purports to explain America's plans in the Far East. It says:

"The antagonism between America and Japan arose over China, but Washington proved craftier than Tokio and forced China to break with Germany, by which action Japan, like Esau, was cheated of its rights as the first born. President Wilson realized the importance of Chinese and Japanese questions better than any of his predecessors, and adopted a strong policy in support of the prestige of the United States, a policy which also became anti-German.

Not Regarded as Pro-British.

"It would be wrong to attribute this policy to pro-Britishism. During the war President Wilson pursued an American policy above all, to which is ascribable America's huge development in the production of armaments. Every child knows that no one in Germany ever thought of the possibility of a German-American war. President Wilson himself hardly seriously contemplated a German danger, but did contemplate a Japanese danger. This is also fully understood in Tokio."

The article says that on the surface nothing is more natural than that America should equip a giant army and fleet. It continues: "They are not for use, however, in this war, during which they practically will not fire a shot, but for use after war, against Japan. Thus our enemies play with their own allies the game of 'the biter bit,' with Japan acting in the leading part."

The Chemnitz Socialist paper Volkstimme frankly admits that if the unrestricted submarine war should prove to be a failure Germany is lost.

"We all knew this on the day unrestricted submarine war was announced," the paper says.

Manufacturers Discuss War With U. S.

Three questions in regard to America's entrance into the war have been put to leading German manufacturers by the Rheinische Westfalische Gazette of Essen, an important industrial organ. The paper asks: First, whether unrestricted submarine warfare has been bought too dearly, at the price of war with America; second, what will be the economic consequences; third, is it possible to make Germany economically independent of America? Councillor Dr. Beukenberg of Dortmund answers the first question in the negative.

"Our early reluctance to use our submarines," he said, "was due to the most far-reaching deference to America, with whom we were on friendly terms and, above all, enjoyed important commercial relations. America never attempted to help us in our distress, caused by England's starvation blockade. Our yielding to America's demands was not caused by fear of her military resources, but with a view to avoid difficulties in rebuilding our foreign trade after the war.

"President Wilson's biased judgment of the German peace proposals showed that America does not want German victory, and prefers to aid British aims in the dismemoerment of Germany and Austria-Hungary. We were thus compelled to resume unrestricted submarine warfare in order to force a victorious conclusion to the war. Considerations of the future developments of our trade must wait while danger exists of our losing the fruits of victory."

In regard to the second question Dr. Beukenberg, after pointing out in detail that American exports to Germany were two and a half times bigger than German exports to America, says: After the war America will not want to cut off her German customer. It would harm us greviously if America were to refuse to us later a large loan to help us over our difficulties. We would then have to make our stocks last much longer, although eventually able to return to a sound basis."

After calling attention to the huge increase in America's financial strength Dr. Beukenberg says in answer to the third question: "Germany cannot become wholly independent. In the case of cotton, for instance, under the most favorable circumstances it would take decades to meet our needs from our colonies or Asia Minor. To a certain extent we can be independent if we live sparingly and us all our available substitutes, but a large part of German imports are raw materials which are exposed as manufactured goods. Thus, increases in the difficulties of importing would hit us badly. This, however, applies equally to the United States. Americans do not grow cotton for nothing and they will welcome their old customer back again. After all, the submarine war spells victory, and if we are to dictate peace, adequate guarantees may be negotiated. Now that America is an open enemy we no longer have our hands tied and there is no longer the fear that we might have to make an undignified peace through exhaustion. The slogan is now victory or death with honor."

Dr. Hasslacher of the Rheinische Steel Works at Duisburg, answering the questions, lays stress on the declaration that nothing must interfere with ruthless submarine warfare. He says:

"This is the only way to impose on Americans respect for Germany's political and economic existence. Peace will insure our quick economic revival and enable us to find our own way in the world in spite of America."

Privy Councillor Kirdoff of the Gelznkirchen Mining Co., says:

"Unrestricted submarine warfare could not be bought too dearly at any price. The German Government ought to have realized that in time, and so avoided the useless loss of many German lives. America as an open enemy will hurt us less than before." Kirdoff regards a forecast of the future as being useless.

Councillor Springorum of the great Hoesch steel and iron foundries, expresses similar sentiments and is confident that means will be found later to strengthen Germany's economic position against America.

An unnamed Rheinisch industrial leader says in answer to the second question:

"The economic consequences of a German-American war are extremely serious. We cannot do without certain raw materials and foodstuffs from America, which, as well as other enemy countries, will systematically bar our products.

In answer to the third question he says: "We have only a few means of reprisal, but it is most difficult to make ourselves completely independent." He advises the strictest economy and thinks that American oil may be replaced by a more extended use of German coal.

Paul Steller of Cologne thinks that difficult times will come after and not during the war. He says that great hopes had been built on America for the reconstruction period, and that German manufacturers had bought and paid for large quantities of raw materials in America, for post bellum delivery. He says, however, that the fact that Germany is now compelled to be self dependent and form a closed commercial state will be rather favorable to her development.

Stellar suggests a nation-wide introduction of various substitutes to replace former American imports, and the opening up of hitherto neglected channels for those things for which substitutes cannot be found. He thinks that copper may be obtained, for instance, from Servia and Poland, and predicts a glorious future for Germany through the speeding up of her technical production.

James B. Haggin Left $18,000,000.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A transfer tax report shows that the late James B. Haggin of this city, who acquired a fortune in mining enterprises and owned a valuable racing stable, left to his family and relatives an estate of $20,614,761, having a net value of $18,041,455.

SENATOR'S LONG SEARCH VAIN

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10.—Has anybody seen anything of a keg of chewing tobacco and a barrel of persimmon brandy lost by United States Senator Bankhead of Alabama? He suspects Atlanta.

Senator Bankhead has been looking for the articles ever since Sherman started on his march to Atlanta and the sea. It seems that the Senator, then a Captain in the Confederate army, had a negro slave who was a wonderful forager, but who finally got into his head that he was the Captain of the company. So Capt. Bankhead got a furlough and brought his negro to Atlanta to barter or sell him. He finally traded the negro to a man whose son is now an Atlanta millionaire, for the persimmon brandy and the chewing tobacco. He stored the barrel and the keg, and when he came back to get them they were gone.

Readjustment Sale of Suits

A sale that's just a little bit "different." An early Easter caused many of the suit makers to overstock. Of course they knew that Easter fell on April 8—yet they let it find them with heavy surplus stocks. Readjustment with them meant selling these surpluses at a loss. We bought several hundred Suits that were made to sell up to $35, at a big price discount. Then on looking over our stock of Suits we found that we had a few hundred in our regular $16.75, $19.95, $25, $30 and $35 lines, in which all sizes and all styles were not represented. Only a size or style missing here and there, but we have put them in with the new purchases and divided the entire lot in 2 groups for this Wednesday's sale.

Suits, Up to $35
$19.95

NOTWITHSTANDING the very, very small prices, if we were asked what is the most salient, striking point of this event, our answer would be —"THE SUITS THEMSELVES."

Suits that have a style and grace of their own. Individualized in line and design. Suits that are far removed from the suits usually shown at anything like such prices. Suits that are thoroughly characteristic of Garlands.

JERSEY SUITS, SILK SUITS, Dressy Poiret Twill Suits, Gabardine Suits, Wool Poplin Suits, and in color—ask for a light shade and we'll show you rose, beige, gold, sand, putty, citron, tan, banana, gold, Copen., apple green and many others. If you want a dark suit, here are navies, dark green and brown and black; also fancy check suits.

The styles include sports, plain tailormades, semi-fancy and dressy models, each style numerous "frenchified" touches that give them individuality and "class."

Coats—Disclosing Marvelous Value

Coats that you will simply want to wear and are glad to wear; expressing in every line the cleverest designing. The two models pictured are examples of the dozens of stunning styles shown in this collection. Staple colors as well as forest green and gold, old rose and gray, beige and new blue, wistaria and amber.

In this collection will be found a great variety of coats giving graceful lines to stout figures which create an impression of slenderness and youthfulness.

New Hair Remover Gets Roots and All
Here's the greatest thing for hair-disfigured womankind that has happened in a hundred years! A way to actually remove the roots of superfluous hair—easily, instantly and harmlessly! A method that does away forever with shaving, electrolysis and the application of preparations which merely take off the surface hair.
The new phelactine process is so certain to remove the hair entire, roots and all, that druggists are authorized to refund the price in any case of dissatisfaction. There's no odor or mussiness about phelactine, and it is entirely non-poisonous—a child could safely eat it. Get a stick of phelactine today, follow the simple directions and you will have the surprise of your life. With your own eyes you will see the roots come out.—ADV.

JOHN D. JOHNSON'S SON WEDS

Eloped Jan. 23, When Student at Missouri University.

It became known yesterday that Warren M. Johnson, 20 years old, son of John D. Johnson, attorney, 6228 Berlin avenue, and Miss Mary Combs, 19, of Boonville, Mo., eloped Jan. 22 and were married at Mexico, Mo. Johnson was then a student at the Missouri University and Miss Combs was teaching school at Ashland, near Columbia.

Johnson's father, when he heard of the marriage, moved his son to Illinois University. The bride continued her teaching. The plan is to keep the couple apart for three years while young Johnson completes his education. The bride will come to the Johnson home in a few days and will live there while taking a three-year course at Washington University. The couple became acquainted when Johnson was a student three years ago at Kemper Military Academy at Boonville.

Negro Docketed for "Treason."

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10.—Coleman Adkins, a negro, was docketed at police headquarters last night on a technical charge of "treason." Federal officers asserted that Adkins had made speeches against the Government to negroes at Porterdale and Covington. Adkins had been incited by Germans, according to the officers.

GARDNER TO DROP SHAW FROM PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD

Governor Decides to Give Place to His Private Secretary, Noah W. Simpson.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 10.—It has been learned here that Gov. Gardner has decided to appoint his private secretary, Noah W. Simpson, a lawyea of La Belle, to succeed Dr. H. B. Shaw as one of the Democratic members of the Missouri Public Service Commission. Dr. Shaw is the only member of the commission with a technical knowledge of the engineering problems which confront the commission in every case of importance which comes before it.

If the Governor also should appoint a lawyer to succeed John Kennish, a Republican member, whose term will expire April 15, the date of the expiration of Dr. Shaw's term, all of the members of the commission will be lawyers.

Original Membership.

When the commission was created in 1913 Gov. Major appointed a commission consisting of three lawyers, one railroad man and Dr. Shaw, who for many years had been dean of the school of engineering of the State University.

The larger problems which go before the commission are the rate cases of the big service corporations of the larger cities, such as the Union Electric, United Railways, Bell Telephone companies. In reach of these cases there are intricate engineering problems presented, and the decision of the commission frequently rests on the solution of the problems.

So far there has been no indication from the Governor as to whom he intends to appoint to succeed Kennish, who has said he would not accept reappointment. The Governor, however, has shown a disposition to preserve the bi-partisan character of the commission, and it is expected that he will choose a Republican. The other Republican member is D. E. Blair of Joplin.

The intention of the Governor to name Simpson is not a surprise. It has been predicted generally since Simpson was made the Governor's secretary that he would have his choice of appointments as soon as the Legislature should adjourn. The salary of a Public Service Commissioner is $5500 a year, $500 more than the Governor receives, and the highest salary paid by the State.

Handled Land Bank Bill.

Simpson served as a member of the Legislature one term from Lewis County, in 1915. In the Legislature he handled the Gardner land bank bill, the measure on which the Governor made his campaign for nomination. In the last election Simpson was a candidate for Circuit Judge, but was defeated.

His services as private secretary to the Governor consisted largely of being political adviser to the Governor, and handling the tactical campaign of getting the Gardner bills through the Legislature. In this he was very successful.

Unless the Governor selects a man from St. Louis or Kansas City to succeed Kennish, there will be no member of the commission from the larger cities, where the big problems of the commission originate, and there will be no member who has had wide experience in dealing with big corporate affairs.

William G. Busby, the chairman, is from Carrollton, which has a population of 3452. Edwin J. Bean is from De Soto, a town of 4721 inhabitants. D. E. Blair is from Joplin, the largest city represented on the commission, which has a population of 32,073. Simpson's town, La Belle, has a population of 1017.

IN BED YEARS; GOING TO FUNERAL

Helpless Woman Insists She Be Taken to Services for Granddaughter.

Although she has been unable to leave her bed for 47 years, Mrs. Sophia Yanachack, 80 years old, of Glen Carbon, Ill., insists that she must be taken tomorow afternoon to the funeral service of her granddaughter, Miss Eleanora Smola, 18, who died last Saturday at Denver.

After consulting a physician, relatives have decided to comply with her request. She has been helpless from paralysis since 1870. Miss Smola, who went west a year ago for her health, was a favorite of her grandmother.

BOYS THREW EGGS AT DOGS

Three Who Stole Buggy Wasted Nearly Four Dozen.

Three small boys who had a "joy-ride" yesterday afternoon in a buggy belonging to William Pieper, 6317 Maple avenue, were arrested last night and turned over to the parents, who were ordered to produce them in Juvenile Court.

There was a case of five dozen eggs in the buggy when it was stolen from Twentieth street and Bremen avenue. When recovered at Twenty-first and Salisbury streets only 14 eggs remained. The boys said they had amused themselves by throwing eggs at dogs and cats while riding about.

"WILD CAT" WAS TAME FOX

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 10.—"There's a wild cat or some kind of an animal chasing around Ellsworth avenue," an excited woman telephoned the Frankstown Avenue Police Station the other afternoon.

Patrolman Philip Flynn was detailed to capture the "wild cat." It turned out to be a gray fox. Flynn trapped it in a box. It later was claimed by Jane Cavanaugh of 5717 Eva street, who said the animal was tame.

Man Drops Dead on Street.

John T. Ryan, 64 years old, of 4214 Humphrey street, dropped dead at Jefferson avenue and Locust street at 7:30 o'clock last night. Heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death.

IRISH REPUBLICAN FLAG PUT UP IN DUBLIN BUT SAWED DOWN

London News Hears of Conflict With Police in Which Shop Windows Were Smashed.

LONDON, April 10.—A Dublin dispatch dated Monday to the Daily News reads: "The hosting of the Irish Republican flag over the ruins of the general postoffice in Dublin today led to scenes of excitement and some conflicts between the crowds and the police.

"The flag lay on the parapet below the flagstaff and attracted a crowd. A young man in Irish costume crept along the parapet and hoisted it to half-mast amid some cheers.

"A force of police took possession of the street while a man sawed down the flagpost. Flagpost and flag fell in the street within the police cordon, but the crowd broke through, captured the flag and made off with it.

"Bricks and stones were thrown at the police and some shop windows were smashed, but looting was prevented.

"In the city posters were pasted giving the text of the provisional government's proclamation of last Easter morning and at the bottom the words, 'The Irish Republic still lives.' Some arrests were made."

Guardsman Accidentaly Shoots Self.

Ralph Len, 21 years old, a member of the First Missouri Regiment, on guard duty at the arsenal, yesterday accidentally shot himself in the left leg, just above the ankle, when cleaning and loading his rifle. His injury is not dangerous.

DR. HYDE PROSECUTION ENDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10.—The prosecution of Dr. B. Clark Hyde on the charge of having murdered Col. Thomas Swope, wealthy philanthropist, ended here yesterday when Judge Porterfield, in the Criminal Court, dismissed the last indictment against him.

Inability to obtain funds necessary for the case was given by Hunt C. Moore, County Prosecutor, as the reason for the State's failure to continue the prosecution.

GERMAN-MANNED LAUNCH SAID TO HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

Boat Carrying 500 Gallons of Gasoline Reported Taken When Off Coast of Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10.—A launch manned by a German-speaking crew and carrying more than 500 gallons of gasoline was captured several days ago off the Georgia coast and taken to Fernandina, Fla., according to a letter received here by Charles S. Arnow, State Game and Fish Commissioner.

The capture was made by a revenue cutter, Arnow said, adding that it had caused much speculation as to whether there was any truth in reports of German submarines in the Gulf of Mexico. Only one of the German crew spoke English, Arnow said. He had no information to show where they came from.

Francis Scott Key Deuber in Navy.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 10.—Francis Scott Key Deuber, said to be a great-great-grandson of the author of the Star Spangled Banner, has been accepted in the United States marine corps after obtaining consent of his mother to enlist. He is only 16 years old.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Look, mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative because they love its pleasant taste, and it thoroughly cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—ADV.

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron, which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good. Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.—Ferdinand King, M. D.

NOTE—NUXATED IRON recommended above by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist with an absolute guarantee of success or money refunded. It is dispensed in this city by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Johnson-Enderle-Pauley Drug Co., Kieffer Drug Co., and all good druggists.—ADV.

KAISER'S REFORM PLEDGE PLEASES THE SOCIALISTS

'Resurrection of Old Prussia to New Development,' Says the Vorwaerts.

By CYRIL BROWN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1917, by Press Pub. Co.)

BERLIN, April 9.—The import of the Kaiser's message on electoral reform is particularly apparent in the rejoicings of the Socialists. The Vorwaerts headlines it, "Solemn Proclamation of Electoral Reform," and covers the first page, in heavy type, with the Kaiser's words, saying editorially, under the caption, "Prussia's Resurrection:"

"Internal freedom in Prussia—that is a goal for which for more than a hundred years the best heads and best forces of the nation have worked. Resurrection day of the third war year—will it go down in history as the day of the resurrection of old Prussia to a new development?

"It has brought us a promise, to be sure; not the resurrection itself, but a promise which is more hopeful and certain than all former announcements together. This proclamation can never be annulled and lapse into dusty archives.

"Three factors guarantee this—the solemn earnestness of the pledge, the circumstances of the times, and, above all, the inner spirit that speaks from it. The monarch himself champions the new orientation in Prussia, and let us bear in mind that the Minister President characterized the new orientation as a necessity of life for the German nation.

Old Spirit Abandoned.

"And lastly, the spirit! We stand here face to face with an abandonment of that dangerous fallacy called the old Prussian spirit, which heretofore has hemmed in our internal development. This message is against the spirit of bureaucratic reactionary arteriosclerosis. It does not follow the bad tradition which shunted our train of state into a false sidetrack and into a danger whose greatness we only now fully recognize.

"This message promises us a thorough reform of the Prussian three-class electoral system in addition to reform of the Prussian Upper House. In the coming new organization the Government is only one factor, another is Parliament, the third and decisive factor is the people.

"Our task now is to mobilize all the political forces of the nation for the most energetic execution of the reform possible.

"We rejoice that in the moment when the new enemy, America, again warms up the old phrase about the fight of freedom and democracy against absolutism and militarism, the German Government has with this message given to the outer world clear proof that the German nation can look after its own political development and is in no need of outside assistance."

"Today, as formerly, the Kaiser can rest his head at ease in every German lap," says the Liberal Anzeiger. "The German nation stands behind him and his Field Marshal and behind none other."

Ripe for Self-Government.

George Bernhardt in the Vossische Zeitung says: "The King of Prussia * * * has proclaimed that the times are finally and forever gone in which one could be of the opinion that the Prussian people was not yet ripe to participate in its own government to the same extent as the Bavarians, Wurttemburgers and Badeners. The King's word is clear and unequivocal.

"The King's message constitutes a state act of the Prusian crown. Simultaneously, to, it is a message of the German Kaiser. Not without reason, it is expressly directed to Bethmann-Hollweg as Imperial Chancellor, and not only as Prussian Minister President."

"The Kaiser has started on the road to a new Prussia," says the Taeglisches Rundschau. * * * "The Kaiser's Easter message is one of the most important and in its consequences far-reaching documents in Prussian and German history. * * * The class electoral system is a thing of the past; the secret and direct ballot for Prussia has been born."

The Vorwaerts is the only paper to refer directly to Aemrica, save for the brief references of the Tageblatt, already published.

"Without being in the least menaced by us, without the slightest necessity," the Socialist organ says, "the peaceable American people' has declared war upon us in cold-blooded vote of a parliament that has chosen the slogan of a 'war of peace,' and yet they dare speak of us there as the dangerous enemies of the world-war, while they themselves mak war for the profits of the American war purveyors."

THIRD WIRE THEFT IN WEEK

Copper Taken From Poles of Bell Telephone Co. in County.

Thieves last night stole seven pounds of copper wire from the poles of the Bell Telephone Co., in St. Louis County, on the Marshall road, just south of the Big Bend road, where wire has been taken by thieves three times within a week.

Charles Jackson, a watchman at Meramec Highlands, saw three men in the vicinity and started toward them, when one opened fire on him with a revolver. He retreated and the men escaped.

"Universal Satisfaction" Motto of Credit Clothing House.

That the motto of "Universal Satisfaction" adopted by the U. S. Credit Clothing Co., 706 North Broadway, has proven popular with the public is borne out by the rapid growth of their business. Their liberal policy of selling on credit includes a rule to first please the customer and then let the customer name his own terms.

WHY GRAND DUKE DMITRI AND IVANHOFF WERE NOT ARRESTED

Former Hatched Plot Against Rasputin, and General Is Old and an Invalid.

LONDON, April 10.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that Minister of Justice Kerensky, addressing a military delegation on Monday, said that he wished to put an end to certain insinuations that he was not severe enough towards some former partisans of the deposed Emperor. He charged that these rumors were spread with the malicious purpose of sowing discord between himself and the democracy.

"I did not arrest Grand Duke Dimitri Pavlovitch," said Minister Kerensky, "because he hatched the plot against Rasputin. If I did not arrest Gen. Ivanoff, who tried to march troops to Petrograd to suppress the revolution, it was because he is an old man and an invalid and prison would have killed him in tnree days.

"As for the prisoners in Tsarskoe-Selo, I have visited them and I can tell you that the soldiers guarding them have promised to obey no order but mine. Moreover, the commanding officer is a friend of mine in whom I have complete confidence."

At the conclusion of his address, Minister Kerensky was cheered by the delegates, who unanimously voted confidence in him.

BOY SCOUTS TO ASSIST IN COLLECTION ON DONATION DAY

Will Be Stationed on Street Cars and Wear Brassarts Calling Attention to Needs of Poor.

The Boy Scouts will aid in promoting the cause of donation day, April 16, for the relief of the poor of St. Louis, by wearing special brassarts, or arm bands, from Friday to Monday inclusive. The brassarts will be white with red letternig, and will call attention to the needs of the St. Louis poor. Four thousand of them will be required to furnish one to every Boy Scout in the city.

The Boy Scouts also will help in making the collection next Monday after school hours by calling the public attention to the 1500 contribution boxes in the street cars.

Donation day is being arranged under the auspices of the St. Louis Provident Association, the St. Vincetn de Paul Society and the Federation of Jewish Charities.

Machado Congratulates Wilson.

LISBON, April 10.—President Machado has sent a cablegram to President Wilson congratulating him on "America's noble resolution." A popular demonstration was held yesterday outside the American legation.

Economy in Platinum Urged.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—War time need of platinum for scientific purposes has prompted an appeal from the Government to the country's jewelers to use substitutes for platinum wherever possible in mounting precious stones.

SUPERVISED PLAY AND CRAFT SCHOOLS FOR COUNTY PROPOSED

A campaign to establish supervised play and craft schools throughout St. Louis County has been started by the St. Louis County Council of Mothers' Circles and Parent Teachers' Association of the National Congress of Mothers. The co-operation of all residents, school boards and clubs has been asked for.

Miss Deane Hutchinson is chairman of the committee in charge. Miss Mildred Everly, Mrs. E. Marsh and Mrs. L. Weidner are members.

Takes Her Sons to Enlist in Navy.

CHICKASHA, Ok., April 10.—Mrs. E. Hollingsworth, living 20 miles west of here, brought two of her sons to this city yesterday to enlist them in the navy. "They are my only boys, but I am ready to give them for the service of my country," she said. One failed to pass.

Don't Let YOUR Children Take Chances

Even children are not spared. The New York Board of Health says that 15,000 children in New York public schools have organic heart disease. Diseased teeth are held responsible by physicians for a large number of these cases. Health authorities throughout the country are calling attention to the dangers of decayed teeth.

Don't let YOUR children take such chances.

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

will guard their mouths against disease germs by keeping the teeth clean and by helping to counteract "Acid-Mouth" to which are attributed most cases of tooth decay. Sound teeth are a sound investment, but you must use a real dentifrice to keep them sound. Try Pebeco twice a day and consult the dentist twice a year.

14 OFFICERS OBTAINED IN ENGINEER REGIMENT

Col. Townsend, in Charge of Recruiting, Tells of Duties of Men.

Fourteen officers for the first battalion of a regiment of engineers which is being organized in St. Louis by Col. Curtis McD. Townsend, U. S. A., president of the Mississippi River Commission, have already been obtained and Frank G. Jonah, chief engineer of the Frisco Railroad, has been appointed its Major. The regiment will have 1035 men and 34 officers.

In some respects the engineer corps is the highest paid in the army. One-fourth of its personnel, ranked as first-class privates, receives $18 a month, as against $15 received by privates in the infantry, cavalry and artillery arms. Corporals and Sergeants in the engineers get $24 and $36, while those of the same rank in the other arms get $20 and $30. The rest of the privates and the commissioned officers receive the same pay as officers of their rank in the other arms.

It is required that recruits be between 18 and 45 years of age, and men of the following occupations are invited to join: Masons, riggers, horseshoers, packers, teamsters, saddlers, cooks, clerks, musicians, signalmen, machinists, firemen, electricians, plumbers, pipe fitters, bridge carpenters, miners, quarrymen, lithographers, photographers, blueprint experts, zincographers, draftsmen, topographic surveyors and sketchers, blacksmiths and concrete and steel workers. About 25 men have applied so far. Applications should be made to Maj. Wilbur Willing, room 428 Federal building, Eighth and Olive streets.

Art Display at Public Library.
A collection of 40 monotypes and etchings, the work of Harry Lewis Bailey of Los Angeles, will be on display at the tS. Louis Public Library for a month, beginning April 15. Three of the pictures were reproduced recently in the Rotogravure Section of the Sunday Post-Dispatch. The work is principally of horses, although there are some etchings and monotypes of the California mountains and trees and a few sketches made in the vicinity of the levee of St. Louis.

Nujol For Constipation

TWO WAYS to OVER-EAT

Whether it's out of a lunch pail or from the table of a Delmonico, the result is the same—indigestion, constipation and the lowered physical and mental vitality which constipation causes.

Constipation, if neglected, may easily lead to serious disablement, particularly if you dose yourself with a hap-hazard assortment of pills and laxative waters.

Nujol, the internal lubricant, has none of these habit-forming dangers of the drug remedies. It is not a bowel stimulant, and is not absorbed by the system. It acts as a mechanical lubricant, keeps the contents of the intestines soft and so facilitates normal movements.

As Nujol is not a physic but a lubricant, it does not gripe or upset the system. Being tasteless, it is not unpleasant to take.

The Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has used its world-wide resources in producing Nujol and its reputation is behind the product.

Nujol is the only remedy for constipation we manufacture. The genuine sold only in pint bottles bearing Nujol trade-mark. All bottles filled at our Nujol plant, absolutely modern and sanitary.

ST. LOUIS WAS SOUTH OF CENTER OF EARTHQUAKE

Shock Felt as Far North as Burlington (Io.), South to Sikeston (Mo.).

Complete quiet today followed the agitated seismic condition which prevailed in and around St. Louis all day yesterday, and which culminated in earthquake shocks at 2:52 and 5:43 p. m. St. Louis was somewhat south of the center of the district covered by this disturbance, the shocks being felt in Burlington, Io., 221 miles north of this city, and in Sikeston, Mo., 166 miles south.

The seismograph at St. Louis University, which was in a sensitive state throughout yesterday, beginning at 8 a. m., showed no trace today of any disturbance, and its delicate mechanism registered perfectly straight lines.

Thinks City Is Secure.

The Rev. Father Goesse, in charge of this instrument, said today that yesterday's shock, in his opinion, was as severe an earthquake as St. Louis need ever fear. "This city," he said, "sits on 400 feet or more of solid limestone, and this acts as a tremendous neutralizer for the earth's interior disturbances. No city in the United States, in my belief, is more secure from great earthquake damage than St. Louis.

Yesterday's principal tremor began at 30 seconds past 2:52, and its main wave was 12 seconds later, but the tremor continued until 3. Some persons in St. Louis felt the second shock, at 5:43, which lasted two minutes, but there was no general alarm here.

Other places where the seismic shock was felt, according to dispatches, were Kansas City; Peoria, Quincy, Springfield and Decatur, Ill.; Hannibal, Mo., and Evansville, Ind. In no place was any great damage done, but in Jacksonville, Ill., a number of persons rushed out of buildings. At De Soto, Mo., the walls of the public school building were reported to have been cracked.

Excitement in Alton.

In places adjoining Alton it was at first believed that a powder mill or a munitions plant had been blown up, and telephone calls, making inquiries as to the safety of employes of such establishments, continued for more than an hour.

The tremor was felt by hundreds of persons in the 21-story Railway Exchange Building, the Pierce Building and other large downtown structures. The Municipal Courts Building, the Clayton courthouse and several city police stations felt the vibrations. At the Columbia Theater there was alarm in the balcony and gallery and a number of persons went out, but the singer on the stage did not permit her act to be interrupted and most of those on the first floor did not know what the disturbance was about.

At New Madrid, Mo., which in 1811 was the scene of the most destructive earthquake in the recorded history of the Mississippi Valley, yesterday's shock was not felt. The New Madrid earthquake went on intermittently from December, 1811, to the following March, and opened huge fissures in the earth, changing the Mississippi's course and creating the body of water known as Reelfoot Lake, in Tennessee.

NOTE IN BOTTLE TELLS OF SINKING OF SHIP IN 1915

Message From Steward of Old Merchants' and Miners' Steamer Frederick Washed Ashore.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—A bottle containing nine messages of farewell, washed ashore at the Orkney Islands in February, tells briefly of the fate of the Old Merchants' and Miners' steamship Frederick, which left here in December, 1915, and the following month sailed from New York for Archangel, Russia. The messages were set adrift by the crew when the ship was sinking in midocean.

One missive is from George Matthews, steward, who was supposed to have been a Baltimore man. The nine messages were sent to the State Department at Washington by Ambassador Page, and the one written by Matthews was received by Collector of the Port Ryan.

The note is in lead pencil on a scrap of paper, and reads:

"Friends or whom it may concern: We are sinking in midocean, and the captain has deserted us. There are 10 left behind. Faithfully the steward of the ship. Goodbye.

"GEORGE MATTHEWS."

Nothing can be learned of Matthews here. Merchants and Miners officials have no record of him. The Frederick was bought by the Frederick Steamship Co. of New York, and left Baltimore for that port in charge of Capt. Kiehne, who left the ship at New York.

Pay Increase in Colorado Mines.

DENVER, Colo., April 10.—Twenty-two coal companies, including the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., are to grant to mine employes a voluntary wage increase of approximately 10 per cent, May 1. Six thousand men will be affected by the action of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co.

Decoration for Morgan Banker.

PARIS, April 10.—H. Herman Harjes, delegate of the American Red Cross and member of the Paris banking house of Morgan, Harjes & Co., has been decorated with the Legion of Honor, in recognition of services in connection with the American ambulance and other work. In February the French Government conferred the war cross on Harjes.

KRONSTADT PREPARING FOR GERMAN NAVAL ATTACK

Russian Fortress Is Controlled by Council Elected by Troops, Who Fly Revolutionary Flag.

KRONSTADT, April 8, via London, April 10.—Kronstadt is feverishly preparing to repel an expected German naval attack when the Gulf of Finland is free of ice. A correspondent of the Associated Press reached the famous island fastness by traveling over the vast ice waste which separates it from the mainland and found the garrison working night and day in anticipation of the long predicted assault.

The fortress is entirely controlled by a council elected by the troops, which is unanimously resolved to defend Russian freedom and territory to the last. The council is equally resolute against fighting for the annexation of foreign territory. One member of the council said that as long as Germany was unwilling to abandon its plans of annexation there was nothing to do but fight.

An impressive sight is offered the visitor to Kronstadt from the walls after dark. At every half mile along the tracks across the ice bonfires flare and in their gleam, the red flags of the revolution can be seen faintly waving. Around the fires the revolutionary soldiers chant the new revolutionary hymn and cheer for the coming of the Russian republic.

HELENA, Mont., April 10.—Fearing that the carcasses of starved elk strewn along the Gardiner and Yellowstone rivers mays cause an epidemic, the city of Livingston has appealed to State health authorities to have the animals buried.

Shackleton in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, Antarctic explorer, arrived here yesterday from Australia. He will lecture on his rescue of seven survivors of the 10 members of the crew of the Aurora, marooned near Ross Barrier. The Aurora and her crew was a part of a Shackleton expedition to the South Pole.

To Relieve Catarrh Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75 cents' worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial.—ADV.

ST. LOUIS WAS SOUTH OF CENTER OF EARTHQUAKE

Shock Felt as Far North as Burlington (Io.), South to Sikeston (Mo.).

Complete quiet today followed the agitated seismic condition which prevailed in and around St. Louis all day yesterday, and which culminated in earthquake shocks at 2:52 and 5:43 p. m. St. Louis was somewhat south of the center of the district covered by this disturbance, the shocks being felt in Burlington, Io., 221 miles north of this city, and in Sikeston, Mo., 166 miles south.

The seismograph at St. Louis University, which was in a sensitive state throughout yesterday, beginning at 8 a. m., showed no trace today of any disturbance, and its delicate mechanism registered perfectly straight lines.

Thinks City Is Secure.

The Rev. Father Goesse, in charge of this instrument, said today that yesterday's shock, in his opinion, was as severe an earthquake as St. Louis need ever fear. "This city," he said, "sits on 400 feet or more of solid limestone, and this acts as a tremendous neutralizer for the earth's interior disturbances. No city in the United States, in my belief, is more secure from great earthquake damage than St. Louis.

Yesterday's principal tremor began at 30 seconds past 2:52, and its main wave was 12 seconds later, but the tremor continued until 3. Some persons in St. Louis felt the second shock, at 5:43, which lasted two minutes, but there was no general alarm here.

Other places where the seismic shock was felt, according to dispatches, were Kansas City; Peoria, Quincy, Springfield and Decatur, Ill.; Hannibal, Mo., and Evansville, Ind. In no place was any great damage done, but in Jacksonville, Ill., a number of persons rushed out of buildings. At De Soto, Mo., the walls of the public school building were reported to have been cracked.

Excitement in Alton.

In places adjoining Alton it was at first believed that a powder mill or a munitions plant had been blown up, and telephone calls, making inquiries as to the safety of employes of such establishments, continued for more than an hour.

The tremor was felt by hundreds of persons in the 21-story Railway Exchange Building, the Pierce Building and other large downtown structures. The Municipal Courts Building, the Clayton courthouse and several city police stations felt the vibrations. At the Columbia Theater there was alarm in the balcony and gallery and a number of persons went out, but the singer on the stage did not permit her act to be interrupted and most of those on the first floor did not know what the disturbance was about.

At New Madrid, Mo., which in 1811 was the scene of the most destructive earthquake in the recorded history of the Mississippi Valley, yesterday's shock was not felt. The New Madrid earthquake went on intermittently from December, 1811, to the following March, and opened huge fissures in the earth, changing the Mississippi's course and creating the body of water known as Reelfoot Lake, in Tennessee.

NOTE IN BOTTLE TELLS OF SINKING OF SHIP IN 1915

Message From Steward of Old Merchants' and Miners' Steamer Frederick Washed Ashore.

BALTIMORE, April 10.—A bottle containing nine messages of farewell, washed ashore at the Orkney Islands in February, tells briefly of the fate of the Old Merchants' and Miners' steamship Frederick, which left here in December, 1915, and the following month sailed from New York for Archangel, Russia. The messages were set adrift by the crew when the ship was sinking in midocean.

One missive is from George Matthews, steward, who was supposed to have been a Baltimore man. The nine messages were sent to the State Department at Washington by Ambassador Page, and the one written by Matthews was received by Collector of the Port Ryan.

The note is in lead pencil on a scrap of paper, and reads:

"Friends or whom it may concern: We are sinking in midocean, and the captain has deserted us. There are 10 left behind. Faithfully the steward of the ship. Goodbye.

"GEORGE MATTHEWS."

KRONSTADT PREPARING FOR GERMAN NAVAL ATTACK

Russian Fortress Is Controlled by Council Elected by Troops, Who Fly Revolutionary Flag.

KRONSTADT, April 8, via London, April 10.—Kronstadt is feverishly preparing to repel an expected German naval attack when the Gulf of Finland is free of ice. A correspondent of the Associated Press reached the famous island fastness by traveling over the vast ice waste which separates it from the mainland and found the garrison working night and day in anticipation of the long predicted assault.

The fortress is entirely controlled by a council elected by the troops, which is unanimously resolved to defend Russian freedom and territory to the last. The council is equally resolute against fighting for the annexation of foreign territory. One member of the council said that as long as Germany was unwilling to abandon its plans of annexation there was nothing to do but fight.

An impressive sight is offered the visitor to Kronstadt from the walls after dark. At every half mile along the tracks across the ice bonfires flare and in their gleam, the red flags of the revolution can be seen faintly waving. Around the fires the revolutionary soldiers chant the new revolutionary hymn and cheer for the coming of the Russian republic.

TWO FIGHTING DEER KILLED

Maine Hunters Came Upon Bucks in Terrific Combat.

DEXTER, Me., April 10.—Louis Mountain and Edward Poulyllard, while hunting in the woods in the Kingsbury region, came upon two big buck deer engaged in terrific combat, with locked horns. After killing the animals they were obliged to saw off portions of the antlers of one in order to separate the two.

The hunters heard the noise of the fighting long before they reached the scene of it, in a small clearing. The men for some minutes watched the fight before shooting the animals. The ground was torn up and the bark scraped off trees, as the big creatures tore around without taking the slighest notice of the two spectators.

The two deer weighed 400 pounds, and one of them had the finest set of antlers seen in the Maine woods this season.

Earnings of Paroled Convicts.

SALEM, Ore., April 10.—Convicts on parole from the State penitentiary during February earned an average of $52.57 each at his respective employment, according to the report of Parole Officer Keller to Gov. Withycombe. The showing probably is the best showing made by the convicts since the law went into effect. The total amount of earnings for 245 men for the month was $12,757.56.

Their Blood Is Red | Their Blood Is Poor

How Is Your Blood?

Nature has set a standard of living, which every man and woman who would be healthy and happy must follow.

"Sooner or later," says Nature to every person who has disregarded her laws of living, "you must come back to me. I have given you great riches—red blood and all that goes with it; a vigorous body, calm nerves and a clear, able brain. Is it unreasonable that I ask you to care for them as a man or woman should care for great riches? My demands are modest. I ask only for a stomach kept clean with plain food; lungs swept out daily with fresh air; a few minutes of exercise each day so that the brain, muscles and vital organs may be flushed with pure, rich, red blood. If you do not do my bidding, you are no worthy keeper of the great riches I have granted you, and they shall be taken away from you."

Nature is as kind to those who treat her right as she is cruel to those who ignore her. If you are so situated that your habits of living must be more or less irregular, and your blood consequently gets out of order, try

WITNESS IN TRIAL OF HACKMANN ON HER HONEYMOON

Case of State Auditor Goes on Despite Absence of His Former Employe.

WARRENTON, Mo., April 10.—The trial of State Auditor George E. Hackmann, on the charge of fraud in office, based on his alleged trasactions while he was County Clerk of Warren County last year, proceeded this morning, in the absence of one of the chief witnesses, Mrs. Fred C. Tuttle, formerly Miss Addie Delventhal. Mrs. Tuttle, a bride of three weeks, is on her honeymoon journey, and is believed to be out of the State.

Attributes Charge to Politics.

Ten Republicans and two Democrats compose the jury which is hearing the evidence. Hackmann is the only Republican State official, having defeated John P. Gordon at last November's election. He says the charges are the work of political enemies.

Miss Delventhal was employed regularly as assistant in Hackmann's office. August Hummel, who was deputy under Hackmann, and was employed intermittently, is the other principal witness, and he took the stand this morning. The State hoped to establish, without the former Miss Delventhal, the substance of the matter to which she would be required to testify if she were here.

The indictments returned by the Warren County grand jury Jan. 11 charged that Hackmann, in his quarterly reports to the County Court for 1916, certified that he had paid to Hummel and Miss Delventhal, in each quarter, sums larger than he actually did pay them, and that the total difference, for the two employes, amounted to $296.50. It was charged that he certified Hummel's pay through the year as having been $389.50, when it was only $213, and Miss Delventhal's pay as having been $600 when it was $480.

On these allegations, charges of perjury and false affidavits were based, and the charge of fraud in office was on the same basis, it being alleged that, in his settlement with the county, Hackmann retained $296.50 which should have been paid into the treasury, in excess of the amount lawfully due him. The County Clerk's salary is $1250 a year.

Hackmann's lawyers filed a demurrer as to the fraud charge, and this was overruled. He then went to trial on that charge.

ST. LOUIS ARTISTS' PRIZE EXHIBITION OPENS SATURDAY

Awards Will Total $1300; Will Be Held at the Artists' Guild.

A final call has gone out to St. Louis artists to have their paintings and sculpture ready for the annual competitive prize exhibition, which opens at the Artists' Guild Saturday.

One thousand three hundred dollars will be awarded in cash prizes in this exhibition, the greatest prize inducements ever offered to St. Louis art workers to "get busy" and make this city a genuine art center.

The Art League gives the feature prize of $500 for the best work of art in the exhibition and the Chamber of Commerce comes a fine second with a $250 prize for the best painting of a scene in St. Louis.

A special jury will come to St. Louis from Eastern cities to award the honors.

There will be an advance view for members of the Artists' Guild and the Art League on Saturday night, and Sunday the collection will be thrown open to the public.

The Artists' Guild has announced that no entries can be received later than tomorrow.

NEWSPAPERS IN MEXICO CURBED

Issuance of False or Distorted Information Forbidden.

MEXICO CITY, April 10.—A decree was published today providing punishment by a fine up to 500 pesos ($250) or imprisonment from one to 11 months for slander, libel or the issuance of false or distorted information. The decree will go into effect April 15.

Newspaper heads are held strictly accountable and all their employes who handle news including the printing staffs, provided they are cognizant of its character. The decree prohibits malicious expressions calculated to excite hatred of the authorities, the army, national guard or fundamental institutions of the country.

TWO GRAIN ELEVATORS BURNED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 10.—Two grain elevators were destroyed here early today by fires believed to have been incendiary. The loss will be nearly $800,000, it is estimated, fully insured.

National guardsmen patrolling the district reported that in both instances several explosions were heard in the structures before the flames were discovered. More than 100,000 bushels of wheat and 20,000 bushels of corn were destroyed and about 50,000 bushels of grain on sidetracks was damaged by fire and water.

ALASKA DOG TEAM RACE ON

NOME, Alaska, April 6.—The tenth annual all-Alaska sweepstakes dog team race over a course of 412 miles started yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with four men entered. The Bowen-Delzene team, driven by Fay Delzene, was off first and was the first to reach Solomon, covering the 33 miles in three hous and 42 minutes.

Leonard Seppalla, Paul Kjegstad and Martin Anderson were the other starters.

PRESIDENT APPROVES PLANS FOR WOODEN SHIP FLEET

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Shipping Board's program of building a fleet of 1000 wooden ships of 3000 or 3500 tons each to meet the loss of tonnage by submarine warfare and thus help to defeat the German undersea campaign has been formally approved by President Wilson. The first ship will be ready within five months and the board will call upon the Treasury for $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 within the next few days.

Fifty million dollars has been authorized by Congress for the work of the board.

Chairman Denman announces the board's plans had been virtually completed and that the preliminaries to the construction of the big fleet were in full swing. Contracts have been awarded with the builders, arrangements have been virtually completed for the supply of standardized lumber parts, the labor problem has been settled at least partly, and unless there is an unforeseen hitch by October the shipyards on the Atlantic and Pacific will be turning out the new vessels at the rate of two or three a day to be leased to private shipping concerns.

The great fleet will fly the American flag and each vessel sailing to the war zone will be armed. The program calls for the building of 200,000 tons of shipping monthly.

BERLIN REPORTED TO BE BEHIND MOVE FOR PEACE WITH RUSSIA

"Mission" of Socialist Leader Who Has Left Germany Said to Have Government Support.

COPENHAGEN, April 10.—It is announced in Berlin that Philipp Scheidemann, head of the majority Socialists in the Reichstag and a politician close to the Chancellor, has left Germany on "a mission." The nature of this mission is not specified, but there is reason to assume that, since a well-known Russo-German Socialist, known by the pen name of "Parvus," also came abroad, just after the conference of the majority Socialists, which was called to consider the possibilities of the Russian situation. Scheidemann's mission may involve an attempt to open communication with the Russian Socialists and social revolutionists of the extreme school who favor an immediate peace.

It is said the German Government has given its support to the endeavors by an assurance that no general offensive on the Russian front will be undertaken for the time being, in order not to interfere with attempts at fraternization, the army leaders probably considering that the recent drive against the Stokhod bridgehead had only a local bearing.

Fireman Killed in Boiler Explosion.

WAR REALITIES ARE SHOWN AT FRENCH EXHIBIT

Actual Fighting Conditions in Europe Grimly Revealed by Line of Trenches.

HOW THEY ARE BUILT

Bazar Booths and Ball Room in Moolah Temple Also Attract Visitors.

The realities of war are visualized for St. Louisans in many ways by the French War Exhibit, shown in connection with the relief bazar at Moolah Temple, Lindell boulevard and Vandeventer avenue. The exhibit and bazar opened last night under the dual direction of the French Government and the War Relief Society of St. Louis, and will continue through the week.

In bright contrast with the war features of this big show are the softer allurments of the bazar, ranging from gaily decorated booths to the brilliantly lighted ball room, which are all the more to be appreciated after one has been through the real trenches outside.

Real Trenches Are Shown.

These trenches are an exact replica of the type of underground burrow in which the soldiers of the tri-color are fighting and dying "somewhere in France." They have been dug in a lot west of Moolah Temple under the direction of Frenchmen who have seen service at the front. The only variation from strict realism is that the St. Louis trench-farer has a plank walk for footing where the "poilu" must flounder through an ooze of mud.

Descending into the trench by an east gradient of wooden steps, the observer finds himself between walls of solid earth six feet high and four feet apart. Military regulations are strictly followed in the lighting of the trenches—only an occasional latern at the turns—but darkness is no handicap where it is impossible to stray from the straight and narrow path.

In the Trenches.

Throughout the length of the trench the dirt taken from it is piled high at the top on the right hand, or "enemy" side, as an additional protection. After following a zig-zag course for probably 75 yards you come to the first revetment. Here the dirt instead of being piled loose has been packed tightly in wheat sacks which are used to form a barricade 10 feet thick and 20 feet wide. Here the men actually on firing duty are stationed.

At intervals there are portholes for them to shoot through. These are casements of wood, easily made by removing the top and bottom of a packing box. The remaining framework of the box is set in the wall of earth-filled wheat bags just as a mason sets a window frame in a building.

A little further on the trench widens out to 12 feet and here, with a step down into a tunnel about 20 feet long you come to where the hottest of the trench fighting is done—the machine gun post. Here there is an extra-heavy revetment of sacks extending over the heavily timbered roof of the tunnel. On top of this in turn is piled a great mass of brush and foliage to conceal the machine gun position from the enemy.

Room in Solid Earth.

In this machine gun tunnel the first glimpse of a creature comfort is seen. There are rough wooden benches for the use of the men in the periods of relief from service at the gun.

Leaving the tunnel and stepping into the narrow trench again there is a sharp turn to the left. Here there is a long line of portholes for the riflemen. Then you step into an underground room and receive your first impression as to how the trench soldier lives. It is a room about 20 feet square carved in the solid earth.

This is the bunk room. It has the extra protection of a timbered roof with revetment covering. But there is little else to recommend it as an inviting place to sleep. The beds are long box-like bunks built along the damp earth wall. The men pile into these "sleeping troughs" with their clothing on at the end of the fighting day.

Kitchen Also Under Ground.

A door cut through the earth from the bunkroom opens into the mess room and kitchen. The messroom's only furniture is a long board table, flanked with benches. Here, from tin cups and dishes, the fighting men take their meals. The kitchen is a smaller room with a meat-cutting table a few pots and pans.

Not all of the cooking for the units in the trenches is done here, as much of the food is prepared on the "soup wagons" back of the line and transported to the trenches at night. Boy Scouts are the guides for visitors to the trenches, and to make the illusion stronger, men in French uniforms are scattered through the trenches.

On the grounds outside the building and in the basement of Moolah Temple are interesting war exhibits. These are guns actually brought from the battlefield. Among them are French 75-millimeter guns and captured German field pieces, ammunition of all sorts, including giant shells, aeroplanes, gas bombs, mortar bombs and similar engines of destruction. The aeroplane in which Pegoud, the great French aviator, lost his life, is one of the features of the exhibit.

Battle of Combles in Movies.

The moving pictures or actual fighting on the Western front are intensely interesting. In all 25 reels are to be exhibited in the course of the week. Last night the battle of Combles was shown. Big guns are seen in action. The French army is seen in a charge and German soldiers are seen coming in by the hundreds, exhausted, seemingly dazed and ready to surrender. The review of the troops after the battle is shown.

The bazar features are many and varied. The booths are in charge of women well known in social circles and there are many devices to win contributions for a worthy cause. The proceeds are to be divided equally between the St. Louis branch of the Red Cross and the French War Relief Society.

Chalmers 7-Passenger Touring Car—Price $1350 Detroit

Chalmers Sets New Mark
In Flexibility and Economy

Speed is a matter of state and city laws—not of motors. Why, then, pay for racing or semi-racing machines which fret and fume at legal limits? Why is not the car of wide flexibility and moderate top speed the sensible car to buy? In Chicago, during the 24 hours from noon March 26 to noon March 27 a Chalmers 7-passenger stock touring car set a new mark for flexibility and economy. It traversed the dense "loop" traffic of Chicago, using high gear only, without stop of motor, attained a total of 586.8 miles and reeled off 14 miles to every gallon of gas. The Contest Board of the A. A. A. certifies to these facts.

Here is a car capable of highest sane speed. That operated perfectly on high gear even from a standing start at a traffic officer's signal. That ran like a watch for 24 hours and could have run an indefinitely longer time. That made the startlingly economical figure of 14 miles to the gallon of gas. That was in as perfect condition at the end of this grind as at the beginning. Had there been hills to climb it would have shown equal capacity there. And this car can be bought for a price several hundred dollars less than others that have shown no such flexibility or city economy.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Something New in the World.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Little comment has been made on what is the most pregnant and original phrase in the proclamation of the provisional government in Russia: "It assures liberty and equality for the free use of spiritual forces to create for the benefit of the country."

This is something new in the world. In the solemn moment of the rise of a great people to light and power, politics for once touches the source of all things—the free use of spiritual forces to create.

This striking recognition should bring forth results hitherto unknown in the relations of men. And is it not already doing so? When to a terrific war is added a tremendous revolution, amid a population largely of Tatar breed, surely chaos might be looked for. On the contrary, the complete overthrow of what seemed the strongest and most despotic of our governments has been accomplished through the mildest of means; and men are content to express their new freedom by wandering through the streets singing. The new state, grown under the crushing constriction of accumulated tyranny, discloses itself very simply as an irresistible living force. It reminds one of the story of the concrete pavement riven asunder by the soft potency of life in a gigantic mushroom breaking through every obstacle to light.

After such a beginning, we may fairly look to Russia for a state providing conditions new in the world; a state whose controlling thought shall be the welfare of all, working out to the welfare of each.

LEONORA B. HALSTED.

Says St. Louis Banks Lack Courtesy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I entirely agree with the boy who wrote the letter headed "Financing Young Men." I lived in Chicago a long time and have also lived in St. Louis. If it were not necessary, I would not remain over night in St. Louis.

I know nothing about borrowing money from the St. Louis banks. I have borrowed money from the Chicago banks frequently, but I never had the nerve to try to borrow from the banks here. One cannot get even courtesy from them. I have withdrawn my account from two different banks here on account of men who snap and bark at one from the barred windows of their cages. I have an idea that those bars were put their for my protection.

MRS. KNOWLES.

"Guarding the Free Bridge."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The writer has read with considerable amusement the letter of "Ex-Soldier-98" in the Post-Dispatch, calling the attention of the authorities to the fact that he was not challenged, questioned and searched by the guardsman doing duty at the St. Louis approach to the free bridge last Sunday night.

Despite Ex-Soldier's service and experience, it occurs to me that he has a great deal to learn in regard to police powers of the national guard as now constituted. This community is not under martial law, and all the guardsmen can do is exercise ordinary police power, such as our metropolitan police employ. They are not accustomed to stopping, questioning and searching law-abiding citizens who are in the pursuit of their legitimate business or pleasure.

Our national guardsmen have proven themselves efficient, and it is my firm belief that any bomb throwing or other malicious destruction of property would be immediately circumvented in a manner most disastrous to the perpetrators of such crimes.

Ex-Soldier's complaint would, no doubt, have been long and loud had he been stopped and questioned, so let us all patriotically put our shoulder to the wheel and "boost" our valiant boys of the national guard, instead of unduly criticising them in the discharge of their duty. They have sprung to the colors to defend us with their life blood if necessary.

EX-SOLDIER, '61 to '65.

Thinks Igoe Voted Right.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A few lines in behalf of our esteemed friend, William Igoe, who expresses the thought of the people he represents. As he says, "the people I represent do not want war." This is true Americanism. He is very far-sighted, reliable and deserving. He is in touch with the people of his district and expresses their ideas. I think this proves that he is very broad. All Congressmen should act along these lines: "Do my people want war or not?" In acting this way they cannot go wrong. Praise to he who gives some consideration to those who are helpless.

L. R. MURHLING,

DOWN WITH SPECULATORS.

The conference called by Secretary Houston in this city to devise measures for increasing food production during the war is prudent and opportune.

Whatever is done to avert the danger of crop shortage must be done within the next 60 days. By the end of that time plowing and planting must be finished. Human initiative will have done all it can to relieve a condition of peril in inadequate yields when it has procured the cultivation of an increase in acreage commensurate with the probable increase in demand. After that the outcome must be left to the weather.

Loans at low interest for the purchase of seed and breeding animals, Government supervision at many stages, detailed information as to the kind of crops likely to return the greatest rewards and supply the most urgent national needs will all be of assistance.

Perhaps a Government guarantee of a reasonable minimum price to farmers for staple products and even a minimum wage for farm laborers will be justified. In view of the unsatisfactory condition reported in the winter wheat acreage an enormous increase in the spring wheat acreage is imperative.

But Government forethought for the feeding of the nation at war should not stop with these admirable measures. The scandalous range of prices, not only since but before the declaration of war, is proof that the rapacity of speculators is limitless.

Only a part of the prices the housewife now has to pay represents a legitimate advance. The rest is represented by the tribute of extortioners who have been taking advantage of the people's necessities and who may be expected to take a still more merciless advantage as the war goes on.

Some system of control over the price of necessities has become imperative. Even if we put an army of 2,000,000 or more men in the field, no material advance in present unprecedented living costs would be justified, though it would be seized on by the speculators as a plausible excuse for an advance. These man would have to be maintained if they were out of the army. They would be drawn from the agricultural classes only in proportion to the quotas drawn from other classes and the special measures planned will make their loss on the farms relatively less felt.

Of what avail will it be to provide cheap loans and supervision by experts and minimum prices for farmers and a minimum wage for farm help, if the augmented crops made available only supply the market riggers with increased material with which to wring profits of infamy from the consumer?

Instructed in this as in other respects from the experience of the nations already in the war, we should regulate price fixing and distribution from the very beginning of our own conflict.

A GREAT SECRETARY OF STATE.

Richard Olney was Attorney-General in 1893-95 and became Secretary of State on the death of Walter Q. Gresham. In both these great offices he measured up to the standard of a long line of able predecessors and established firmly his reputation as by far the strongest man associated in any capacity with the second Cleveland administration.

The form of government by injunction of which his adoption of a controverted legal view made him the official father has since been drastically modified by statute, but it showed during a general railroad strike 24 years ago that power adequate to any danger is lodged in Washington, something many had previously doubted. In the history of the development of the Monroe Doctrine he will have a place that will always be gratefully remembered as the principle on which that doctrine was founded continues to gain greater validity and prevalence throughout the world.

He held that the inhibition of that principle on the extension of the establishments and dominions of European Powers in this hemisphere could be invoked in the case of an attempted grab of territory in upholding pretended or at least wholly ex-parte claims in a boundary dispute. Soundness, vigor and a fine legal quality characterized his conduct of the negotiations over the Venezuela incident which gave rise to our most serious foreign crisis in the years between the adjustment of the Alabama claims and the war with Spain.

His stalwart Americanism commanded respect at home and abroad. World events are likely to increase appreciation of his service as time goes on.

THE ANNIVERSARY OF GROTIUS.

Today is the 334th anniversary of the birth of Hugo Grotius, the "Father of International Law," at Delft, Holland. It was he who first gave to the world a complete treatise on the laws of peace and war, in De Jure Belli et Pacis, published during his exile in Paris in 1625.

It has been asserted that no book, with the single exception of the Bible, has exerted a more profound influence upon the moral progress of the world. It was written in 1623 in revolt against the horrors of the Thirty Years' War. It was not intended as peace propaganda, but it was a sublime appeal to the elemental virtues of man. It was an evangel of a new humanity.

"I saw throughout the world," he says in his introduction, "a license at warring at which even barbarians might blush; wars commenced on trifling pretexts, or none at all, and prosecuted without reverence for any law, human or divine, as if that one declaration of war let loose every crime."

"Let the laws of peace be silent in the midst of arms," he says, "but those only which belong to peace; not such as are eternal and fitted for all seasons, such as nature dictates and the consent of nations establishes."

Statesmen and soldiers, surfeited with human tragedies, eagerly sought and studied the book. It did not restrain the besiegers at Magdeburg in 1631, where Count von Tilly's army cut the throats of 18,500 men, women and children out of a population of 20,000, but it did influence Gustavus Adolphus. After his fall at Lutzen in 1632 a copy of De Jure Belli et Pacis was found under the pillow of the bed where he had slept.

Until the present great war was forced upon the world by Germany, it had been felt that the fine hopes of Grotius had been realized in the universal acceptance of the laws of civilized warfare, as a code of positive binding force. All modern wars supported this conclusion. Japan in 1904 revealed to the world that even in a bitter and gigantic struggle the laws of civilized warfare may be scrupulously observed without loss to military efficiency.

Half the military power of Europe is now battling to wreck this sanctuary of public law, so laboriously erected upon the foundations laid by Grotius, and to re-establish the primitive doctrine that a powerful state owes no "reverence to any law, human or divine" in furthering its "national evolution."

That is the plain issue—whether the three centuries of moral progress since the time of Grotius is to be swept away.

With the capture of Lens the British may see their way clear to drive the Germans out of France.

THE SAFETY OF THE NATION.

Failure on the part of Congress to assure the training for service of an adequate army will be criminal neglect of the safety of the nation. There must be assurance; any uncertain makeshift, depending upon the volunteer system, might be fatal. It might place us in both a shameful as well as a disastrous predicament.

The great trained force ready for service ought not only to be assured, but the conscription of the men should be accomplished on the selective principle. Without the selective draft we might impair the industrial efficency of the country, which is as important as our military efficiency.

Under either the volunteer system or the indiscriminate draft, men would be taken for field service who are needed in industrial, professional and commercial work. We cannot rob the factories, the farms, the transportation system and the expert professional corps to obtain soldiers without inviting disaster. The men selected for training and service in the field should be chosen from those who can best be spared from other activities and who are without dependents.

They should be selected from every class of the population—rich and poor alike. There should be no opportunity for slackers.

Men as well as money and munitions are necessaries of war. We cannot rely upon any system except an obligatory selective system. As well talk of volunteer taxation as of volunteer enlistment to supply the needs of modern war. Great Britain's disastrous experience is our lesson.

This is what the President has in view when he declares that the safety of the nation depends upon congressional action on this subject. Congressmen who falter in response to slacker sentiment menace the country's safety.

Austria-Hungary having broken relations with the United States, it is probable that the other vassals of the Kaiser, Bulgaria and Turkey, will follow suit. This will enable democracy to complete the work of freedom at one stroke.

HIS GRANDFATHER'S ROAD.

With accumulating evidence being brought home to the German people that the military autocracy in control has made of their country an international Ishmael, it was only prudent that, following President Wilson's fresh indictment, the Kaiser should talk reform.

The Kaiser's order to Von Bethmann-Hollweg of April 7 "to assist in obtaining the fulfillment of the demands of this hour by right means at the right time," can hardly fill the German liberals with any great hope. The closing paragraph of the manifesto is even less promising. It says:

> The principles which you have developed in this respect have, as you know, my approval. I feel conscious of remaining thereby on the road which my grandfather, the founder of the empire, as King of Prussia, with military organization, and as German Emperor, with social reforms, typically fulfilled.

When William II thus speaks of his grandfather, William I, the world understands that he is really speaking of Otto von Bismarck, the able and devoted Chancellor, who would "rather perish with the King than forsake your majesty in the contest with parliamentary government."

Bismarck found William I, King of Prussia, on the verge of abdication in 1862, so insistent were the demands of the people for a share in the Government. He immediately resorted to measures of stern repression, declaring:

> The Prussian crown must not allow itself to be thrust into the powerless position of the English crown, which seems more like a smartly decorated cupola on the state edifice than its central pillar of support, as I consider ours.

By 1871 Bismarck had made the Prussian King Emperor of Germany.

The two achievements—military organization and social reform—to which William II makes boastful reference, inspire very little praise among non-German observers. The militarization of Prussia was accomplished in 1860, through a defiance of a Parliament which refused to vote the money. Bismarck then raised it in spite of them.

The social reforms were hastily undertaken in 1881, after two attempts had been made on the autocrat's life. Repression had failed; some expedient other than self-government must be found; and old-age, sickness and accident insurance laws were passed, as an alternative to electoral reforms. They demanded votes; he gave them insurance.

It remains to be seen whether German liberals will permit the Emperor to remain on this road.

Germany can best understand how opposition to it has spread through the world by observing the case of Brazil. The South American country is flooded with German business houses, German banks, in fact, everything that is foreign in Brazil has been German. Yet that country is planning a declaration of war against the Kaiser.

DOING HIS BIT.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McAdams

MR. ANTWINE ON THE FOOD SUPPLY.

"IF the Government wants the people to raise food, the best thing it can do is to take over the seed supply and put it within the people's reach," Mr. Antwine said.

"Seed potatoes at three and four dollars a bushel, with other prices to match, are the greatest obstacle just now to the Government plan. It would be better to give the people free seed than to have land that might otherwise be cultivated go unproductive at this time.

"Let us suppose that a man has twenty acres he can put in potatoes, but is without the capital to buy the seed. Is he going to render the aid in the present crisis that he could render if the seed were given him or in some way advanced? No.

"I am sorry Secretary Houston didn't stop off here at Bald Knob to see us. We can tell him how food might be made so abundant in this country that we could feed ourselves and our allies as well."

It is nice of the women to insist that Miss Rankin's refusal to meet the expectations of the country is not to be taken as an indication of what every woman would do; but as long as Miss Rankin is the only representative of her sex in Congress, we can only judge of that matter by what she did. We may be sure that had there been but one man in Congress and he had failed to stand by the country in a pinch, he would be well scratched up by this time.

Committing himself to the direct and secret ballot is not going to get the Kaiser off in this rather widespread unpleasantness. He will have to commit himself to the pittomless bot.

Col. Roosevelt's impatience is natural enough. He has been mobilized for a couple of years.

Gen. Carranza could easily shame some of his critics by declaring war on Germany.

UNCLE SAM.

SEE that tall man, with stars upon his hat
And coat and trousers striped with red and white,
With piercing eye and pointed beard? Well, that Is Uncle Sam. He will not seek a fight,
Would rather suffer long to keep the peace,
And never dodges at a random shot;
But after patience and forbearance cease
To bear the fruit of virtue, he is not Responsible for what transpires. And when
He shuts his teeth, rolls up his sleeves and bows
His neck in righteous indignation, then,
Be they deceitful friends or honest foes
Who try to scare or capture this old scout—
Well, all we have to say is this—LOOK OUT!

THE KAISERHOF.

The Kaiserhof Hotel in Chicago has become the Atlantic, "to emphasize our Americanism," says Ernest Teich, a manager. One can scarcely believe that this would make a difference in the business of the hotel, but the management probably knows best. Personally we don't think anyone would put sand in the bed or that prejudice would attach to the house upon the part of those who do not believe in the way the Germans make war; but war is attended by a host of fears and doubts. The German-American Alliance made its rendezvous at the Kaiserhof during the Republican Convention of last June, and there at the hour of the nightcap many of us labored with those who saw no difference between England's violations of our rights and those of Germany. That is a differentiation, indeed, which is not often admitted by the Potsdammers. Whether our mails are opened or our people are killed made no difference at all around the lobby of the Kaiserhof those nights in June to a great many vociferous sympathisers with the Central Powers, and it was probably the heat of that argument through every night for a week that transfused the Kaiserhof into the Atlantic. However, the scene much more resembles the Stage Back than the Atlantic at that time

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

LAW POINTS.

R.—"Without recourse" are words used by an indorser of negotiable paper to give notice that payment cannot be exacted from him.

NEXT DOOR NEIGHBOR.—You have no right to use the adjoining lot for gardening without permission from owner.

MRS. JOY.—Your question is one to be decided by the landlord or his agent, to whom you should complain, and who should divide the yard by fence the full length of yard.

COLLINS.—Illinois law provides that every person buying, receiving or aiding in concealing stolen goods, knowing them to have been stolen, shall be imprisoned not less than 1 nor more than 10 years; if goods do not exceed the value of $15, the criminal is fined not exceeding $1000 and imprisoned in jail not exceeding 1 year.

J. R. P.—The collateral inheritance tax upon the remainder in question need not be paid until death of life tenant, at which time the remainderman comes into possession; provided, however, that remainderman make a full verified return of the property to Probate Judge and file same within 1 year from death of decedent and within that period of time give a bond conditioned for the payment of the tax at such time or period as the right of possession shall accrue to such remainderman, and failure to comply as above makes tax immediately payable and collectible on clear market value of estate after deducting value of the life estate or estate for years.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ROT.—Stamp rot, Mar. 28.

ALCOHOL.—Phone Max Gottschalk.

AMERICAN.—American ships pay canal toll.

J. H. W.—See answers of Sunday last for Kaiser relationship.

A. B. C.—Any child born in United States is an American citizen.

ROOKIE.—Write Washington University about learning wireless telegraphy.

P.-D. READER.—We have no Japanese children's games. You might try Public Library.

T. J. H.—St. Charles bridge accidents were in 1879 and 1881. We do not recall day and hour.

ANXIOUS PERSON.—No law-abiding person is likely to get into trouble in the United States during the war.

S. J.—The President, as commander in chief, may call out the army and navy; Congress only can declare war.

RESPECTFULLY.—Phone Board of Children's Guardians (Municipal Courts phone) about Missouri widow pensions.

READER.—Soldier who deserted in time of peace might possibly be admitted to the army in war. It might depend upon our war needs.

G. H.—Federal Reserve Banks are intended to give elasticity to our currency, prevent panics, etc. (Honolulu, Capital of the Hawaiian Islands.)

AMERICAN.—By writing to "Adjutant-General of the Army, Washington, D. C.," you would get full information as to army requirements.

FLO.—Try writing Mrs. Frank V. Hammer, 7 Hortense place, chairman Executive Committee of St. Louis branch Red Cross Society.

C. S.—Mid-ocean is not within the limits of the United States. All children born of American parents outside United States limits and jurisdiction are Americans.

SWOPE.—The aristocrats of Europe have not dodged the war. Why should the so-called American aristocrats? Don't worry about the newspaper people, either.

X. Y. Z.—Gifts for graduates are sent to home or auditorium where exercises are held, on day of commencement exercises proper. Generally valuable gifts are sent to house, flowers and congratulatory telegrams to school or auditorium.

EBER.—Third finger of right hand being off would not exclude you from the army. After a successful operation for hernia you would be accepted for service. There has been just such an operation recently at Jefferson Barracks and the recruit is recovering.

DEFENDER.—Au. 29, 1916, Congress authorized the President to undertake, prior to July 1, 1919, the construction of 156 naval vessels and 1 coast-defense submarine. The list includes 10 battleships, 10 scout cruisers, 50 torpedo-boat destroyers, 58 submarines. See Sunday Post-Dispatch Magazine, Mar. 25.

H. B.—If man is active, has firm muscles, and is evidently vigorous and healthy, the following figures will admit him to the regular army:

| HEIGHT. | Chest at Expiration. | Weight. |
|---|---|---|
| 64 and under 68 inches | 2 inches. | 2 lbs. |
| 68 and under 69 inches | 2 inches. | 5 lbs. |
| 69 and under 70 inches | 2 inches. | 15 lbs. |
| 70 and upward | 2 inches. | 20 lbs. |

ANXIOUS.—In war times there is a possibility that every able-bodied man will have to serve in the army or navy. All depends upon the necessities of the country. In our great Civil War many of the able-bodied men were drafted, great as was the need for soldiers, and there were some regiments that never smelled powder. This was said of the 30th Michigan Infantry.

DOWNHEARTED.—Whether "a young man of 20 years would have to serve when drafting is done, who has a widowed mother, whose health is poor, also a sister whose health is such that she cannot work, and having two other sisters who do not earn sufficient to take care of themselves and their dependent mother and sister," cannot be known before a conscription law is enacted.

V. M. R.—Mrs. Andrew Brandenburger, 60 years old, of 4062 Botanical avenue, wife of a notary public, swam 2½ miles in the Mississippi in one hour, Sunday, Sept. 12, 1911, and emerged from the water at the wharf of the Century Boat Club, 5408 South Broadway, greeted by a throng of admirers, waving of hats and handkerchiefs and music by a band. In 1910 she swam 5 miles in 2 hours. In Creve Coeur Lake, Aug. 13, 1911, Jack Williams, aged 72, swam 100 yards with his arms tied.

BIG FAMILY.—Giddap! Meat eaters will find horseflesh for sale at 1362 South Broadway. Europe has been eating it for many years. Many Parisians declare they prefer horse meat, and it is a fact that one-fifth of the sausages over there are made from it. Any market reporter knows that cooks from well-to-do mansions patronize horsemeat shops and enter beef prices on their expense accounts and are never detected. The Health Department buys 1700 pounds of horse meat daily for raw meat diet for invalids. The records show that only four of the 57,000 horses killed for meat in one year were rejected because of tuberculosis. Donkey meat is highly praised by many meat eaters and mule meat has its followings. All declare that if these animals were well fattened, their flesh would far excel that of beef cattle. (Don't show this to a vegetarian.)

What Every Woman Finds Out

By Helen Rowland.

THE OTHER DAY
I went to hear a lecture on "How to Be Young Forever."
And it was wonderful!
All you need is faith, and hope, and oxygen, and oranges, and lettuce—and love.
So on my way home I ordered the oranges and lettuce,
(And a box of beauty cream, and a book on reducing, and a forget-me-not picture hat with a pink rose in it.)
And then I went to stroll in the park—for the oxygen.
And then I came upon a pair of lovers, sitting on a green bench
Holding hands.
I do not remember whether they were 40 or 20—only that they seemed radiantly YOUNG!
And all of a sudden I knew that it was spring—
And that I had stumbled upon the very heart of the secret of Eternal Youth.
Sometimes
I think that we are all Ponce de Leons, in our mad pursuit of youth—
And in our foolish visionary methods of trying to find it.
HE sought it in a fountain—
And WE seek it frantically, in a box or a bottle, or a new system of exercises,
At the druggist's or the beauty parlor or the hot springs!
Yet here it is, all the time, in the eyes of a pair of lovers
On a park bench.
Because, Age is not a matter of the body, but of the soul—
Not a matter of gray hair and a wrinkled face,
But of gray hopes and shrivelled enthusiasm—
Not a matter of hardening of the arteries, but of ossification of the heart!
And we may think it awfully chic to be cynical and blasé,
And decidedly clever to have the muscles of the heart under perfect control,
And to boast of our immunity from love and spring dalliance,
And to look upon marriage as a deal rather than as an IDEAL.
BUT, if you have stopped falling in love,
And are just contented with making money, and wearing clothes, and riding in motor cars, and eating asparagus and strawberries out of season,
You are exchanging the Kohinoor of youth
For a handful of glass beads.
For love is the wine of youth!
It makes the world go 'round and the heart go 'round and the head go 'round—
But it keeps the years FROM going 'round!
Ponce de Leon traveled the world over to find it in a fountain
When he might have found it right in his own HEART!
So if you are old and dull and cynical,
And want to know how it feels to be young and wise, and radiant,
Just remember that it's Spring—and cherry-blossom time in the heart—
And "obey that impulse!"
Fall in love!

Simple Devices for Household Economy

EVER more and more colleges and universities are endeavoring to work out for the homemaker systems which will enable her to be more businesslike in the management of her home. Among rather interesting experiments along this line are some hints from the University of Wisconsin, in its home economics course, of the university extension division.

There are numerous elaborate systems known as the budget plan, but those outlined by the course seem rather less complicated than others. There is the envelope cash system, for people who live simply and pay cash for everything. When the monthly salary comes in, enough is put into the bank to cover the fixed expenses, and then cash to cover current expenses is placed in separate weekly envelopes. The weekly envelope can be further divided into other envelopes, with the headings, "Meat," 'Carfare,' etc. The cash envelopes can be carried to market and purchases paid from them, if it is desired. Items of expenditure can be jotted down on the back of the envelopes, and, at the end of the month, these can be sorted and registered in a yearly account book.

Rather than have no system at all, a check book method is desirable. It is almost automatic. After starting a checkbook account at the bank, pay all bills by check, filling in the corresponding stubs. A check becomes all the receipt necessary in paying bills. These returned checks, with the receipted bills, filed in an ordinary 25-cent bill file, give a safeguard against paying the same bill twice. A summary from the stubs can be registered in the yearly expense book, to aid in making out the following year's budget. This is not a good system for the "penny-wise people," but an excellent one for the "pound-foolish" ones. The poorest system, kept accurately from year to year, is better than the most perfect system kept only intermittently.

There is still the simple account-book system. A small ruled account book can be bought with such headings as "Groceries," "Fuel," "Amusements," etc. Register all items, and, at the end of every week or month, total the column, subtract from initial amount and ascertain the amount on hand. Save all sale slips and receipted bills. Such an account will tell you just how you have spent every penny. It will compare two items for you at a glance, and you can see if it is a meat or grocery item that is pulling up your bills. It will compare all the items of this month with the same items last month, so that you can instantly find out the cause of any increase. It will show the small leaks in your business.

"For a housekeeper with a large family of varied interests, or for a housemother who loves to save clippings, pamphlets, plans and memoranda of a very miscellaneous nature, a vertical filing system offers many advantages. It may consist of merely one drawer, perhaps 10 inches high by 12, or it may be deeper or larger.

"The cabinet is divided into sections by means of large cards bearing the general headings required, such as 'Family Clothing,' 'Music,' 'Family Books,' 'Children's Occupations,' 'Bills,' 'School Helps,' etc. Between these cards of division are kept series of folders of stiff manila paper. One edge of the open folder projects one-fourth of an inch above the other, thus leaving room for the subheading.

"In these folders are placed clippings, lists, pictures—anything, in fact, that is not bulky. In other words, this cabinet does not direct to data, as a small card cabinet would * * * but it holds the documents themselves—a much simpler method. In looking for a paper, glance at the general card heading, then select the proper folder, which may be lifted out and the contents scanned for the desired memoranda or list or whatever it may be.

"One housekeeper has worked out an elaborate system, using large manila envolopes. She heads one series 'Meats,' 'Groceries,' 'Repairs,' 'Heat and Light,' etc., under the general topic of 'Household Accounts.' The topic 'Library' has lists, brief summaries of books read, list of books desired, books to buy as gifts, books lent, etc. 'Family Sizes' (shoes, gloves, etc.) is another important topic, although one which changes rapidly when the children are growing. The envelope labeled 'House Hints' is always filled to overflowing with clippings from current magazines, and 'The Garden' envelope contains clippings, addresses, and even packets of seeds. Memoranda are jotted down in regular order across the face of the envelope. The system is not so businesslike as the vertical file, but it requires no wooden drawer, as a series of cardboard filing boxes hold the envelopes nicely."

Still another device is offered from the experience of another housewife, which is also helpful, for it hits the needs of a variety of conditions. Another woman has derived a great amount of pleasure and profit from her large series of scrapbooks. They are all of the 'Mark Twain' gummed scrapbook style, as this is so time-saving. One book holds the summaries of household finances for the past 20 years. * * * Another preserves the children's kodak pictures, locks of baby's hair, etc. * * * Another, a few choice letters, congratulatory notes, theater programs, the children's sayings, descriptions of journeys, etc. The book is a sort of diary with original documents. Other books preserve games and puzzles."

Still another system of filing, and one that may appeal strongly to many women, because it is so easily made and taken care of, and takes up space on doors not so often utilized, is one used by a practical Western housewife. On her pantry door she has tacked up a set of bags; two pices of strong paper are divided into compartments by strips of cotton cloth, tacked to form the sized pockets desired. Into these she puts her bills, clippings, and any article she may wish quickly to consult in her kitchen. On the door of her living room closet, she has a set of pockets made by stitching together any strong cloth, cretonne denim, or khaki, at the edges, and double stitching the pockets. She then cuts a slip for an opening, and binds it with tape. Into this she puts any clippings or notes she wishes to use in that part of the house. On her bedroom doors she has similar bags, into which she puts her bed linen, underwear and towels.

These devices are especially convenient for those living in small apartments or single rooms, where every inch of space counts.

Original Designs for the Home Dressmaker

BY MILDRED LODEWICK

SO much talk about Paris fashion openings and imported Paris models seems like a joke to one acquainted with the inner workings of the fashion world, who knows that Paris does not direct our styles. The very fact of their showing so many varied silhouettes in one season, each exploited by a different house, should be sufficient even to a layman to prove the fallacy of giving Paris credit for the style that American women happen to adopt.

Further proof of the lack of influence which Paris is credited to have may be cited in the failure of the barrel skirt which Paris introduced the first of the year.

Our own American designers are the foremost dictators of fashions in America. Paris fashion creators never have understood our American way of dressing, and consequently the garments they design for us are positively unsuited, first, to our personalities, and, secondly, to our environments and requirements. This is particularly true of daytime apparel. I do not mean to insinuate that there are not many extremely lovely imported models, but I have seen equally beautiful home productions.

ATTRACTIVE SUIT OF PRACTICAL DESIGN.

The suit in this picture has an individual charm which makes it particularly acceptable to the bride who likes her clothes to have a "different" look. The buttons which trim the hip line serve the added purpose of fastening secret pockets, and the vest, which starts out with the best of intentions, finishes most informally in a scarf, with two fringed ends. These offer a delightful trimming to the front of the plain skirt.

Worthy of note is the unusual character of the band which trims the sleeve. After trimming the lower edge, it drops loose from the sleeve and entwines itself around the wrist, where it buttons and forms a trim little cuff.

The back view shows how effectively striped goods may be employed for this model.

Slipware and What It Is

THE student of English earthenware, in contrast to the collector of English porcelain, is able to traverse centuries into remote historical periods, for the most part, however, leaving to the antiquarian the Romano-British and Saxon productions. The collector of earthenware casts longing eyes upon the beautiful Cistercian tiles, at one time much neglected, but nowadays sufficiently appreciated to make their acquisition a considerable difficulty, and then he passes on to the so-called slipware period of the sevententh century.

As several writers have explained how the potter's term for semi-liquid clay came to be known as "slip," and by what means he so cleverly used this as a method of decoration, it is not necessary here to enter into his technicalities, says a writer in the Queen. Fortunately for purposes of subsequent identification, these skilled men of the seventeenth century frequently dated, inscribed with legends, or added their names to many of their productions.

The natural colors of the clay—the very dark brown manganese and the rich yellow glazes—resulted in an artistic harmony of coloring which rendered the pieces of slipware singularly appropriate as decorative objects when arranged upon the old oak furniture of their period. From the dated and lettered examples, it is known that the earliest school of English slipware was undoubtedly that of Wrotham, in Kent; from thence pieces exist in our various museum bearing dates ranging from 1612 to 1717, and these dates are found upon posset pots, tygs, candesticks, etc.

Staffordshire, however, claims preeminence for the manufacture of the important circular dishes, which vary in sizes from 22½ inches to the uncommon specimens of only five or six inches diameter. As Thomas Toft is acknowledged to have been the first potter who conceived the idea of making these beautiful dishes, his name has become somewhat of a generic term. He had, however, several contemporaries whose work compares favorably with that of the master.

War and the Home Woman

By Sophie Irene Loeb

SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

A SHORT time ago I wrote an article on "What Women Can Do If War Comes." Since that time many letters have been received from mothers and other stay-at-home women, the one query being, "What Can I Do When War Is Here?"

There are thousands of women who cannot go forth to fight in a public way, mothers of children and homemakers of the race; women who are not in business and who cannot help get recruits or who may not themselves take an active part in the actual activities of war.

To such women I repeat their big work—their part in the coming conflict lies right at the hearthstone. And when all is said, this is the greatest work of all.

It is not always the individual who faces the firing line but who braves the battle of living that contributes a large share in the entire scheme. Now is the time for preparedness—preparedness in the home.

The first, last and most important principle of preparedness for woman is to cultivate calmness. In that one attribute lies not only the welfare of the woman herself but all those about her.

By continuing this attribute from day to day she can control a little army all her own.

It was the element of calmness that made Joan of Arc and her example to thunder down the ages for 500 years.

It is calmness that marked the martyrs who made possible a better life for those who followed them. It is calmness that is influencing the women of France and Belgium today to till the fields and take up man's work wherever necessary.

It is calmness that is going to keep us going in the even tenor of our ways, although we may be at war. This can be done if every woman refuses to be scared into a state of mind which will cause trouble not only to herself but her family.

The first way to be calm is to subdue fear. Remember that the prospective enemy is thousands of miles away. Understand that Uncle Sam has well filled coffers of gold and can stand the strain for a long time.

Realize that there are great minds in Washington who are working overtime to save you unnecessary trouble. All they ask is for you to work along lines to keep peace at your home.

Following are a few suggestions by which the woman of the home may help:

Don't let every little thing worry you.

Practice economy and promote the spirit of saving.

Learn the values of common foods as to the nourishing properties and how to make them attractive and appetizing.

Teach the school children to respect all nationalities.

Put the ban on any children's quarrels in connection with race or creed.

When war talk becomes heated calm it down.

Don't think war all the time and seek wholesome amusement with the children whenever possible.

If any of your family become soldiers, don't weep, but be soldier-like.

Don't envy the woman on the battlefield; you can be a heroine at home.

Don't believe startling rumors, but cultivate getting facts first and then face them.

Don't criticise your friends. This is a time for sisterly love as well as soldierly spirit.

Don't take sides with any country but your own; none should quarrel with his or her bread and butter.

In a word, be AMERICAN.

The fundamental principle of Americanism is to keep cool.

The Corduroys of the Season

CORDUROYS bid fair to be as popular as ever this year, and they are blossoming forth in all the new colors and decorative schemes of the new season's styles. The favorite wale seems to be of the quarter-inch width. Much newer than the plain colors are the corduroys adorned with decorations like the new sport silks, the round and square medallions and the broad stripes. These decorations are sometimes in a combination of several colors, giving the designs a broken effect; or, again, they are all in one color.

The stripes resemble the Chinese system of writing. The square and circular ornamentations are also Chinese in effect, and never solid. A white corduroy has an effective design in bright rose pink, another in a soft but pronounced old blue, still another in bright orange. A tan ground has both square and circular Chinese figures in bright blue.

These new corduroys make up into most attractive sport suits. A suit of white corduroy, with both of those round and square Chinese decorations, in a bright Chinese pink, is exceedingly smart. The collar is of deep pink silk to match the color in the design, and the pockets are topped with a three-cornered band of the same silk, a rather heavy, corded silk. The points of the pocket tops and the corners of the collar are decorated pleasingly with the round medallions, cut out of the corduroy and appliqued on. The coat has a narrow, loose belt, with sash ends, which are finished off with tassels. These are twists of the corduroy which, with little balls covered with the plain pink silk, form odd little flowers. A stock of the silk, with a soft tie arranged on the order of those that women frequently wear with riding habits, is shown with this suit.

To Clean White Felt Hats

THE young woman who is fond of wearing white felt hats says that she cleans hers by rubbing it all over carefully with a block of magnesia. When this does not prove satisfactory, she usually finds that bran moistened with gasoline acts effectively. This, she adds, is a good way to clean any light-colored felt hats.

Brief History of Pins

IN our own times pins are among the commonest, cheapest of the articles in daily use. We think so little of them that scarcely ever do we "see a pin and pick it up;" we say it is not worth while. And we do not stop to remember that, only a few centuries ago, it was only the richest people who could afford to buy pins.

The very first pins, which were used by the peoples who lived before history was written down for us, were probably thorns from the bushes or little splints of wood. But after a while men learned how they might cut pins out of pieces of bone and hammer them from soft metals of various sorts.

Sometimes today, in places where we know that these prehistoric peoples once lived, men find their ancient belongings, which have been buried under ground. Among the various jewels, combs and other ornaments which have been unearthed, have been pins made from bone and bronze.

We read that the Greeks and Romans used bronze pins which were finely decorated, for hairpins of bone and bronze have been found in the ruins at Pompeii. Like these, the big round pins, or brooches, which were made by the Celts of the North, were beautifully engraved and set with precious stones; if we were to visit a certain museum in Ireland we might see the famous Tara brooch which is treasured there.

It was toward the end of the fifteenth century that the English began to manufacture pins out of iron wire, and later out of brass. Hence the pins used by the early colonists in the New World were probably made of iron, being either brought by themselves or sent over to them from England. In those times there was little machinery, and we are told that as many as 13 or 14 men worked to produce each pin, filing the point until it was sharp and twisting a fine wire about the other end to form the head.

You will understand that these pins were costly, and were much valued by their possessors, therefore, "pin money" was originally a far greater sum than we consider it to be today. Before pins were manufactured in the United States, and in times when they were particularly scarce, they sometimes were worth as much as $1 a package.

Early in the nineteenth century some Englishmen came to the United States and started making pins, and this industry has now grown so enormously that certain establishments turn out millions of pins each day. Of course, these are all made by machinery, for men invented the means of putting solid heads on pins, and then, later, they found a machine which would make the pin, the head and all. Nowadays no hand touches the pin; a reel of wire is put into a machine, and, when it comes out again, it has become a complete pin.

Women! Keep This on Dresser! Never Let Corns Ache Twice

Instantly! Few drops stop corn-soreness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezone, the new ether drug.

Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of feet. Everyone who tries freezone becomes an enthusiast because it really doesn't hurt or pain one particle. Try it and see.

The Electric Range

Saves Food, Time and Money

Read What This St. Louis Woman Says:

Years of practical experience with electric ranges in St. Louis and 3000 other communities have abundantly demonstrated that electric cooking excels other methods, even as electric lighting excels candle lighting.

Supreme Results Are Easy

"To-day I had for my dinner a small roast beef, baked potatoes, carrots, green beans and rice pudding—all cooked at one time," writes one of the hundreds of enthusiastic St. Louis women who have electric ranges in their kitchens.

"I turned on the heat and put everything in the oven except the roast. I let the oven get thoroughly heated and then put in the roast too. When the roast and vegetables started to cook, I turned off the heat and left them alone until I was ready for the meal.

"My roast was nearly as large as when I put it in, and tender and juicy, and the vegetables were all well cooked.

"The meal was cooked with about 25 minutes of electric current.

"The electric range keeps everything moist and warm for hours, nothing is dried out. It saves time, labor and money."

Results Always Certain

This housewife (name on request), like hundreds in St. Louis, could tell many other advantages of electric cooking—

How it prevents about half of the "cooking down" in your food. How it thus reduces your grocery bills, and retains the savory juices, nutriment and flavors of the food.

Of the spotless kitchen walls and clean utensils unblackened by flames. And how you can always cook with certainty this way.

Accept Our Guarantee Offer

We will install an electric range in your kitchen on payment of one tenth of the price. Cook on it 45 days. If the range does what we say it will do, pay the balance monthly in 11 equal payments.

But if the range does not live up to our guarantee, we will remove it and refund all money you have paid (except for current used).

Don't Feed Your Baby Every Time He Cries

Many are the mothers who feed the baby to make him stop crying. Poor Baby! He stops—for a while—and then it's all the worse. For the tiny stomach has had another load added to its already undigested burden.

The baby isn't always hungry. Perhaps he's getting too much or the wrong kind of food.

Give him your breast milk as long as you can. It may be the saving of his life when he is sick. You'll probably be able to nurse him nine full months if from the beginning you use one feeding a day of

Nestlé's Food

(A complete milk food—not a milk modifier)

Give him that feeding at any hour each day in place of your own milk—and leave yourself free to take a little air or pleasure to build up your own milk.

Then when weaning time comes, you'll just give more feedings until the baby's all on NESTLÉ'S without feeling the change.

NESTLÉ'S comes to you in a safe, air-tight can—you add only water and it's ready. You don't have to worry about sour milk or consumptive cows or germs in the milk.

In NESTLÉ'S—made from the clean milk of healthy cows in sanitary dairies—every cows' milk danger has been destroyed—every baby need has been added.

RANK A. SCOTT OF CLEVELAND HEADS NEW MUNITIONS BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Frank A. Scott of Cleveland will head the new General Munitions Board, whose duty will be to supply the army and navy with munitions and equipment.

The board is composed of 20 army and navy officers and industrial leaders. Most of them are experts on munitions standards and manufacture and some of the civilian members have been engaged in supplying munitions to the allies.

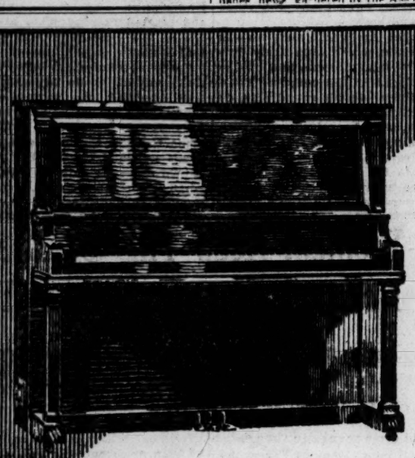

The board's task will be almost similar to that of the British Minister of Munitions, and it may develop into a Government department headed by a Cabinet officer.

Besides Scott the civilian members are Bernard M. Baruch, Howard E. Coffin, Julius Rosenwald and Dr. Franklin Martin. From the army there are Brigadier-General Thomas Cruse, Col. F. G. Hodgson, Col. H. Fisher, Lieutenant-Colonel J. E. Hoffer, Maj. P. E. Pierce, Maj. Charles Wallace and Capt. A. B. Parker, and from the navy, Rear Admiral R. H. Rousseau, Rear Admiral W. S. Capps, Commander R. H. Leigh, Commander T. A. Kearney, Dr. R. C. Holcomb, Paymaster J. H. Hancock, Lieut. W. B. Lemley and L. McHowe.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

'LA TOSCA' ENJOYABLE BUT $5 RATE EXCESSIVE

Small Audience Greets Opening Performance of Rabinoff Troupe at Odeon.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

WAR economy and the high cost of living came to grips with the luxury of $5 opera last night at the Odeon, and the consequence was an audience much smaller than was expected for the opening performance of Max Rabinoff's Boston-National Grand Opera Company, which presented Puccini's "La Tosca" as the first of a series of four productions. It must also be confessed that the presentation scarcely justified the $5 scale, the company boasting no stars of first magnitude and limiting itself to an orchestra of 40 pieces. For $1 more in New York one may hear the Metropolitan Opera Co., with Caruso and an orchestra of 100.

Nevertheless, as it is the Rabinoff policy to provide competent singers in every part of the cast and to insist upon a well-balanced excellence the performance was sufficiently enjoyable to have merited an audience twice as large, had it not been for the excessive tariff of admission. The production was well worth hearing and seeing, but not at the price exacted.

Three Divide the Honors.

The honors were divided among Luisa Villani, dramatic soprano, as Floria Tosca; Giovanni Zenatello, tenor, as Mario Cavaradossi, and George Baklanoff, baritone, as Baron Scarpia. Mme. Villani made a handsome heroine, especially in her costume of the first act, and at times acted and sang with a thrilling emotional intensity, marred, however, by a certain physical awkwardness. Her voice was powerful enough to pit successfully against the heavy brasses of the orchestration, and was pleasing, though not ideal, in quality. She filled with pathos the touching aria, "Visse d'Arte." Most praiseworthy of all, she declined to follow the example of Mary Garden in debasing Tosca into a vulgar creature, but delineated the character as she really was—a famous Roman cantatrice and great artist, refined and intelligent.

Zenatello looked the part of the painter, Cavaradossi, and after his voice was once warmed up gave much enjoyment with his ringing and robust tones. He would have had an encore in the third act, had not the director, Roberto Moranzoni, wisely refused to break up the continunity of the action.

Baklanoff, who has a fine presence and an admirable voice, often achieved sinister effects in his portrayal of the monstrous Scarpia, but it was not always the convincing and polished villainy with which a Scotti imbues the role. More than once it appeared that this Scarpia was half-hearted or even apologetic in his depravity. But Baklanoff's acting in the murder scene, with that of Villani, made the climax of the opera. Two of the minor parts stood out as notable bits of characterization, that of Paolo Ananian, basso buffo, as the Sacristan, and especially that of Romeo Boscacci as the rat-like police spy, Spoletta.

Orchestra Is Eloquent.

To many the brightest part of the evening was the work of the orchestra, which, despite its smallness, contrived, under the baton of the fiery Moranzoni, to give eloquent expression to the dramatic and descriptive score. But an attempt to employ the Odeon organ during the first act proved disastrous, that instrument being horribly out of tune. The organist did not venture to use the great organ, and after a few chords on the small organ gave it up altogether. The performance began and ended with "The Star-Spangled Banner," orchestra and audience standing. The auditorium was draped with the national colors.

Tonight's performance will be Puccini's "Lo Boheme," with Maggie Teyte, Mabel Riegelman, Paolo Ananian, Virgilio Lazzari, Graham Marr and perhaps Riccardo Martin in the cast. Fulgenzio Guerrieri will conduct.

SOCIETY

THE French ball tonight, the second night of the French War Exhibit at Moolah Temple, will be one of the most important social events of the post-Lenten season.

On account of the opera the ball will formally open at 11 o'clock with the playing of the national anthem, followed by the Marseillaise, sung by Maggie Teyte of the Boston-National Grand Opera Company. Francesca Perata of the same company will sing "He Will Come" from "Butterfly."

Mrs. Charles Cummings Collins, who is in charge of the arrangements for the ball will receive, assisted by Mrs. Pierre Chouteau Maffitt, Mrs. Edward J. Walsh, Mrs. Walter Taylor Campbell, the Countess of Kingston and Baroness Huard. Mrs. Walsh, whose concession, the tea garden, is one of the most attractive of the bazar, has arranged to have supper served and will have a number of tables on the ballroom stage which may be reserved. A number of them have been engaged.

During the evening there will be two fancy dances, one by Miss Anne Collins and George O'Neil. They have been coached by Harry Trimp, who arranged the dance. The other dance will be by Miss Agnes Cady and Val Phelan. Miss Cady will take the place of Mrs. Stuart C. Stickney, whose knee was injured by a fall. The dance has been taught by Miss Alice Martin and is one of Maurice's.

Although the formal opening of the ball will be late, dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

It is expected that a large crowd will go from the opera and theater to dance and ti promises to be a brilliant affair.

The bazar opened yesterday afternoon and all the booths were in full swing shortly afterwards. The Donegal Fair is a village to itself, where there is "something doing" every minute, from Irish plays on the little stage to songs and stories.

The French street is interesting with its cartfull of articles made by the French wounded and men in the trenches.

The Polish booth is another engaging spot and the English Canadian concession with its recruiting porters is attractive.

The bazar is gay with flags of the allies and the Stars and Stripes.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Geraghty of Minneapolis are here for a visit and are stopping at the Buckingham Hotel.

Miss Lorna Doon Carr, who is making a round of visits in St. Louis, is now the guest of Miss Juanita Wilkinson. She will visit Mrs. Thomas Ratcliffe later. Mrs. Eugene D. Nims, whom she has been visiting, has gone to New York for a short trip.

Miss Dorothea Blodgett of New York will arrive this evening to be the guest of Miss Nellie Tracy, daughter of Mrs. Frank W. Combs of 5525 Clemens avenue. Miss Blodgett has been in Chicago, where her brother, Roswell L. Blodgett, and Miss Kathryn Clark were married yesterday.

Mrs. James W. Byrnes of 3300 West Pine boulevard gave a luncheon today at the Country Club. She had 10 guests.

BE CAREFUL IN USING SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and is easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—ADV.

Extraordinary AFTER EASTER Clean-up SALE

Now that the rush of Easter is over, we find our stocks in a condition that necessitates a readjustment sale. Odd garments and incomplete size lines must make way for new merchandise—and to clear our stocks, we have established this After-Easter Clearance Sale. Prices in every instance are materially lower than before Easter—and it is well worth remembering that these reductions are not offered because the garments are undesirable in any way—but because we must dispose of all broken size lines and odd garments. It will be to your advantage to attend this sale.

Japanese Prince to Wed This Spring.

TOKIO, April 10.—The marriage arranged between Prince Yi Yong, son of the former Emperor of Korea, and Princess Masako, a daughter of Prince Nashimoto, is to take place some time this spring. Prince Yi Sr., grandfather of Prince Yi Yong, intends to come from Seoul personally to express thanks to the Japanese Emperor and Empress for the alliance between the imperial Japanese house and the former imperial house of Korea.

GIRLS SELL HUMAN BONES

They Were Only "Junk" to Them, but Police Find Grewsome Plant.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 10.—After a three days' city-wide search the police located Anna Gray and Elsie Bushman, each 9 years old, who sold human bones among a bunch of other bones and rags to Oscar Winski, a junk dealer.

The girls led the Coroner and police officials to a point on the Wabash River where they made the grewsome find. Coroner U. F. McBride is of the opinion that the bones were not old ones and that they had been washed up on the river bank.

Woman Cares for Frog.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., April . — Mrs. W. H. Fry of Carey has a pet tree frog. All last summer the frog passed a contented existence among the flower beds in the yard. When fall came it was forgotten, but one day in winter it was found playing leap-frog under a table. Since that time its home has been in a hanging basket, which it reaches by a series of clever hops.

LESS MEAT IF KIDNEYS HURT OR YOU'RE BACKACHY AND RHEUMATIC

Meat forms uric acid which clogs Kidneys; causes Rheumatism and irritates Bladder.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

A Tribute to the Lawyer

He argues and pleads for his client's needs
He cites and recites till you're dizzy
He's keen and he's clean—that's plain to be seen
He's brainy, he's bright and he's busy.

The Saxophone

Records by the Saxo Sextette

THE singular veiled, rich tone of the saxophone—a hint of reeds, brasses and strings all in one—has at last, and we believe for the first time, been reproduced with absolute tone-fidelity in a series of marvelous Columbia recordings by the Saxo Sextette, the sensation of the country.

There is something so absolutely new and delightful about these novel saxophone recordings of the season's biggest song, dance and march hits that you'll miss one of the treats of your life if you don't hear them at your dealer's today:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| A 2203 | 10-inch 75c | POOR BUTTERFLY. (From N. Y. Hippodrome Show) Saxo Sextette. / ALLAH'S HOLIDAY. From "Katinka." Saxo Sextette. |
| A 2205 | 10-inch 75c | MISS SPRINGTIME. "My Castle in the Air." Saxo Sextette. / FOLLOW ME. "What Do You Want to Make Those Eyes At Me For"? Saxo Sextette. |
| A 2195 | 10-inch 75c | AMERICAN PATROL. Saxo Sextette. / CALL OF A NATION. Saxo Sextette. |

ANNUAL POLICE PAYROLL TO BE REDUCED $31,200

Board Order Discontinuance of Use of Four Patrols and Dismissal of Thirty-Seven Employes.

The Police Board, following its announcement that it would reduce the expenses of the department, last night ordered discontinuance of the use of four auto patrols and the dismissal of 14 chauffeurs, six hostlers, five watchmen, a wagon driver, steam fitter, eight janitors, a fireman and a horseshoer, thus cutting $31,200 from the annual payroll.

As a result of the first step in a policy of economy the Carondelet, Soulard, Angelica and Newstead districts will be left without auto patrols. The North Market district patrol will cover its own territory and that of the Angelica district, the Wyoming patrol will cover the Carondelet district, the Page district patrol will cover the Newstead district and the Magnolia patrol will cover the Soulard district.

The board also ordered that patrolmen making arrests within a few blocks of the district station shall "walk" their prisoners instead of calling the patrol. It was decided that watchmen are not necessary at patrol houses where policemen, acting as signal officers, are stationed.

BELASCO STARS DALY IN ANTI-BOOZE PLAY

"The Very Minute" Shows Drink's Effect on the Victim and the Innocent.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Can it be that David Belasco has detected the possibilities of the growing prohibition sentiment and of Billy Sunday's local anti-booze campaign? The surmise is justified by his choice of "The Very Minute," by John Meehan, which he produced last night at the Belasco Theater, and in which he introduced Arnold Daly, the newest addition to his list of stars.

This alliance of Belasco and Daly—the latter, in a witty speech, referred to himself as "the Buster Brown of the Theater"—was sufficient to bring out a distinguished audience. They were sure of the quality of the acting in store for them, for Mr. Daly, when the managerial brake governs his eccentricities, is one of the most able actors on the native stage. They must have been surprised, however, to find this interpreter of G. B. Shaw in a character which swung wide of any other in which he has appeared.

For the character of Francis Cramner, in "The Very Minute," is one to lead the heaviest advance of the most drastic prohibitionist. The play is in effect aimed against the drink habit. One recalls no play which so closely sticks to its text, and which so vigorously belabors the imp of the bottle, since the appearance of the late Charles Warner in the world-famous "Drink." Meehan is a new author, and there are passages in the play which betray the fact. Nevertheless the picture of drunkenness and its deplorable consequences—its destructive influences upon the will of the victim and the bitter penalties it imposes upon the innocent—strikes home.

Cathleen Nesbitt, Forest Robinson, Marie Wainwright, William Morris and John W. Cope were some of the other capable players in what can be more nearly classified as subjective drama than any other which Mr. Belasco has produced.

Louis Mann's War Playlet Heads Attractive Columbia Bill.

Louis Mann, in a fanciful war playlet, which was very well received, headed an unusually pleasing bill at the Columbia Theater yesterday.

The playlet, by Clara Lipman (Mrs. Man) and Samuel Shipman, gives Mann the role of Richard Strauss, the composer, on war duty as valet to a German General, in a shed near the firing line. Edmond Rostand, the poet, on duty as orderly to a French officer, appears with a message for the General, and greets Strauss as an old friend and collaborator. At first they quarrel over the hostile tenets of their countries, but their spats grow briefer as their art finds more in common, and they are soon on a plane of brotherhood that recognizes no national boundary. A ranting General and an incredibly benign German Commander in Chief, with several soldiers, fill up the cast.

With the other actors, in both German and French uniforms, speaking ordinary English, there is no reason why Strauss should be represented as speaking German dialect—except that Mann and his dialect are inseparable on the stage. Some of the pro-French speeches, considering that this country is now an ally of France, were in the nature of "flag stuff," and were heartily applauded. The upshot of the whole matter seemed to be the conclusion that Strauss is a bigger man than Hindenburg, and Rostand than Joffre or Nivelle. This may have been true before the war, and it may again be true after the war, but it is not true now. Life comes before art, and the leaders of the European armies are defending national life.

A farce, "Rocking the Boat," performed by Lawrence Grattan, Eva Taylor and two others, contained as much material as some full-grown plays, and gave Grattan an opportunity to be very amusing. Marion Weeks, a little coloratura soprano, showed a dainty voice which proved to possess clearness and great range. The pretty old "Lady Lou" was one of her selections, and it was in the "Printemps" waltz that she sang G above high C.

Dolly Jordan, of the team of Willing and Jordan, had the luck to be singing when the earthquake struck the theater, causing a semi-panic in the balcony and gallery. She put on full steam and sang down the disturbance, assisted a moment later by her partner. Orville Stamm, strong boy, played a violin with a heavy bulldog strapped to his wrist, and held a piano off the floor while he sang a verse of something or other. A song and dance team, a very nimble pair of Australian club tossers, and two "Southern gentlemen," who dispense nuciform dialogue, furnished the rest of the show. Pictures of the Royal Gorge in Colorado, which many persons confuse with the Grand Canon of the Colorado, are a worth-while item of the travel weekly.

MENOCAL WINS CUBAN ELECTION

HAVANA, April 10.—The administration of Gen. Mario G. Menocal, President of Cuba, will remain in power for another four years.

This was decided yesterday—nearly five and a half months after the presidential elections, which were held Nov. 1—by re-elections held at Victoria de Las Tunas, Oriente Province. These resulted in a decided victory for Menocal over Dr. Alfredo Zayas. The result gives President Menocal 85 electoral votes to 44 for Dr. Zayas.

Many People Gladly Tell About Benefits Derived From Cadomene Tablets.

Interesting, Sensational Facts!

A Rheumatic Convalescent writes: Oct. 9, 1916.

Gentlemen—Last September I was taken with what the doctor called Rheumatism. I tried to cure myself with all kinds of Rheumatic Medicines, but they did no good. I got a doctor and he came all last Winter, and by the first of June I was able to get about after a fashion. I saw about that time an advertisement in the Boston Globe of Cadomene Tablets, and it read just about like I felt—except the pain—and I decided to try it. I took one tablet after each meal for a week with the Rheumatic Medicine and then stopped the latter and just took the Cadomene Tablets and I have gotten well. I am now on my sixth tube. People stop me on the street and want to know what I got hold of to make me look so well. I always tell them "Cadomene." There are several taking Cadomene now in Needham and it is doing good for all.

Respectfully yours,

White Sox Vastly Improved, Manager Rowland Declares; Collins Finds Batting Eye

Acquisition of Risberg and "Chick" Gandil Rounds Out a Team Now Favored to Win American League Pennant—Squad Will Work at Robison Field, Today.

By W. J. O'Connor

CLARENCE ROWLAND, manager of the White Sox, is not unprepared to accept the popular belief that his proteges should be the ranking favorites in the impending American League pennant race. Indeed, Rowland, who arrived today, is quite convinced that the Sox are certain of success.

"I have a team with only two changes in its physical appearance, but vastly improved mentally over last season," said Rowland at Robison Field, where he took his men for a practice session this morning.

"The White Sox are a smarter ball club," he continued, "and just now they are going at a dizzy pace. We played 16 exhibition games on our way north and won 15 of them. We lost the second game of the trip to Dallas ,encountering there a curve-ball pitcher who had us licked, 3—1, after nine rounds.

"Since then all pitchers have looked alike. Eddie Collins is playing great ball. That is to say he is HITTING; his game afield never weakens. However, last spring Collins was in a slump for the first two months of the season and in that time we lost many games. As it was, we finished only two full games behind the pennant winners.

Risberg a Real "Find."

"I have a valuable man in Gandil, who looks faster in his play around first than I ever have seen him. In Risberg, the young shortstop, we have a player who, stepped into that gap the first day we opened our training season and has never once been dislodged. He's a 'find.' He's a big fellow and a good ballplayer, although he developed on the Coast League as a second baseman and we are now using him on the other side of the diamond. There may be still a few rough edges that need polishing, but he has the inherent ability.

"I now have a squad of 29 men, proportioned as follows: Nine pitchers, seven outfielders, four catchers and nine infielders. We have a month in which to cut this squad down to 25 players and I now have players of such promise that I will hesitate about trimming the squad."

Rowland was loath to name his pitcher for the opening clash with the Browns tomorrow afternoon. However, he said his selection would be from three men: Scott, Faber and Williams, the latter a left-hander, and the most likely nominee. Schalk will be behind the bat and Leibold in right field.

The Sox will practice at Robison Field this afternoon, spending a great part of the afternoon session in military drill. They intend to give an exhibition drill tomorrow, before the start of hositilities on the diamond.

Browns' Make-Up Still Uncertain

The Browns, slightly crippled, but working with a will, are ready to receive the Sox and give them the bayonet, if necessary. Jones still is undecided about his lineup, not knowing whether Pratt or Kenworthy will guard second, or whether Shotton or Rumler will be in left. Either Koob or Hamilton will pitch.

On the eve of the opening it is interesting to note what the estimate of outsiders is about the Browns' prospects. Almost all the critics concede the Browns a chance, although many discredit them as a team, but show a generous consideration for Jones' ability as a leader. A few expressions:

"Browns Hard to Dope."

Joe Jackson in the Detroit Tribune refuses to visualize a pennant for the Tigers or anybody else. He does, however, eliminate Washington, Cleveland and Philadelphia from the pennant fight. Says he:

"Boston is a champion club, and has lost only Carrigan; Chicago was second last fall by only two games; its infield may be improved, and certainly it cannot be worse at first base than it was, while Scott is likely to have a good year. Detroit was only two games behind Chicago last season, and has greater utility strength, better-looking pitching and a weakening only at third base. New York would have been a pennant possibility last season, but for its accidents, and cannot have all of that bad luck again. St. Louis is hard to dope, because there is no good line on its new material. Cleveland probably will not do so well, as it is not changed much, and Speaker and Graney hardly can hope to go as well as they did last season."

Takes a Gloomy View.

E. A. Batchelor, in the Detroit News, takes an entirely different view of the matter. He groups Detroit, Chicago, New York and Boston as four red-hot pennant pretenders. Cleveland is given an "outside chance." The Browns and Washington are irrevocably consigned to second division, while the Mackmen are sentenced to last place with great unanimity. Anent the Browns, he says:

St. Louis and Washington look like about the same clubs they were last year, good enough to make trouble for everybody, but not good enough to get into the real fight. The Mackmen, though unquestionably improved, are doomed to another year in the cellar, unless they profit by the complete explosion of some other club.

Like the Leopard We're Spotty.

The Chicago Herald is a little more generous. After nominating the White Sox for Pennantville, with the mental reservation that New York, Boston and Detroit are foes not to be despised, this critic concludes:

There is just one more club which figures in the running—the St. Louis Browns—more probably on account of Fielder Jones than because the Mound Builders are entitled to a high rating. The Browns are strong in spots, but it is not a well-balanced team. The genius of Jones may take the jar out of the machinery and they are given a chance. There is nothing on which to base a prediction that Washington will figure in the race more than it did last season, as it has not been strengthened to any appreciable extent.

23 Cardinals Follow Huggins to Cincinnati

MANAGER HUGGINS of the Cardinals, departed for Cincinnati, last night, leaving Herman Seekamp in charge of the players who start today at noon for the land beyond the Rhine. A squad of 23 men will be taken on the trip, this total to be increased by one at Cincinnati where Jim McAuley, claimed from Pittsburg, will report.

The Cards play four games in Cincinnati and then move to Chicago for four more, beginning Sunday. They will return April 19 for a three-game series with the Reds at Robison Field.

Henry Lee Meadows is scheduled to pitch the opening game against the Reds.

"Bobby" Quinn, Rickey's Successor, Discovered Turner and Bridwell

After serving for 17 seasons as business manager of the Columbus (O.) baseball club, which developed under his hand from a $2000 independent team to a $150,000 franchise in the American Association, "Bobby" Quinn has broken into the big leagues as business manager of the Browns, vice B. Rickey, resigned.

Baseball folks know him as Bob, but he was christened James A. Quinn and lost his baptismal monacker in the early baseball shuffle. Quinn was born Feb. 14, 1870, at Columbus, and has spent all his 47 winters and most of his 47 summers in Columbus. He has been player, field manager, scout, business manager and part owner. He has done everything Rickey has done in baseball but coach a college team.

He began playing ball as a catcher in 1892 and continued at it for 10 years until he became field manager of Columbus in 1902. About that time there was a great baseball expansion in Columbus and Quinn graduated to the more dignified position of business manager. He has been at it ever since, abandoning the proposition when Joe Tinker and his associates bought the Columbus franchise this season.

Quinn Discovered a Star.

In his day as manager and scout Quinn uncovered two players who have since made baseball history. He picked Tuck Turner, still in harness at Cleveland and one of the oldest active athletes, in fact the most ancient now that Wagner has kicked over the traces, and Al Bridwell, long a star in McGraw's diadem, off the lots of Ohio and developed them into stars.

His duties with the Browns will be manifold, including scouting. Oh, for another Turner!

Browns Send Back Two.

Two Brown recruits—Fin Yardley, an outfielder, and Tom Stevenson, infielder—were released yesterday to the Little Rock club of the Southern League. Yardley played in three of the spring series contests and made one hit in seven trips to the plate. This came on his first appearance at the plate.

Cards Claim McAuley.

The Cardinals yesterday landed James McAuley, a young infielder, from the Pittsburg club via the waiver route. McAuley last season was with the Rochester club of the International League. He will report to Manager Huggins in Cincinnati tomorrow.

Dave Davenport Reports.

Dave Davenport, the big right-hander of the Browns, who was unable to join the team on the spring training trip because of an accidental gunshot wound, reported to Manager Jones today. Davenport says he expects to be ready to pitch within two weeks.

With Eddie Cicotte pitching the full game and yielding eight safeties, the White Sox won from the Des Moines club of the Western League, 8—1. The Sox clouted the offerings of four Des Moines hurlers safely 14 times.

SNOW PREVENTS BRAVES AND GIANTS' OPENING

BOSTON, Mass., April 10.—Opening game Boston-New York National scheduled for tomorrow postponed until Thursday. Field covered with snow.

PIKER ELEVEN TO PLAY KANSAS A.-M. THIS FALL

MANHATTAN, Kan., April 10.—Eight football games, four of them Missouri Valley conference contests, will be played by the Kansas State Agricultural College eleven next fall.

For the first time in the history of the game at the institution, the Kansas Aggies will clash with the Iowa Aggies and with the eleven of Washington University, St. Louis.

The schedule this year does not include a game with Nebraska. The schedule follows:

Sept. 29—Baker University, at Manhattan.
Oct. 6—Oklahoma A. and M. College, at Manhattan.
Oct. 13—University of Missouri, at Columbia, Mo.
Oct. 20—Washington University, at Manhattan.
November—University of Kansas at Manhattan.
Nov. 10—Iowa State College, at Ames, Io.
Nov. 22—Emporia Normals, at Manhattan.
Nov. 29—Washburn College, at Topeka.

Last Night's Fights

Baltimore.—As expected, Andre Anderson was a mark for Carl Morris and passed away in the third round.

Steubenville, O.—Dick Loadman outfought Eddie Wimler of Pittsburg, 10 rounds.

New Orleans.—Only a handful of folks turned out to see ex-champion Johnny Coulon win a 10-round decision from Bobbie Hughes, the local bantam. Buddy Garle and Young Russo, 10-round draw.

Philadelphia, Pa.—K. O. Loughlin reached the wire ahead of George Chip and says he beat Chip all through their 6-round bout, knocking him down in the last frame.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Johnny Ray claims a 6-round win over Ray Fryzel.

CADDOCK CLAIMS TITLE WHEN STECHER FORFEITS

"Scissors" Champion Refuses to Continue Match After Dispute in Second Fall.

OMAHA, April 10.—Earl Caddock of Anita, Io., a protege of Frank Gotch, is claiming the world's catch-as-catch-can wrestling championship today, because Joe Stecher, the former title claimant, refused to go on for a third fall in their match here, last night.

Stecher had won the first fall with a scissors and hammerlock hold in 1:22:05, while Caddock gained a disputed fall in the second fall in the second session with a double nelson, time 1:40:10.

Stecher, without giving a reason, then refused to continue.

During the wrestling for the second fall, Stecher was thrown to the mat, and Caddock claimed a fall, but Cy Sherman, the referee, denied there had been a fall and ordered the wrestling continued.

The crowd, about evenly divided between supporters of Stecher and boosters for Caddock, shouted its protests of approval and for a time there was a tumult.

The officials retired. It is said there was a heated argument among them as to whether Stecher had been thrown, the timekeeper, Robert Murphy, claiming he had.

When Stecher and Caddock appeared on the mat, after the second fall, Stecher stated he would not continue the match and left the hall, ignoring the protests of the referee and the promoter. There was nothing for the official to do but forfeit the match to Caddock.

The betting had favored Stecher by two to one.

FUTURE CITY BOUTS TO BE HELD AS SCHEDULED

Four boxing bouts, scheduled to be decided at the Future City Athletic Club tonight, will take place as scheduled, according to Matchmaker Tommy Sullivan.

Warned by yesterday's police order that no ticket selling at the box office would be permitted, Sullivan stated that the orders would be carried out and that members must obtain their tickets some time today, unless a modification of the police rule is obtained.

Officials of the club will take the matter up with Chief Young, Sullivan stated. They desire to make the point that no membership tickets have been sold at the box offices in the past, but that bona fide members could present their membership cards at the box office window and obtain seats. This was a convenience to members that they would like to have continued if possible.

Pending a final decision in this argument, members have been notified to obtain tickets some time today.

The following card is announced for tonight:

Pete Macklin and Nick Kube, six rounds, 128 pounds.

Happy Howard vs. Patsy Flannagan, eight rounds, 118 pounds.

Charles "Red" Johnson vs. "Kid" Reagan, eight rounds, 118 pounds.

Jack Raney vs. Willie Colona, eight rounds, 118 pounds.

Dillon Case Postponed.

The case of the Coliseum Athletic Association against Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis boxer, scheduled for tomorrow has again been postponed. This time the Coliseum A. A. is not ready. The new date for the hearing has not been set.

Central Plays Undergrads.

Coach Mike Walker has arranged a practice game for his Central High School team with the St. Louis University undergrads to be played tomorrow afternoon at High School Field. On next Saturday the Mid-City nine tackles C. B. C. at the Smith-Manual campus.

Willard, Too Heavy to Enlist, Will Help U. S. Recruit Men for Navy

NORFOLK, Va., April 10.

JESS WILLARD, heavyweight champion of the world, cannot fight the Germans.

Why? Because he is too big and heavy.

He will give a boxing exhibition on the battleship Oklahoma today, as a recruiting feature and will advise young men to join the navy. In speaking of his own plans he said:

"I tried to enlist at a recruiting station, before I left home; but after I weighed in was told that I was too big and too heavy.

"I am ready for service, and you can bet your life I'll answer the call any minute if they will only accept me."

WRAY'S COLUMN

West Due to Win a World's Title.

FOR six years critics have been trying to pick an easy spot for a western club to break into a league championship and the world's series, but without avail. This year, after studying the signs, students of the baseball heavens profess to see a western club finishing first—the White Sox.

On the eve of the opening of the baseball season in the major leagues, the Western clubs have the call in the American, where, however, New York and Boston, in the East, have genuine reason to hope for a pennant lookin.

In the National League, the Western half of the circuit looks like the Mammoth Cave during a solar eclipse—it's just GLOOM! From Pittsburg to St. Louis pennant craft are distinguished for their low visibility. It is impossible to SEE them. It looks like a four-handed tie for the cellar; and that's all.

• • •

Browns Carry Local Hopes.

HERE in St. Louis we still think that the Browns must carry the banner to the front, if it is to be fronted at all. And as the betting is now even money that they don't make the first division grade, no rainbow chasing is being indulged in, even by the faithful.

As for the Cardinals—well, Rickey is underpaid, in having to shoulder this old man of the sea. Many a more promising club has wrecked an equally promising baseball reputation, in the past.

• • •

And in this connection it may be pertinent to remark that, despite the injustice of it, Branch Rickey will probably be charged with whatever the Cardinals do or fail to do, this year.

All the "suit" talk has only served to keep him, rather than the team's manager, Miller Huggins, in the limelight.

• • •

Connie Mack Is Overdue.

IT'S just as well to remember that neither a manager nor a president can be expected to produce a club without money; and even then, not within three or more years.

It is three years since Connie Mack wrecked his championship team, and, despite this crafty leader's promises to "come back" in that 36 months, they are still picking him to run a bad last, this year.

Despite all the money that has backed the Chicago American League club, Comiskey has not been able to figure in a championship series since 1906.

Hohenzollerns of Baseball.

WITH characteristic diplomacy, John McGraw is trying to shift public attention from his ruthless baseball horde by trying to assume that the responsibility for the Herzog-Cobb fight was Cobb's. Without knowing the details any more intimately than the news dispatches set forth, acquaintance with Herzog's and McGraw's methods makes it practically certain that at least 50 per cent of the blame attached to the New Yorw end.

The Prussianism of McGraw the First is too well known to need discussion. The news files covering his history contain accounts of wrangles, broils and even fights with umpires and players alike. Muggsy the Ruthless wants to trample, when crowded, because it's his nature, regardless of baseball comity or good usage.

George Stallings is another rather of the same cut, but more inclined to craft than force.

In these times when the mailed fist spirit is being put down abroad, it is timely to begin curbing it here, too. There are only a few of these feudal fighters left; they ought not to dominate the field by sheer bravado.

Pull their fangs, John K.! Otherwise our St. Louis rabbits won't dare to get into the same league then.

• • •

Commendable, but Hasty.

HASTY action by collegiate and other athletic associations threatens to wipe athletics off the slate for the coming summer—and needlessly. There is no necessity, NOW, for cancelling activities common throughout the country in normal times.

It is altogether unlikely that the pressure of the war, either in men or money requirements, will be so strong within the next six months that the customary recreations and sports must be dispensed with.

The enthusiasm which would close up the normal amusement outlets, in times when there is no demand for such closure, may be commendable, but seems misdirected.

In fact, nothing could do more for military preparation among those not enlisted, than a continuance of athletic and conditioning sports.

If England could go ahead with all sorts of amateur and professional sports throughout the trying three years of war, United States surely cannot be in such stress as to abandon its athletic habits within the first three months.

Navy Schedule Stands.

IN this connection a letter from Commander F. V. McNair of Annapolis, to the management of the Pennsylvania relay games is interenting. It reads in part:

Logically, colleges wishing to develop a military routine, would pattern their daily work on the lines of our two military institutions, viz.: West Point and the Naval Academy.

NEITHER SCHOOL HAS THE SLIGHTEST IDEA OF NOT CARRYING OUT ITS ATHLETIC SCHEDULE, EXCEPT ON ORDERS FROM WASHINGTON, which are unlikely. In fact, the navy's schedule will be carried out in spite of the graduation of the senior class and the loss of the three graduate coaches.

Only a few years ago a certain Admiral made efficiency in fleet athletics count second only to efficiency in target practice.

Let us have college athletics and more of them, just as the British are playing football behind the lines in Flanders.

A Real Iron Man.

WHATEVER may be the pugilistic merits of the Welsh-Nelson bout, next Monday night, from the Nelson end especially—the exhibition will present one of the greatest, if one of the oldest lightweights, in ring years, known to pugilism.

Ritt's remarkable career will be better appreciated when it is noted that he fought his first fight one year before Terry McGovern entered a ring; he is still fighting nearly a decade after the ruins of the Terrible One quit it forever.

Men who have raved over Terry, in the past, and who since have all but forgotten him, probably do not realize that McGovern was only two years older than Bat, and that Nelson began fighting three years earlier in life than the former bantamweight wonder.

Score: No Booze 21, Booze 12.

THE following table is a remarkable study in contrast. Also a great lesson on clean living, for those who want to know the effect of dissipation on physical standards. Nelson, it is reliably stated, never drank in his life! Note the difference:

| | NELSON | McGOVERN |
|---|---|---|

A. L. EXPENSES WILL BE CUT TO LIMIT SAYS HEAD

CHICAGO, April 10.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, intimated today that should war conditions necessitate, a minimum player limit would be enforced in the league and expenses curtailed to the limit.

"If the United States becomes seriously involved in the war," he said, "the American League will trim the sails to meet conditions."

CUB PLAYERS TO WEAR FLAGS ON THEIR SLEEVES

CHICAGO, April 10.—When the Chicago National League team appears on the field at the opening of the season tomorrow, each player will wear the American flag. The colors have been embroidered on the sleeve of their shirts as a display of patriotism.

A recruiting station has been erected at the baseball park in order to accommodate any patrons of the game who may desire to enlist in the army.

Tigers Trim Kansas Aggies.

MANHATTAN, Kan., April 10.—The baseball team of the University of Missouri defeated the Kansas Aggies here yesterday, 11 to 3. It was the opening contest of the Missouri Valley conference season.

Cannefax Beats Kieckhefer.

Bob Cannefax, the local entrant in the Interstate Three-cushion Billiard League, added another victory on his home table last night, when he defeated August Kieckhefer of Rockford in the match at the Rex, 50 to 46. Cannefax's best run last night was a three, while Kieckhefer had one of four. In the other match last night McCourt defeated Jackson of Detroit in Cleveland, 50—44.

SPORT SALAD BY L. C. Davis

The Umpire.

WHO is the guy who stands behind
The catcher's box serene and blind;
At whom we hurl remarks unkind?
The Umpire.

Who is it, when a glancing foul,
Perchance, should hit him on the jowl,
The rooters dance with joy and howl?
The Umpire.

Who is the fiend in human form
At whom the rooters rage and storm
And slate him for a climate warm?
The Umpire.

Who is the shameless, hardened brute
whom everybody wants to shoot
Because his verdict doesn't suit?
The Umpire.

Who is it never got a cheer
In all his turbulent career,
But fattens on the raucous jeer?
The Umpire.

Who is the cool, collected chap
That lets 'em paw the air and yap
And doesn't care a single rap?
The Umpire.

Millers Score Only 3 Goals in 3 Games

After losing three straight games in the East, the final one coming at the hands of the Diastons in Philadelphia yesterday, the Ben Millers, soccer champions of St. Louis, will stop over in Detroit the end of the week in an attempt to land at least one victory before returning to St. Louis.

In the trio of battles, the Millers have scored only three goals, two of these coming in the contest with the Scottish Americans in Newark, on Sunday. Against this the locals' opponents, the Bethlehem, national champions, Scottish Americans and Diastons have counted eight. Including the games of the Pennsylvanians in Chicago, the local kicksters have failed to win in five contests on foreign soil.

A crowd, estimated at between 1500 and 2000 fans, saw the Diatons win, 3—1, yesterday.

Peck to Coach Culver.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 10.—Robert Peck, captain of the 1916 University Pittsburg football team and twice selected football experts for the all-American team, has signed a contract to take charge of athletics at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind. Peck will coach baseball, basket ball and football.

STOCK MARKET RALLIES AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Expectation of Raise in Freight Rates Lifts the Rail List Sharply.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Except for the continuing and notable success of the British army's drive at the Hindenburg line, this was not a day of news. The stock market was strong though verry irregular; some stocks rising 2 points or more, though usually with partial reaction later. Railway shares led in the recovery; industrial shares hung back with weakness in some of them. The bid price for United States Government bonds was lowered slightly for several issues, but in the main, quotations remained unchanged.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 10.—Selling of the general list was resumed at the opening of today's market, specialties recording greatest losses. Trading was largely of professional origin, but signs of further public liquidation showed in some of the standard or representative issues. United States Steel soon yielded over a point, with 1 or 2 points for Bethlehem Steel, the prominent metals, American Can, Central Leather and Sears-Roebuck and a 5-point loss for Texas Company. Shippings and rails were inclined to hold, except for a further break of almost 4 points in Delaware & Hudson.

Liquidation broadened in the first hour, but was checked later on the sudden development of strength in leading rails, which advanced 1 to 2 points over yesterday's final figures. The rise in this group was accompanied by reports of early action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of increased freight rates. Most of the severe losses of the forenoon were fully recovered at midday, when supporting orders proved effective. International bonds were again strong, some of the war loans selling at record prices.

With the exception of Delaware & Hudson, in which the loss was increased to more than 5 points, rails made further gains in the afternoon, under lead of Pacifics and Coalers. Industrials and active specialties also hardened.

POTATOES REACH HIGH MARK OF SEASON; QUOTED AT $3.25

Fancy Idaho potatoes sold at $3.25 per bushel wholesale on the local produce market today, the highest price this season and for many years back. All other varieties were quoted at from $3 to $3.25. John P. Keys, connected with Jacob Stocke Produce Co., points out that these exorbitant prices are due entirely to the scanty supply of potatoes now on hand, and that even higher prices are looked for in the next few days due to the broad demand now in force. All other staples ruled steady. Egg prices ruled fully 1 cent higher, while butter values also advanced sharply. The live poultry market was active and receipts heavy. Today's prices are as follows:

EGGS—Fresh first, 30½c per dozen; returned cases, 1c less.

WILD PRICE MOVEMENTS ON THE BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, April 10.—Sensational breaks in the value of provisions pulled down with a crash today the corn, wheat and other grain markets. Powerful advocacy of radical steps by the Government to control meat and food prices was the chief factor in bringing about the collapse of the whole series of Board of Trade markets.

A general rush to sell found the different commodities without any aggressive support, and there was soon a condition bordering on panic in the provision pit, where pork made an almost sheer descent of $1.55. Other extreme losses were 5c to 5½c in wheat and corn.

More than half of the setback in cereals was afterward recovered, but provisions showed much less power to rally.

Wheat traders were taken by surprise, and before they could get their bearings found themselves overwhelmed with stop-loss orders to sell.

Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to 2½c lower, with May at $2.05¾ to $2.06½ and July at $1.82¼ to $1.83¾, were followed by drops respectively to $2.02 and $1.80, and then a partial recovery.

Corn plunged at the very outset. Initial quotations which were ¾c to 5c lower, were succeeded later by a fair degree of steadiness at about 3c above the early low point.

Oats displayed relative steadiness compared with other grain. The market, however, was relatively neglected. Declines did not much exceed 1 cent.

Notwithstanding that hog prices had risen this morning to a new record-breaking figure, the provision market began to tumble as soon as trading opened. First sales varied from 5c to 60c lower, and from then on the downward swing was of nearly unprecedented rapidity. Even after rallies set in the market continued extraordinarily nervous.

Subsequently, lightness of offerings led to a decided rally that, in some cases, more than overcame the previous decline. Absence of rain in Kansas and Nebraska was a bullish factor, and so, too, was renewed corn strength, and the high price being paid by mills for cash wheat. The close was unsettled, at 3c decline to ¼c net advance, with May $2.06¾ to $2.07¼ and July $1.82¼@1.82⅜.

In later dealings the market rose to above yesterday's finish, owing to continued strength of the hog market and to the smallness of available supplies of corn. Advances, however, were not well maintained. The close was nervous, at 1¾c off to 1c gain, as compared with yesterday's finish.

Wide price swings marked trade in the local wheat market today, but the speculation lacked the excitement of yesterday's session. Values ranged steady to 2c lower after trade adjusted itself and the market assumed a normal tone. The close was steady, but about 2c under yesterday's final level.

Pit sentiment on wheat was bearish, and influenced by belief that the conference of agricultural experts being held here will be followed by appeals to Congress to pass laws guaranteeing farmers minimum prices for their products.

Suggestion by a leading Chicago commission man that he favored price fixing on grain, with a minimum of $1.50 a bushel to the farmer while the war lasted, also caused selling, as in addition to price regulation it would stimulate farmers to plant an unusual acreage of spring wheat.

Statistics generally were bullish, and there was no rain over the drouth area of the winter wheat belt. Liverpool advices suggested that supplies of grain are sufficient for immediate needs.

Corn futures sold 2c to 3c lower with wheat, but later recovered all the loss. Primary receipts were small and cash demands good. Oats were steady to fractionally lower, but rallied. Coarse grains closed steady around yesterday's closing level.

New York reported evidence of further demand for cash wheat; premiums were strong with the Gulf premiums quoted 23½c over May, compared with 22c yesterday. Cash houses were reported buying Chicago May. There was also some inquiry for corn and reports of moderate inquiry for oats.

Minneapolis reported cash wheat good enough to mill in fair demand. This included lower grades. No. 1 Northern was 10c to 12c over May. Cash corn was Chicago May price to 3c under. Cash oats were May price to 2½c under.

Primary movement today:

| | Receipts. | Shpmts. |
|---|---|---|
| Wheat | 646,000 | 622,000 |
| Corn | 616,000 | 576,000 |
| Oats | 840,000 | 936,000 |

Clearances of wheat today were 396,000 bu; corn 350,000 bu; oats 3000 bu; flour 39,000 bbls; wheat and flour 572,000 bu; wheat includes 188,000 bu bonded.

Minneapolis wheat cars were 201; Duluth 18; Winnipeg 423.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 200,000 bu for three days; flour shipments 70,723 bbls; wheat shipments 12 cars; 89 cars winter wheat here yesterday.

Bradstreet's showed the United States and Canada wheat supply decreased 1,393,000 bu last week; corn decreased 928,000 bu; oats decreased 2,731,000 bu.

3 MORE SALOONS LICENSED

Three more saloon licenses have been issued by Mayor Mollman of East St. Louis, bringing the total this year to 313. He announced, at the first of the year, that he would reduce the number to 242. Almost as many licenses have been issued this year as had been issued by Mayor Chamberlin this time three years ago.

CHEERS FOR KAISER, IS SHOT

Illinoisan Tries to Escape Arrest After Creating Disturbance.

Joseph Peters, 27 years old, of Edwardsville Crossing, was shot in the thigh Sunday night by Marshall William Blaylock of Benbow City in trying to escape arrest after having cheered for the Kaiser.

Peters was ejected from two saloons after starting war talk in favor of Germany and then threw a beer bottle into the Michael Bady saloon. Marshal Blaylock tried to arrest him. When he ran, Blaylock fired.

COTTON AVERAGES SLIGHTLY LOWER IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 10.—The cotton market showed renewed firmness at the opening this morning, first prices being steady at an advance of 16 to 30 points, with May selling at 20.85c and Oct. at 19.27c on the call.

Buying was stimulated by relatively firm cables and prospects for a renewal of unsettled weather east of the river, but the advance met a good deal of realizing, and prices soon turned easier under selling by Wall street and local longs. May eased off to 20.54c before the end of the first hour, while Oct. declined to 18.99c, or 6 to 12 points net lower. Private cables attributed the firmness of Liverpool to continental buying of both old and new crop months.

Liverpool Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, April 10.—Cotton—Spot, firm; good middling, 13.00d; middling, 12.90d; low middling, 12.81d. Sales, 5000, including 500 for speculation and export.

St. Louis Lead Markets.

Lead was dull at $9.25 asked in St. Louis market today. Spelter dull at $10.25, nominal.

AUTOMOBILES—MISCELLANEOUS

USED CARS THAT ARE GUARANTEED
YOUR MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFACTORY
If, like many people, you are inclined to believe that the purchase of a used car is a "risky" proposition, you are the very person whom we want to meet and talk to.
According to our plan, you select the used car which you desire to buy and drive it for seven consecutive days. If at the end of this time you are in any way dissatisfied, bring the car back in good condition and we'll refund you your money.
AND REMEMBER
We offer a rare opportunity to the person who can only afford to invest a few hundred dollars. COMMON SENSE will dictate the wisdom of buying a quality used car that has only been slightly used rather than a CHEAP new car fresh from the factory.
PAY AS YOU RIDE CASH OR TERMS IF DESIRED. BALANCE EASY. COME IN FOR DEMONSTRATION. SEE THESE BARGAINS

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY SHORT STORY

'Advising Helen'

By Sam Hellman.

THE most pervading institution in the world is advice-giving and taking. It knows no race, color, breed or previous condition of rectitude. It is the common heritage of man, the possession alike of the crowned heads of Europe (there were still a few of them at press time) and the untaxed Digger Indian.

Advice is a good deal like medicine. Most of it is bitter and useless and the more you take the more you need. When you swallow a prescription counter dose you lay yourself liable to three eventualities; you will either die or get well because of it, in spite of it or regardless of it. So it is with advice. Yet such is the interdependence of humans these days that the world is loaded down with people who seek advice on every phase of existence from getting married to whether the boy should be named after Uncle John or Uncle Bill, John having more money, but better health than Bill. Such a one was Helen Gaines.

Helen worked at the Peerless Department Store. She got the job on the advice of her family, who needed reinforcements to keep the wolf from getting his feet into the living room. The $8 that she threw at the beast every Saturday night didn't exactly drive the animal off the premises, but it kept it out of the pantry.

"Going on the boat-ride tonight?" asked Sallie Trott, one of Helen's few store acquaintances on the day of that great aquatic event.

"I don't know," replied Helen. "Do you think it will be all right. Would you advise me to go?"

"What do you mean all right?"

"I heard," said Helen, "that they get kind of rough and they drink."

"Aw, come out of it. Everybody has a good time, but there ain't no rough stuff."

"Then you think it would be all right for me to go?"

"Sure, kid. There's a crowd of us going together. Do you want to come along?"

"Yes," said Helen, with a lingering of doubt in her voice, "if you think"—

"Sure, sure, We'll call for you around 7."

So that evening Helen boarded the "Red Eagle" with Sallie's crowd for the annual moonlight excursion of the Woodbine Literary Society, so called because of the presence of a book in the clubrooms.

One Bill Hogan, a strapping iron worker, detailed himself to look after Helen. For the first couple of hours the Y. P. S. C. E. could not have conducted an excursion more decorously. The dancing was quiet and dignified, the conversation low and subdued and the drinking light and gentlemanly.

Toward midnight, however, the crowd tired of looking at the water between dances. This aversion soon spread to the drinking of it even in the disguise of lemonade. Soon the lower deck was a seething jam of flushed faces, loud talk, laughter and dances of the kind you pay $2 to see at only first-class theaters.

Helen huddled in the shadows.

"Come," said Hogan, "let's go up on the top floor where they ain't so much noise. These birds will be fighting pretty soon and we don't want to get mixed up in that kind of a mess. Huh?"

"Oo," shivered Helen, "will they fight. What shall we do?"

"Do?" he repeated. "I'll either stay here and lick any guy you want me to or we'll go up above where it's quiet."

"Wait a minute," said Helen. "I'll as.. Sallie."

Sallie listened impatiently.

"My gawd, kid, what do you want, advice or sympathy? Sure, go up to the other deck with him if you want to. He won't eat you. Huh, what difference does it make if it's dark and there's nobody up there. You can always jump into the river, can't you?"

Soon to the ears of Helen and Bill on the hurricane deck came the sounds of combat. Helen clung to Bill's arm.

"Don't be afraid, kid," said Bill reassuringly, "just stick to me and follow my advice and everything will be all right."

The boat finally docked.

"Come on," said Bill, "you'd better let me take you home. The rest of the crowd is lit up like a torchlight parade."

"Will it be all right to leave them?"

"Sure; they've forgotten we're alive."

The next morning Sallie looked like the next morning. Helen, on the other hand, was fresh and bright and smiling.

"Well, kid," yawned Sallie, "did you enjoy yourself last night."

"Uh-huh, I had a great time. Mr. Hogan is very nice, don't you think?"

A couple of days later Helen brought a new waist for Sallie's inspection.

"Would you buy this, if you were me?"

"Kinda loud, isn't it?" suggested Sallie.

"I guess I'll have it changed. Do you think I'd look good in blue tonight. I mean"—

"Tonight?" asked Sallie. "Where are you going?"

"The Woodbine Club's dance. It's perfectly all right, isn't it?"

"Um, I guess so. Who you going with?"

"Bill—Bill Hogan."

"Listen, kid," said Sallie after a moment of silence. "You don't know Bill very well, do you? I'd advise"—

"Bill? What's the matter with Bill?"

"Oh, nothing, but I'd advise you to"—

"Keep your advice to yourself," snapped Helen. "It seems to me you're always buttin' into my affairs. Wait until you're asked."

The Sandman Story for To-night

BY MRS. P. A. WALKER

Danny's Daring Deed.

DAN."

"Yes, sir," replied a boyish voice from behind big piles of coffee sacks, "I'm here."

"Well, Dan, I and the rest of the merchants on this part of the river are going to a meeting in Hartford this afternoon, so you will be all alone. Close up about 5 o'clock and come home. I don't think the British will come up the river today, though a scout says they were seen yesterday about 50 miles from here."

"All right, uncle," replied Dan. "I am not afraid and guess I can attend matters by myself for once."

Mr. Wallace set out at once and left Dan all by himself in the big wharf store, where the boy worked all the week. Dan was an orphan and lived with his uncle, Mr. Wallace, who was a merchant and owned a large wharf down by the river.

This was in Revolutionary days and there were not so many people in the country as there are now. But back of the wharf, about a mile farther from the river, was the little settlement of Hartford, the home of most of the trading people in this part of New York.

By sunset it was very cold and the river began to freeze. Dan was just about to lock up the store and go home when he heard the sound of horses' feet and saw a troop of soldiers in British uniforms coming at a gallop. Knowing he could do nothing against such a party, the boy ran up in the garret and lay still. The men dismounted, came tramping into the store, and, finding no one there, they took down everything to eat they could find and put it on the table which stood in a small room at one side.

Now, in the floor of the garret was a hole where a knot had fallen out of the wood. Dan laid himself flat on the floor and peeped down below. He saw the soldiers gathered about the table, feasting on cider, cheese, crackers and pickles.

"Lieut. Brown," said an officer, "I think the men had best land about two miles below here, then march on these buildings by 9 in the morning. No one will be expecting us here at that time. The ships ought to get up far enough by 5 tomorrow morning to have all the forces on shore and here by 9 easily. I will send by you full details of this movement. Leave at once and report to the Captain of the King Geoge, if possible, by 9 tonight."

The Lieutenant slipped the order into the pocket of his coat, which lay across a chair, and went out to feed his horse. The rest of the soldiers tramped out into the big storeroom to inspect the goods. Dan saw a chance now. Opening the door he slipped into the room in which the men had been sitting, seized the order which stuck out of the soldier's pocket and then darted through a dark passage out into the shadow of the woodshed.

It was dark now. He could see the soldiers lighting candles and building a fire in the big rooms. They were preparing to boil hams and make themselves comfortable.

But Dan did not want to see more. He took down his sharp skates from the shed shelf and creeping down to the bank of a small stream which ran from Hartford down to the wharf on the river, he strapped them to his feet and was soon spinning up the narrow ribbon of ice which covered the creek.

The moon rose and threw strange shadows across the ice. Dan spun forward like the wind, his skates ringing against the frozen stream. Behind him he heard the galloping of a horse, as if someone were in pursuit on the road which ran along the bank. A shot whistled over his head and another rang out. He felt a sting in his left arm. But he did not stop. As he raced the soldier galloped along the road, but a turn in the bank and they were both in the village.

In a moment a dozen armed men had surrounded the British soldier and taken him prisoner. Dan stumbled up the bank, placed the order in the hands of his uncle, then fainted. Both he and the prisoner were taken into Mr. Wallace's home.

"That is the Lieutenant who was to carry this order to the Captain of the ships anchored down the river," said Dan, when he opened his eyes five minutes later. "I am sure his Colonel thinks he is away delivering the message and does not know he was chasing me."

"That is so," replied Mr. Wallace. "The thing for us to do is to march every man in town at once to my wharf, take the British prisoners who are there and wait for those who are to come at 9. There are two regiments over in Warrenton that I will send for at once to reinforce us."

Dan was kept in bed, and the Lieutenant was held a prisoner, while the men of the town went to work. Quietly they gathered a large force, slipped down to the wharf store, took the sleeping English prisoners, then when the men from the ships came boisterously on at 9 o'clock in the morning, they, too, were surrounded and marched off under guard.

No wonder Dan got a big black horse and a gold medal from the men of the town. The horse is long since dead, but the medal has come down to Dan's great-great-grandchildren and is shining on their wall today.

IT must have been a very expensive wedding.

"Why?"

"The maid of honor carried a bouquet of sweet peas and the bridemaids baskets of sweet potatoes."

Got His Number.

THEY'VE been putting in a lot of telephones on our block this week.

"So you had to come to it at last?"

"Sure thing."

"What number have you?"

"Only one."

We Certainly Can.

WE never had such a war as they are having over in Europe," said the Northern man.

"Perhaps not," replied the Southerner; "but, just the same, we can beat 'em on Colonels."
